

THIS IS A VIEW OF Canoe Cove where lobster fishermen are pressing to have a breakwater. They said if they had protection of a breakwater, they would have had much more of their gear in the water yesterday. As it stands now they have no protection from even a small amount of drift ice.

Tanker Hull Considered Canoe Cove Breakwater

By AL C. HOLMAN
Will the Seekonk be the new breakwater for the fishermen at Canoe Cove?
The possibility exists that the burnt out hull of the Irving Oil tanker Seekonk, which caught fire and burned in Charlottetown Harbour last July, may end up as a breakwater for the harbour at Canoe Cove.
After the Seekonk burned the fishermen at Canoe Cove approached the Irving Oil Company for the burnt out hull to replace the breakwater that was washed away by the ice. K.C. Irving agreed to let the fishermen have the wreck free of charge.
The fishermen suggest that the burnt out hull could be moved to Canoe Cove and filled with sand and sunk giving them a breakwater to protect their boats from the sea.

BROKENERS SEEN
Breakwaters come under the jurisdiction of the federal department of public works and according to authorities the situation is not cut and dried as it may appear.
The possibility exists that the burnt out hull could be used as a breakwater and form a sand bar that could prove to be dangerous to navigation. There is also the possibility that the hull may shift and be a problem to navigation and there is the fact that the burnt out wreck would be an eyesore.
According to the public works people there is a quite a large cost involved in spite of the fact that Mr. Irving is donating the hull for nothing. They claim that there are still

Seed Spud Prospects Good

Prospects for seed potato sales in Florida from the 1964 crop appear good. Agriculture Minister Andrew B. MacRae said last night. The outlook is for $3.25 per hundredweight delivered at Jacksonville.
That should give the grower here a somewhat better price than obtained last fall.
There was one disturbing factor, however. Indications were heard this week that one Prince Edward Island shipper was offering to sell below the $3.25 price, which Florida buyers were perfectly willing to pay, based on availability of supply.
Mr. MacRae said there was no reason why prices should go below the figure.
He said his department was determined to see there was no price cutting. If there was any, the public would be advised as to who was responsible. He said he had been working on the problem all week, assisted by marketing director Red Songster.

RIFT EVIDENT Communist Nations Parade Big Weapons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Communist nations paraded their weapons before the world Friday, but on this day of labor solidarity the Moscow-Peking rift was evident in the big celebration in the Soviet Union and Communist China.
Troops and weapons of war thundered through the streets of Communist capitals from Moscow to Havana and Russian equipment was displayed in a parade in Zanzibar.
Premier Khrushchev, after watching a parade of Soviet tanks and armor in Moscow's Red Square, warned the United States continued U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba could be disastrous.
But his big pitch was to Africa, where Red China has challenged Soviet Union influence. Khrushchev rolled out the red carpet for President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria, made him a guest of honor at a parade and gave him the Lenin Peace Prize and the Soviet Union's hero medal, the country's highest award.
The Russians refused to attend the Peking rally and withdrew an invitation to a Chinese labor delegation to view Moscow's parade in Red Square.
CHOU BOASTED
In Peking, Premier Chou En-lai, boss of Communist China's new strength and said his country would win its ideological quarrel with the Russians and other Communist critics.
Peking's celebration was bolstered by East Germany, Bulgaria, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, in addition to Russia.
In Havana Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and other top Cuban leaders were marching with

Cattlemen Urged Protest To Fair

A meeting of all Atlantic cattle exhibitors at the Atlantic Winter Fair is suggested last night to protest an arrangement that will not give breeders time to show in the last half of the exhibition. The suggestion was made by Bill Brown, BOP inpector, after Ken's Rossell, Victoria, a member of the dairy cattle committee, reported from an AWP planning meeting he attended a few days ago to a meeting of Ayrshire breeders and other farmers held last night at Birch Court on the Experimental Farm.
The AWP people are proposing to split the show into two portions for showing cattle, because they will not have enough space to house nearly all of the animals expected.
The proposal is to show the Holstein, Jersey, Dual Purpose and Shorthorn, Angus and Galloway cattle on Monday and Tuesday. Then these animals would be sent home and the Guernsey and Ayrshire, and other beef breeds like Herefords and Scotch Shorthorns brought in on Wednesday and shown on Thursday and Friday, he time of the killing.
Binette was convicted in the Dec. 23 slaying of Paul Mercier, one of four persons shot to death during an abortive abduction attempt in a Roman Catholic church recently in Charlottetown, Ottawa.

