CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN'S LITERARY INSTITUTE.

The opening address for the ensuing season was given by the Rev. Angus McDonald, on Thursday evening last, at this Institute. The Rev. gentleman, after thanking the Managing Committee for their active co-operation in sustaining the Institute during the past session, and expressing his satisfaction at the good order and decorum observable at all its meetings, proceeded to impress upon the minds of the numerous and respectable audience in attendance the importance of literary Institutions and Debating Societies, as affording rational amusement, combined with instruction, to both old and young. The pleasures derivable from the study of choice literature were pourtrayed in eloquent language, and the cultivation of that enchanting science, Music, in addition to literature, formed one of Mr. McDonald's suggestions to the members for the more extended usefulness and the more harmonious working of this Institute. Those who have experienced the soothing and elevating influence of music — and who is there that has not?—will readily concur in the appropriateness of the suggestion. The Rev. gentleman concluded his chaste and eloquent address by appealing to the sympathy and inviting the support of the community in behalf of the Institute. Mr McDonald was followed by the Hon. E. Whelan and J J Daly, Esqr., who in short and appropriate speeches, coincided with the sentiments of the address, and promised their active support to the Institute.

It was then announced that the Hon. E. Whelan would lecture on Thursday evening next, 28th instant. Subject: "Literature; its advantages and pleasures." The meeting then broke up, apparently highly pleased with the evening's proceedings.

The members having remained, they proceeded to the election of Office-bearers for the ensuing year, which resulted in the following appointments, viz:—

Patron—The Right Rev. Peter McIntyre.
Vice Patron—Hon. D. Brenan.
President—Rev. A. McDonald.
Vice President—Hon. E. Whelan.
Second Vice President—Richard Reddin, Esqr.
Treasurer—Mr. John Gahan.
Secretary—Mr. P. Bowers.
Librarians—Messrs. Henry Hughes and Patk. Blake.

Committee of Management — Officers ex officio; John J. Daly, Esqr., Capt. P. Hickey, Mr. William Malone, Capt. John Murphy, Messrs John Bowers, Henry McIntire, and Edw. Reilly.—Com.

THE CIVIL WAR IN THE STATES.

The accounts from the States, up to this morning's Mail, furnish no news of any importance since the capture of several forts at the entrance to the small town of Beaufort, in South Carolina, and the arrest of Slidell and Mason, the Southern Ambassadors, on their way to Europe. The capture of the Southern forts, and the scattering of large masses of Confederate troops who were encamped in the vicinity, are treated by the Northern press as a vastly important achievement for the Federalists; but the world has been so often deceived by the exaggerated statements of that press, that we cannot place full reliance on anything which we read in it. There is no doubt, however, that the great Naval Expedition achieved a victory, whatever its value may be, and that this achievement was attended with very little loss of life to the expeditionary force. The loss on the Confederate side is represented as considerable; but all that we have read in reference to that matter seems to be little better than vague conjecture.

Since writing the above, we have looked over the New York Albion, of the 16 h instant, and find the following remarks on the Expedition. We may observe that the Albion invariably takes an impartial view of the great events passing around it:—

