CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

East dealer. North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
 ♠ A J 3
 ♥ Q J 8 7 6 3
 ♦ 8 3

EAST
 ♠ 9 7 6 4
 ♥ 5 4
 ♣ K 10 8 6 4

SOUTH
 ♠ K Q 10 8 5 2
 ♥ A 10
 ♦ A Q 1 8
 ♣ 7

The bidding:
 East South West North
 1♠ 1♦ 1♥ 2♠
 2♠ 3♠ 4♠ 4♠
 6♠ 6♠

Opening lead — two of diamonds.

This is the kind of hand where, if you saw declarer make six spades, you might lean over and say "How's that again?"

If you doubt this, try making twelve tricks, taking full advantage of seeing all 52 cards. You'll find it difficult — but not impossible.

Suppose you win the king of diamonds with the ace, cross to the ace of spades, and lead a heart to the ten. The finesse succeeds. You then cash the ace of hearts, catching the king, and enter dummy with the jack of spades to discard the club loser on the queen of hearts.

Now the real trouble starts. If you draw trumps, you're left with two diamond losers, while if you lead a diamond to the Q-10-8 and finesse, you still go down because West ruffs and you must lose another diamond.

To make the hand, you have to discard a diamond on the queen of hearts, not a club. This is by no means an illogical play because it is possible at this point to figure out what will eventually happen when you cash all your trumps and reduce your hand to the Q-10 of diamonds and seven of clubs. The situation then will be:

North ♠ 6 ♣ 8 5

West ♠ K 10 9

South ♠ Q 10 ♣ 7

You now lead a club, which East has to win with the ace. He is forced to return a diamond and you take the marked finesse to make the contract.

Note that East cannot escape his fate by discarding the ace of clubs earlier in an effort to avoid the penalty. If he does that, you still lead a club towards the Q-10 and then make the slam without bothering with the diamond finesse.

Fanatical Foreign Students Present Problem For Moscow

By JOHN BEST

MOSCOW (CP) — Fanatical foreign students have presented the Soviet government with a painful dilemma.

Three times in four months student mobs have attacked the United States Embassy, a stately structure with many windows on Moscow's main ring road.

The first raid, led by Africans, followed American intervention in the Congo. The last two, led by Asians, were in reaction to U.S. air strikes against North Viet Nam.

Now there are indications the Russians will crack down on such demonstrations. That will not be appreciated by Asian communists led by the Moscow-hating Peking Chinese.

(China sent a new protest note in Russia Tuesday demanding a full Soviet apology for the "shameless suppression" of Chinese and other Afro-Asian students who demonstrated at the U.S. Embassy March 4.)

SUSPECT PLOT

Western observers agree there must have been official connivance in the first attack last November when police did little or nothing to prevent the smashing of windows and general defacement of the Embassy. The same seemed to have been the case in the second attack Feb. 9.

Apparently impressed by the outraged American reaction to these two episodes, the Russians took elaborate protective measures for the March 4 demonstration, though some witnesses doubt they wanted to quash it entirely.

In any case, they appeared to miscalculate the temper of the 1,800 students who descended on the Embassy from a nearby subway station.

They weren't prepared for the determined surge that sprung several hundred demonstrators loose over the barricades to run wild in the open space before the Embassy until finally pushed away by phalanxes of Soviet soldiers.

The Embassy was deluged once more with ink, bottles and an assortment of missiles. More than 300 panes of glass were broken.

AWAIT NEXT MOVE

The question many here are asking is "What's going to happen next time?" And they have little doubt there will be a next time.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko promised U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler that authorities would take supplementary measures to protect the Embassy in future. This suggested the Russians are prepared to be tough with the students.

If past performance gives any indication, they will have to be extremely rough. The police will be up against well-organized cadres who go into a frenzy at the sight of Soviet gendarmes protecting American property, which the students consider fair game.

But imagine the outcry if Soviet police start clubbing and manhandling students from Communist countries of Asia. Such action would be certain to cause the Kremlin acute embarrassment in its relations with Asian Marxist parties which it has been trying desperately to keep from falling into the Peking orbit.

Having given its promise of protection to the U.S., the Soviet government can hardly back down now. But it can only keep its promise by raking its campaign to restore its influence in Asia.

CHEAP TREES

The Ontario department of lands and forests sold landowners about 10,000,000 tree seedlings last year, at about a penny each.
