St. Dunstan's—One Hundred Years

ATHLETICS
St. Dunstan's had struck its senior football stride by '88 and for more than sixty years has been ready to meet in strenuous, friendly rivalry any aggregation that should visit our Province.

In 1891, the "second Saints" and the "first P. W. C." began their gallant rivalry. The first game resulted in a draw. During three score years these teams have met and striven for the honour of their Institutions with all the enthusiasm and vigor of youth. We may note that the Valetictorian of P. W. C.'s 1929 graduating class referred to these games, and rightly, for the strenuous, honourable, do-or-die play of the students does honour to their respective schools of learning.

They wear, that distinguished the teams of old, are very evident and insure victory or at least honourable defeat. Those who have watched in recent years know that we still hold our place in the Maritime Football Sun.

It was in hockey that St. Dunstan's Team won their first official and most significant laurels. In 1930 the red and white banner first joined the cherished colors of the other Maritime universities in the Maritime Intercollegiate Athletic Union. With the exception of the years of the Second World War, when M. I. A. U. activity was temporarily suspended, St. Dunstan's has fielded intercollegiate teams in hockey and football every year. As soon as the Alumni Gymnasium was completed in 1951, and facilities for basketball thereby became available at St. Dunstan's, the Saints entered the basketball arena also.

In 1940 when Jack Coyle (later killed in action), Bert Steele, and Vince Grant spearheaded St. Dunstan's attack on the ice and placed first, second, and third in Maritime Intercollegiate scoring competition. St. Dunstan's won the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Intercollegiate Hockey Title. The enrolment at home was still very little over one hundred. There were 49 students registered in College Years. From amongst these the team of 1940 was recruited. Needless to say there was a scarcity of first class replacements. Father Oswald Murphy could gather only ten men in all. They were good enough to win the N.B.-P.E.I. title but were edged out of the Maritime Championship by Acadia University in a memorable 3-2 game played at Truro on April 2, 1940.

Seven years later the story ended differently. St. Francis Xavier University won the Nova Scotia Title, St. Dunstan's the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island honors. According to amateurs and experts alike the Saints hadn't a chance. But hockey resembles all other sports in its disregard for the odds, and the Red and White Team of 1947 was just another team of St. Dunstan's boys sworn to give their very best. Their best was this time good enough and St. Dunstan's boys brought home to their Alma Mater their first official Maritime Intercollegiate Championship. It was a prized title for St. Dunstan's for it was and is never easy for St. Dunstan's to match teams with their rivals in this league. The opposition has usually from three to ten times as large a student body to draw from. Yet the policy has been and will continue to be: "We're in the League and we're staying in it. We'll play our opponents and give all we have to it much or little. A small college prizes its titles for they are won at great odds and usually over challenging opposition.

In football the greatest year was 1952. Strong teams had been produced in previous seasons, but none to compare with Coach A. J. MacAdam's team of 1952. Perhaps this was St. Dunstan's greatest team. The Saints played

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my Father Mr. John H. Pidgeon who passed away March 21st, 1951.
You are not forgotten Father dear,
Your memory will never fade.
We loved you then, we love you still,
Forget you Father, we never will.
Lovingly remembered by daughter Millie, Son-in-law Elmer; Granddaughter Jean, Lottie and Frances.
IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my son and brother Alvin T. Chapman who died March 20, 1952.
Gone dear Alvin, gone to rest
But still on memory's page
The loving thoughts you left behind
Will never, never fade
We often seem to hear your voice
We seem to see your smile
For you have left for another home
It's only for awhile
In our hearts your memory lingers
Ever near you seem to be
For we never can forget you
But some day your face we'll see.
Remembered by Mom, Dad, Roylene and Trenham.
IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my dear brother Alvin T. Chapman who passed away 2 years ago.
Death seems to come to let us know,
We love more dearly than we show.
But love in death should let us see.
What love in life should always be.
Like falling leaves, the years slip by,
But thoughts of him will never die.
In my heart he's there to stay.
Loved and remembered every day,
By sister Phyllis, Mrs. Louis Harris, Jr., Murray Harbour, P. E. I.

Thoughts For Our Time

By His Eminence Cardinal McGuigan (Copyright)

WORSHIPPING FALSE HEROES
It is possible that future ages will look back upon our time as an age without heroes. We have heard much of the Heroic Age, when there were great Kings, warriors, leaders; when deeds of heroism seem to have been frequent; and when these heroic deeds were celebrated in song and poetry. There were men who dared, who gave themselves to a cause who were not afraid to be brave or to make a sacrifice, even though the reward was a merely temporary perishing glory. These people did not dole out their lives in coffee spoons.

We are inclined to look back upon these ages with a certain nostalgia, longing for something good which has perished from the earth. The reason we do so is because there are so few today, especially among our young people, who know the meaning of heroism. The word leaves them cold; they have no desire to be heroic. And what has replaced this heroic desire? The desire for security and the desire for comfort. These two are the ideals to which youth aspires. Money can obtain both, and the goal of all striving is a deep plush chair in a warm, beautiful home, with the latest TV set hypnotizing one into the belief that he is in heaven where everything is wonderful.

Lord Byron has vividly expressed the pathos of his soul as he contemplates the decay of Greece. He is viewing this land at a time when she is in subjection, and he cannot help but recall the former glory of this people: "The heroic lay is tuneless now—The heroic bosom beats no more!" The full tragedy of a formerly heroic people, come over him: "For what is left the poet here? For Greece a blush—for Greece a tear." He envisions the mighty dead of Greece waiting for a leader, a hero to rise so that they can quickly return to inspire this people again: "What, silent still? and silent all? Ah! no;—the voices of the dead Sound like a distant torrent's fall. And answer, 'Let one living lead. But one arise,—we come, we come! 'Tis but the living who are dumb.'"

These sentiments and lamentations which the poet expresses are equally valid in our own countries now. The heroic ideal can be roused in war, at times to kill. But in peacetime, and peace areas, all heroism is deadened by the ease and comfort which are everywhere extolled as so necessary, and which in reality are so fatal. Yet there is a strange paradox here. Although ours is an age

WORDS FOR THE WORLD

"This is the day of rejoicing and the hour of ecstasy! . . . And this is the promised time for the attainment of plenteous grace. Be calm, be strong, be grateful, and become a lamp full of light, that the darkness of sorrows be annihilated, and that the sun of everlasting joy arise from the dawning-place of heart and soul, shining brightly."
From the sacred writings of the Baha' World Faith
MARCH 21, NAW-RUZ, marking the first day of the Baha' year.

REMEMBER HIS WORK WITH A GIFT

Someone has said that it is not a good WILL which does not remember Christ's work with a gift. There is no better way of remembering His work, than by making a bequest to the Bible Society. The Bible Society seeks to give every man of every language God's Word in his own tongue without note or comment. Your gift will speak to the hearts of men through the Word of God and by your influence will go on for generations. In making a bequest, kindly do so through the P. E. I. Auxiliary or Branch. The Bible House is at 100 Fitzroy Street, Charlottetown, P.E.I. HELP GIVE THE BIBLE TO THE WORLD.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling son, Angus Lowell, age 2 months 7 days who died March 20th 1953.
It is not the tears at the moment shed
That tells of the hearts that are torn
But the secret tears in the after years
And the grief that is silently borne.
Inserted by father and mother, Sisters and Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Major Matheson, Vernon River.
Card Of Thanks