Mother Pleads For Baby Return

CHICAGO (AP) — Sounding softly, Mrs. Chesler Fronczak, 24, Thursday made her first personal appeal to the woman who kidnapped her infant son from her hospital room last Monday.
"Please return our baby," Mrs. Fronczak said. "He was everything we had built our hopes on for the future. Take good care of him and see that he gets enough to eat."
Mrs. Fronczak's husband, a 33-year-old machinist, stood with an arm around her shoulders as she talked to reporters in a waiting room of Michael Reese Hospital.

Dairy Cattle Efforts To Be Pushed By Farm

By NEIL MATHESON
Work with dairy cattle will be greatly expanded in the next few years at the Experimental Farm here, Director Robert C. Parent told a group of farmers attending a meeting arranged by the P.E.I. Ayrshire Breeders Association last night at Birch Court. Work with poultry will be discontinued at the end of this year. It was suggested that the Charlottetown farm is virtually the only one in the Atlantic provinces working with dairy cattle, and expert

Daughter Born To Princess

LONDON (Reuters) — Princess Margaret gave birth Friday to her second child, a girl, in the same London palace where Queen Victoria was born. Margaret's baby weighed six pounds two ounces. It was announced in the Gazette this week. Mother and baby continue to make good progress, the announcement added.
The baby's father, the Earl of Snowdon, was attending his daughter. "She looks a super baby. It is marvellous news," he said.

Binette Is Given Life Term

OTTAWA (CP) — Reginald Binette, 18, was found guilty of capital murder by an Ontario Supreme Court jury Friday and sentenced to life imprisonment in Kingston Penitentiary. He escaped the death penalty because he was 17 years old at the time of the killing.
Binette was convicted in the Dec. 23 slaying of Paul Mercier, one of four persons shot to death during an abortive abduction attempt in a Roman Catholic church recently in Charlottetown, Ottawa.

General Motors Plans New Plant in Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Lesage Friday announced General Motors of Canada Limited will build an automobile production plant at Ste. Therese de Blainville, about 20 miles north of Montreal.
The news came in the announcement of a press conference with him was General H. W. Walker, president of General Motors of Canada.
The plant will employ 1,000 persons when it begins operation, probably in the summer of 1965.
"It will employ in a very short time more than 2,000 people," said Mr. Walker.
Production would start with Chevrolet and Pontiac 1966 models and Buick and Oldsmobile models would be built later.
Mr. Walker said the 1,000,000-square-foot plant is part of General Motors' $20,000,000 expansion program.
"Construction would begin at once and the plant is being issued within 30 days," Mr. Walker, after being introduced to reporters by Premier Lesage, said. "We are establishing for the first time in Quebec a major auto assembly plant."
Later, Premier Lesage asked if it would be more than an assembly plant.
Mr. Walker replied: "Yes, it will be a major auto assembly plant. We'll build our bodies at the location."
Asked the plant would be bigger than the General Motors plant at Oshawa, Ont., he replied: "Perhaps, eventually."
Premier Lesage said the decision to build in Quebec is "extremely important for the economic future of Quebec."

FIVE BOYS SHARE THREE PRIZES

Elm Street School in Summerside last night. The reasons for the extra two in the picture is there was a three-way tie for third prize. The boys are, from left to right, Claude Balesden, St. Eleanors, who placed second with a mark of 83. Tyler Buchanan, Summerside, and with 84, and the three who tied for third with marks of 82 each, Ronnie Smith, Miscouche, Chris Gaudy, Summerside and Gauri Susick, Simons Park.

INSIDE TODAY

Births, deaths	2, 14
Classified	12, 13, 14
Comics	11
Sport	9
Finance, markets	10
Editorials	4
Kings, Queens, City	4
Women's	6
Summertime	3

Bankers Found Conspirators

RIFT EVIDENT

Communist Nations Parade Big Weapons

Parade Big Weapons

Seed Spud Prospects Good

Yanks Begin New Buildup In Florida

Daughter Born To Princess

Dairy Cattle Efforts To Be Pushed By Farm

Mother Pleads For Baby Return

Binette Is Given Life Term

General Motors Plans New Plant in Quebec

FIVE BOYS SHARE THREE PRIZES

INSIDE TODAY

Armed Forces Integration Draws Salty Naval View

Appeal Planned After Sentence

Pickersill Blasted On Air Pollution

PARIS (Reuters) — Six giant crabs of a rare species being flown from Alaska to aquariums in London, Manchester and Hamburg were eaten by error by the passengers.
Paris airport authorities said Friday by "regrettable negligence" the chef preparing meals on the flight was not informed that the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.
A Paris air official said the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.
The Paris air official said the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.