"Not the most impatient of the throng that haunts the bulletin-boards of our newspaper offices can complain that the past week has been devoid of excitement. It has, on the contrary, been prolific in events or in the promulgation of them: and one of these may, we think, be set down as the gravest that has yet happened since the day when the fall of Fort Sumpter inaugurated the civil war. We allude, of course, to the complete success of the great naval expedition of which so much has been said, and the doings of which have crowded the columns of our brethren around us for several days past. The story in brief is this. The tempestuous weather that prevailed along the coast harrassed the fleet grievously, and caused the loss of two or three ships; but, being well conducted and well managed, they were rallied in due time, and finally, on Thursday morning last, the armed vessels of the squadron were led in by Captain Dupont, commanding on board the Wabash, to attack Forts Walker and Beauregard, which guard, three miles apart, the entrance to the fine harbour of Port Royal in South Carolina. After several hours of cannonading and shelling—the guns of the fleet being admirably served, and the steamers kept in motion according to the method of attack approved and adopted since the introduction of steam—the two forts were precipitately abandoned, the small flotilla of the Confederates having been driven back into the shallow and narrow inland waters at an early period of the action. The manœuvres of the squadron appear to have been most cleverly planned and executed, and the gunnery to have been excellent of its kind and very effective. The Southern artillery seems not to have been equally efficacious. Not to repeat the detail, familiar to every reader, the attacking party sustained only the trivial loss of 8 killed and 20 wounded, while, judging from the number of bodies found in and around the forts, the Southern loss is set down as at least 100 killed. But the results were very decisive. The forts were captured; the town of Beaufort was utterly abandoned; fifteen thousand troops were landed and encamped on Hilton Head Island; the neighbourhood was evacuated save by the negroes on the plantations, who have already displayed the negro propensity to make friends with the stronger side; the retreat of the South Carolinians was apparently a rout, inasmuch as arms, ammunition, personal effects, letters, orders, and a thousand minute objects were abandoned, as is only the case when sauve qui peut is the word. Finally, a large quantity of Sea Island cotton is put within the grasp of the victors.

"Nor is this all. The Union men claim a great victory in Kentucky, gained by general Nelson's brigade over the forces of General Williams and Howes, both of whom were taken prisoners, together with 1,000 men, 400 dead being left upon the field. Also, it is said that the Union men in East Tennessee have broken down the great railroad communication between Virginia and the South-West, by burning the bridges; and we read that at Guyandotte in Western Virginia a temporary advantage obtained by the Confederate inhabitants has been avenged by the destruction of the town. We are really glad that we are privileged to exclude from our columns the narrative (true or false) of the treachery practised towards a body of Federal troops, which is said to have provoked this retaliation.—The rumoured escape of the famous steamer Bermuda from Savannah, with a cargo of cotton, is more than balanced by the reported capture of the still more famous steamer Sumter.—On the whole, Fortune has inclined of late immensely to the Federal side. The press, we regret to say, is now urging the vindictive course which it repudiated, when there was doubt whether all the North would join heartily in the effort to crush out Secession."

The arrest of Slidell and Mason is an event that has created apparantly more excitement than the feat of the Naval Expedition. Those gentlemen were passengers on board the British Mail Steamer Trent, carrying the West India Mails, from Havana to Southampton, when she was fired at by a U. States vessel of war and forced to come to, when the Southern Envoys and their Secretaries were made prisoners of war, and transferred to the Federal ship. Washington and some of the Northern Cities were in transports of joy at this bold stroke, but diplomatic circles were deeply agitated, and justly apprehend that the British Government will not tamely submit to so gross an outrage on a ship employed in its service and protected by its flag. Whether it will lead to any hostile movement on the part of Great Britain, it is difficult to say; but there is no doubt it will increase the distrust and angry feeling which have been growing for several months in Britain and the Colonies, against the Federal Government, and seriously complicate the difficulties by which Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet is surrounded. We shall watch, with some anxiety, the spirit in which the Government of Great Britain will regard this grave infringement of her maritime rights.

We are authorized to state that His Excellency the Lieut. Governor has seen fit to terminate the contract heretofore existing between the Government and Mr. Boultenhouse, the owner of the Steamer Westmoreland, for the conveyance of Her Majesty's Mails; and that for the remainder of the season the mail service will be performed by sailing vessels from Charlottetown and Summerside.—Islander.

