Hunters' Corner

(Continued from Page 8) then we had last year - up anywhere from 25 to 50 per cent. One farmer, who does a good number of Americans this fall, told us that in a mile block of his home there are seven coveys of Huns. One covey of 20 hasn't had a shot fired at it was common. "I didn't tell you the hunters everything," he said, "except for that they're not interested in you anymore." He laughed over the idea of anyone shooting a covey down to the last bird. He told us of one covey of 20 that he and two Americans, chased for three days and only got five out of it. They were followed for the first 15 that was left. He asked us to go to it and we got tired but that's another story.