RARE CRABS USED IN ERROR

PARIS (Reuters) — Six giant crabs of a rare species being flown from Alaska to aquariums in London, Manchester and Hamburg were eaten by error by the passengers.
Paris airport authorities said Friday by "regrettable negligence" the chef preparing meals on the flight was not informed that the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.
A Paris air official said the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.

12-Mile Limit Retaliation Not Suggested

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA
The United States has not made any suggestion of retaliating against Canadian fishery products in Canada proceeds with the unilateral 12-mile limit fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, MP for Quebec, MacLellan, said last night.
Mr. MacLellan, the former minister of fisheries, said Trade and Commerce Minister Mitchell Sharp whether he had received any assurances from the United States ministers who were in Ottawa this week that they would refrain from such retaliation.
He suggested that the retaliation might come in the form of duties or other means imposed against Canadian fish products if the government takes future action under the 12-mile limit legislation which was introduced in the Senate this week.
Mr. Sharp said that the subject was not discussed during a series of meetings which concluded in Ottawa Thursday.

Appeal Planned After Sentence

By STRUAN MATHESON
MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks, former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, Ind., was found guilty Friday of conspiring to assault a rival union official seven years ago.
The jury, 56-year-old accused showed no emotion on hearing the verdict at the end of a 36 page judgment which took Judge Claude Wagner two hours and 20 minutes to read in a packed court. However, tears came to his eyes as he was being taken to cells.
Banks' $2,000 bail was cancelled and he was ordered held in Bordeaux Jail until sentencing Tuesday when defence counsel Joseph Cohen said an appeal will be filed and application for habeas corpus made.
Banks was charged with conspiracy to assault Capt. Henry Walsh with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (CMSG) was beaten up Aug. 18, 1957, in a darkened hotel parking lot in Owen Sound, Ont.
OTHERS NAMED
Paul Carsh and Jack Richardson, of Montreal, and Jack Casper, of Sacramento, Calif., were named as co-conspirators in the charge which carries a 14 year maximum sentence.
In his judgment, Judge Wagner said:
"The court has come to the conclusion that the beating of Capt. Walsh was a manifest act of gangsterism agreed to, planned, carried out, directed and supervised by H. C. Banks and other named persons."
"The court has no hesitation on air policy he should have made in the Commons."
He said Banks' profession of faith in the policy of non-violence at the trial is "incompatible with the evidence this court has heard."
"Not only has it been established beyond a reasonable doubt that a beating took place, but it has also been established and also beyond a reasonable doubt that this beating was ordered by the accused."
The judge also said such lies as Banks' with the truth in his testimony that it is now impossible for this court to believe in."
The judge described Banks' action, said in the Commons Monday, May 4.
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Parliament At A Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
FRIDAY, May 1, 1964
Opposition members said Transport Minister Pickersill forced the CBC to let him make a TV statement on air policy he should have made in the Commons.
Mr. Pickersill denied his Thursday statement to a TCA and CPA integrating their overseas services constituted government policy.
A Conservative censure motion against Mr. Pickersill was ruled out by the speaker over a decision to be upheld 11-63.
Works Minister Deschamps said his department is prepared to study conditions in a given area to see how it can stimulate economic activity.
MONDAY, May 4
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Daughter Born To Princess

LONDON (Reuters) — Princess Margaret gave birth Friday to her second child, a girl, in the same London palace where Queen Victoria was born. Margaret's baby weighed six pounds two ounces. It was announced in the Gazette this week. Mother and baby continue to make good progress, the announcement added.
The baby's father, the Earl of Snowdon, was attending his daughter. "She looks a super baby. It is marvellous news," he said.