HALIFAX MARKETS.—Large shipments of produce from this Island have reached the above market. Potatoes—sound—are re ailing at 1s. 6d. per bushel; some have sold as low as 7½d. Oats are selling at 2s. 2d. and 2s. 3d. The demand for Barley is not very brisk; 3s. 9d. to 4s. is the highest price obtained.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.—We copy the following from the Toronto Patriot of the 30th ultimo:—

"We have received from the author, Mr. C. Birch Bagster, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, a valuable work, entitled The Progress and Prospects of Prince Edward Island: a sketch intended to supply information upon which inquiring emigrants may rely and actual settlers adopt as the basis of a wider knowledge of their beautiful Island home. It was written in 1861, and goes very fully into the various matters on which it treats, amongst which are: Charlottetown, Acreage and the Proprietary, Coastlines, Population, Census, Natural History, Ornithology, Entomology, Ichthyology, Botany, Farming, Religion, Morality and Worship, Societies, Militia, Law, Education, Exports, Prices Current, Revenue and Expenditure, Geological Notes, Fisheries, &c. The work before us will undoubtedly do much, if well circulated, to induce emigration to the sister colony. One thing we miss from the work: the author has given no statistics or other information relative to the Loyal Orange Institution in the Island. We believe it is the most numerous and most powerful Society there, and the public should be made aware of several matters in connection with it. If a respectful application were made to the proper Orange authorities of the Island by the author, the necessary information would, without doubt, have been given him. The knowledge of the existence of Orange Lodges in every city, town, village, and township of this Province, has been, it is admitted, the greatest means of inducing a large and industrious class of emigrants to settle in our midst. We throw out this hint, as the author states that it is his intention, at an early day, should the present venture meet with success, (which it certainly is deserving of, and without doubt will,) to extend and widen the subject."

We are glad to notice the various favorable reviews of Mr. C. Birch Bagster's recently issued Manual for Emigrants and Settlers. We have the means of knowing that the approbation of the most competent authority in Prince Edward Island, on the subject of the COAST LINE, has been awarded to the author. On the treatment of this topic very considerable merit rests, as with his complete and careful description of the coast strangers may safely, in the absence of a regular book of directions, run for any harbor in the Island. There is a class of enquirers to whom this information is always useful, and we are glad that Mr. Bagster has supplied that want, whatever he may have omitted on other points; but omissions are not always matters of regret. The Toronto Patriot, from which we have extracted a notice of "The Progress and Prospects of P. E. Island," however, regrets that no account is given of "the loyal Orange Institution" of the Island. Now, to our mind this is a strong recommendation of the work to that portion of the population of P. E. Island who do not pin their loyalty to local institutions; but like good temperance folk, who have no need to belong to "the Sons," maintain outside of the institution that moderation which is forbidden within. We question much if "the respectful application" referred to by our contemporary would have elicited the desired loyal Orange information, for most of the few members who are known appear either afraid or ashamed of their membership being talked about; and it is our opinion that the foundation of that loyal institution would suffer by the publicity suggested by the Toronto Patriot, for in no other place in British North America are antagonisms of every sort so decked with colored ribbon as the sum total of their sufficiency; it might answer in Canada, but hardly in P. E. I. Mr. C. Birch Baster knew well the base of Island society, and well has he refrained from offence; but the Protestant will perhaps favor the Toronto Patriot with a copy of the forthcoming Almanac for 1862, which will not fail to contain the fruit of a "respectful application" to the loyal Orange Institution of this forbearing Colony.

THE Rev. George Sutherland has addressed a long letter to us, purporting to be a reply to some remarks which lately appeared in this paper respecting Mr. Bagster's History of the Island, in which, we believe, the name of the Rev. Mr. S. was mentioned. Mr. Sutherland requests that we will give immediate publicity to his letter. The request is very modest I the day should ever come when the Reverend George can demean himself as a gentleman and a Christian, we, if in our present position, may entertain such a request; but when he comes before us in the character of a foul mouthed slanderer, we not only promptly and unhesitatingly refuse publicity to his violent effusions; but we beg to assure him that when we have nothing better to do, and time and space shall permit, we may administer a little salutary chastisement to the foppery and impertinence of an individual who is a disgrace to the cloth he wears, and an object of contempt in the community.

☞ We are requested to state that the goods intended for the International Exhibition, may be inspected by the public, on Wednesday, the 27th instant, at the Temperance Hall. A charge of 9d each will be made to all visitors. The proceeds to be expended in the purchase of firewood for the poor.

THE CIVIL WAR IN THE STATES.

BY TELEGRAPH.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.

The Naval Expedition captured three Forts at the entrance to Port Royal, and effected a landing at Beaufort, North Carolina. Nothing further is known, although exciting rumours are current in Washington of an advance on Charleston and Savannah simultaneously.

It is probable the Federals will entrench at Beaufort and await reinforcements. The railroad is 15 miles inland from Beaufort.

The North Briton is a total wreck on Paraquet Island. Passengers are safe at Port Mongan; a boat with 7 of the crew missing.

The capture of the Privateer Sumter is confirmed.

Large bodies of rebel troops are rapidly withdrawing from Manasses to the South.

The rebels are reported in great tribulation, and there is corresponding joy among Unionists.

Superfine State Flour $5 50 a $5.55. Ex. $5 65 $5 75.

SECOND DESPATCH.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.

Rebel accounts confess destruction of all their shore batteries off Beaufort, with dispersion of Tatnall's Mosquito fleet, and that Federals were preparing to land on Friday night.

Gen. Nelson has defeated a strong rebel force in Pike county, Kentucky, killing and wounding 400, and taking 1000 prisoners.

Federals are preparing for a forward movement on the Potomac.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.

The steamer Bienville has arrived at Fortress Monroe with official advices from the Naval Expedition.

The defences at Port Royal consisted of Fort Walker, 24 guns, and Fort Beauregard of 19 guns, all of large calibre. The Forts were strongly built.

The attack commenced on Thursday the 7th, lasting 4 hours, when the rebels fled, leaving everything behind.

15,000 troops landed at Beaufort on Saturday, and found the town deserted, except by the negroes. The inhabitants of the surrounding country being panic struck were fleeing into the interior.

Federal loss 9 killed and 21 wounded. The Rebels removed their wounded. 52 dead bodies were found in Fort Walker.

Expedition an entire success.

The count De Sayre, lineal descendant of Count Rochambeau, of American revolution, any fame, has tendered his military services to the President, and has been assured that they will be accepted. The same answer has been given to the Baron De Schomen, descendant of Gen. Lafayette. It is expected that they will soon reach the United States.

AN INCIDENT OF LIFE IN THE GOLD REGIONS.—Among the deep defiles of the Rocky Mountains, lately, a small company of men stood around the new made grave of a dead companion. With heads uncovered they listened attentively to the words of the preacher as he offered up a prayer. While in the midst of it, one of the company discovered "the color" in the earth at his feet thrown up to make room for the remains of the deceased. In a loud whisper he communicated the rather exciting intelligence to his companion. All heard it, even the clergyman, who, suspending his prayer, opened his eyes to see the audience scatter in every direction to stake off gold claims. Calling in a loud voice to stake him off a "claim," he reclosed his eys, hastily concluded his prayer, and started off on a run to join his fellows in securing a claim.—Halifax Journal.

SERIOUS RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—We learn by telegraph that a most serious accident happened on the St. Andrew's and Quebec Railway yesterday. The exact time when the disaster took place is not given, but it appears that a passenger carriage came in contact with a gravel car, and, in consequence of the collision, four men were instantly killed and ten wounded, two of them dangerously. No further particulars are given than that several Woodstock people were aboard the train.—Fred. Head Quarters.

A cavalry regiment of 1200 men, now encamped at Montpelier, Vt., will proceed to the seat of war in a few days. Allowing eight horses to a car, it will take one hundred and fifty cars to carry the horses along.

There is a small salt lake near the Ballarat diggings, in Victoria. The water of the lake yields 35 per cent., of salt in summer, and 25 per cent., in winter. Potatoes swim like corks in it, and beef is well cured in it. The lake, although a small one, is never dried up, and must be supplied from springs in the centre.