Armed Forces Integration Draws Salty Naval View

HALIFAX (CP) — A former Atlantic Coast high Chief, retired Rear-admiral Hugh F. Pullen, says salty comment Friday about integration of the armed forces. He described some aspects as nonsense.
The 58-year-old admiral a veteran of almost 40 years in the Canadian navy, did mention Ottawa by name but referred to "the old boys going on in another place."
"Then he said: 'Let's not have any more sense that a fool can take a man out of an engine-room and put him in a tank.'"
The admiral spoke at a ceremony commemorating victory in the Battle of the Atlantic during the Second World War. He said the "old boys" were important action of the war, because everything else depended on it. The battle had been won by the courage, devotion and sacrifice of navy men.
"You don't do that with integration or mucking about with a uniform," he said.
Admiral Pullen also referred to the "old boys" in breaking down. He said he could speak freely now that he is out of uniform.
The 58-year-old admiral a veteran of almost 40 years in the Canadian navy, did mention Ottawa by name but referred to "the old boys going on in another place."
"Then he said: 'Let's not have any more sense that a fool can take a man out of an engine-room and put him in a tank.'"
The admiral spoke at a ceremony commemorating victory in the Battle of the Atlantic during the Second World War. He said the "old boys" were important action of the war, because everything else depended on it. The battle had been won by the courage, devotion and sacrifice of navy men.
"You don't do that with integration or mucking about with a uniform," he said.
Admiral Pullen also referred to the "old boys" in breaking down. He said he could speak freely now that he is out of uniform.

Bankers Found Conspirators

RARE CRABS USED IN ERROR

PARIS (Reuters) — Six giant crabs of a rare species being flown from Alaska to aquariums in London, Manchester and Hamburg were eaten by error by the passengers.
Paris airport authorities said Friday by "regrettable negligence" the chef preparing meals on the flight was not informed that the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.
A Paris air official said the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.

12-Mile Limit Retaliation Not Suggested

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA
The United States has not made any suggestion of retaliating against Canadian fishery products in Canada proceeds with the unilateral 12-mile limit fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, MP for Quebec, MacLellan, said last night.
Mr. MacLellan, the former minister of fisheries, said Trade and Commerce Minister Mitchell Sharp whether he had received any assurances from the United States ministers who were in Ottawa this week that they would refrain from such retaliation.
He suggested that the retaliation might come in the form of duties or other means imposed against Canadian fish products if the government takes future action under the 12-mile limit legislation which was introduced in the Senate this week.
Mr. Sharp said that the subject was not discussed during a series of meetings which concluded in Ottawa Thursday.

Appeal Planned After Sentence

By STRUAN MATHESON
MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks, former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, Ind., was found guilty Friday of conspiring to assault a rival union official seven years ago.
The jury, 56-year-old accused showed no emotion on hearing the verdict at the end of a 36 page judgment which took Judge Claude Wagner two hours and 20 minutes to read in a packed court. However, tears came to his eyes as he was being taken to cells.
Banks' $2,000 bail was cancelled and he was ordered held in Bordeaux Jail until sentencing Tuesday when defence counsel Joseph Cohen said an appeal will be filed and application for habeas corpus made.
Banks was charged with conspiracy to assault Capt. Henry Walsh with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (CMSG) was beaten up Aug. 18, 1957, in a darkened hotel parking lot in Owen Sound, Ont.
OTHERS NAMED
Paul Carsh and Jack Richardson, of Montreal, and Jack Casper, of Sacramento, Calif., were named as co-conspirators in the charge which carries a 14 year maximum sentence.
In his judgment, Judge Wagner said:
"The court has come to the conclusion that the beating of Capt. Walsh was a manifest act of gangsterism agreed to, planned, carried out, directed and supervised by H. C. Banks and other named persons."
"The court has no hesitation on air policy he should have made in the Commons."
He said Banks' profession of faith in the policy of non-violence at the trial is "incompatible with the evidence this court has heard."
"Not only has it been established beyond a reasonable doubt that a beating took place, but it has also been established and also beyond a reasonable doubt that this beating was ordered by the accused."
The judge also said such lies as Banks' with the truth in his testimony that it is now impossible for this court to believe in."
The judge described Banks' action, said in the Commons Monday, May 4.
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Parliament At A Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
FRIDAY, May 1, 1964
Opposition members said Transport Minister Pickersill forced the CBC to let him make a TV statement on air policy he should have made in the Commons.
Mr. Pickersill denied his Thursday statement to a TCA and CPA integrating their overseas services constituted government policy.
A Conservative censure motion against Mr. Pickersill was ruled out by the speaker over a decision to be upheld 11-63.
Works Minister Deschamps said his department is prepared to study conditions in a given area to see how it can stimulate economic activity.
MONDAY, May 4
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Daughter Born To Princess