A most tragic affair occurred at Fishkill Landing, opposite Newburg, on Saturday evening, just after day. Mr. August Embury, the son of Daniel Embury, Esq., President of the Atlantic Bank of Brooklyn, a young man, was on his way from New York to spend the Sabbath at the residence of Wm. C. Verplanck, Esq., and, having left the cars, was proceeding up the hill at the landing to enter the carriage in waiting for him, when he was stabbed through the back not far below the right shoulder-blade, and expired immediately. The cause of the murder is unknown. Mr. E.'s watch and purse were found on his person. The mother of Mr. E. is Mrs. Embury the authoress.

Married,

On the 29th October, at Miscouche, by the Rev. Mr. Quevillon, P. P., Mr. Christain Gallant to Miss Louisa Arseneaux, both of Fifteen Point.

On the 31st ult., by the Rev. J. Davis, Mr. J. A. Lord, of Tryon, to Miss Jane E. Warren, of York River.

On the 24th Oct. at St. Saviour's, Paddington, London, England, by the Rev. J. M. Echalary, Rector of Appleby, Leicestershire, and Prebendary of Peterborough, uncle of the bride, Charles Stanfield Richardson, Esq., of Bayford Hall, Herts, third son of William Richardson, Esq., of Grange Crescent, Sunderland, to Florence, fifth daughter of Commander Charles Hensley, of 6, Delamere Crescent, Hyde Park, London, late of Lowlands, P. E. Island.

Died,

On Tuesday, after a long illness, Mr. James Coles, father of the Hon. Geoge Coles, in the 79th year of his age.

At St. Andrew's, Lot 38, on Monday, the 18th inst., after a short illness, Mr. Edward Carey, aged 26 years. Deceased has left a young and sorrowing widow to mourn her irregarable loss. Mr. Carey was a young man of exemplary character, and beloved and respected by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Requiescant in pace.

On Sunday morning, 23rd instant, after a lingering illness of twelve months, ELIZA, eldest daughter of Mr. James Cahill, Blacksmith, aged seventeen years and two months. May she rest in peace.

On Wednesday, the 19th instant, of Diptheria, at his father's residence, Princetown Road, James, son of Mr. James Devine, in the 20th year of his age. The deceased's kind and docile disposition and virtuous character secured and earned for him not only the deep and lasting veneration of his devoted parents, but also the respect and attachment of his friends and acquaintances. In the death of this virtuous young man, we may with all sincerity repeat with the inspired penman in Revelations—'Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord,' words replete with consolation to the disconsolate parents, who have been thus so suddenly deprived of the object upon whom were centered their highest hopes and greatest expectations. Requiescant in pace.

In Charlottetown, on Oct. 25th, of convulsions, Charles Henry, son of John and Margaret Story, aged 5 years and 9 months.

On Wednesday, of consumption, Margaret, fourth daughter of Mr. Thomas Robinson, blacksmith, of this City, in the 13th year of her age.

At Summerside, suddenly, on the 4th inst., aged 46 years, Mr. William McEwen, Merchant, of that place, leaving a disconsolate wife and eight children to mourn their loss.

At Orwell, on the 5th inst., Mr Neill McLeod, aged 71, a respectable inhabitant of that place.

Passengers.

PASSENGERS—In the Bark Gazelle for Liverpool, Mrs George Wright, Miss Wright, Miss Haviland, Miss Jenkins, Mrs. Sutherland, Hon. Col Swabey and servant, Mr Thomas Swabey, Lieut. Clifton, F. W. Hales, Esq., Mr. John Lea and Mr J. Eveleth.

An Inquest was held on Wednesday last, before John McNeill, Esq., one of the Coroners for the County, on view of the body of Mrs Bridget Robinson, widow, found lying dead under a clump of trees in the Roman Catholic burial ground, in the vicinity of the City. The deceased, who had for some time led a wandering and intemperate life, was in the habit of frequenting the Cemetry where she was found; life had apparently been extinct some days.

Verdict.—Found dead from exhaustion and exposure to the inclemency of the weather.

Launched on the 7th inst., from the Shipyard of Mr. McKinnon, Lot 44, for Mr. Wm. Richards, a Barque of 267 tons, N. M., and 369 tons O. M., called the DARING, copper fastened, and built under inspection to class 7 years A 1 at Lloyd's.