LONDON (Reuters) — Princess Margaret gave birth Friday to her second child, a girl, in the same London palace where Queen Victoria was born. Margaret's baby weighed six pounds two ounces. It was announced in the Gazette this week. Mother and baby continue to make good progress, the announcement added.
The baby's father, the Earl of Snowdon, was attending his daughter. "She looks a super baby. It is marvellous news," he said.

Armed Forces Integration Draws Salty Naval View

HALIFAX (CP) — A former Atlantic Coast high Chief, retired Rear-admiral Hugh F. Pullen, says salty comment Friday about integration of the armed forces. He described some aspects as nonsense.
The 58-year-old admiral a veteran of almost 40 years in the Canadian navy, did mention Ottawa by name but referred to "the old boys going on in another place."
"Then he said: 'Let's not have any more sense that a fool can take a man out of an engine-room and put him in a tank.'"
The admiral spoke at a ceremony commemorating victory in the Battle of the Atlantic during the Second World War. He said the "old boys" were important action of the war, because everything else depended on it. The battle had been won by the courage, devotion and sacrifice of navy men.
"You don't do that with integration or mucking about with a uniform," he said.
Admiral Pullen also referred to the "old boys" in breaking down. He said he could speak freely now that he is out of uniform.

Appeal Planned After Sentence

By STRUAN MATHESON
MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks, former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, Ind., was found guilty Friday of conspiring to assault a rival union official seven years ago.
The jury, 56-year-old accused showed no emotion on hearing the verdict at the end of a 36 page judgment which took Judge Claude Wagner two hours and 20 minutes to read in a packed court. However, tears came to his eyes as he was being taken to cells.
Banks' $2,000 bail was cancelled and he was ordered held in Bordeaux Jail until sentencing Tuesday when defence counsel Joseph Cohen said an appeal will be filed and application for habeas corpus made.
Banks was charged with conspiracy to assault Capt. Henry Walsh with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (CMSG) was beaten up Aug. 18, 1957, in a darkened hotel parking lot in Owen Sound, Ont.
OTHERS NAMED
Paul Carsh and Jack Richardson, of Montreal, and Jack Casper, of Sacramento, Calif., were named as co-conspirators in the charge which carries a 14 year maximum sentence.
In his judgment, Judge Wagner said:
"The court has come to the conclusion that the beating of Capt. Walsh was a manifest act of gangsterism agreed to, planned, carried out, directed and supervised by H. C. Banks and other named persons."
"The court has no hesitation on air policy he should have made in the Commons."
He said Banks' profession of faith in the policy of non-violence at the trial is "incompatible with the evidence this court has heard."
"Not only has it been established beyond a reasonable doubt that a beating took place, but it has also been established and also beyond a reasonable doubt that this beating was ordered by the accused."
The judge also said such lies as Banks' with the truth in his testimony that it is now impossible for this court to believe in."
The judge described Banks' action, said in the Commons Monday, May 4.
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Bankers Found Conspirators

RARE CRABS USED IN ERROR

PARIS (Reuters) — Six giant crabs of a rare species being flown from Alaska to aquariums in London, Manchester and Hamburg were eaten by error by the passengers.
Paris airport authorities said Friday by "regrettable negligence" the chef preparing meals on the flight was not informed that the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.
A Paris air official said the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.

12-Mile Limit Retaliation Not Suggested

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA
The United States has not made any suggestion of retaliating against Canadian fishery products in Canada proceeds with the unilateral 12-mile limit fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, MP for Quebec, MacLellan, said last night.
Mr. MacLellan, the former minister of fisheries, said Trade and Commerce Minister Mitchell Sharp whether he had received any assurances from the United States ministers who were in Ottawa this week that they would refrain from such retaliation.
He suggested that the retaliation might come in the form of duties or other means imposed against Canadian fish products if the government takes future action under the 12-mile limit legislation which was introduced in the Senate this week.
Mr. Sharp said that the subject was not discussed during a series of meetings which concluded in Ottawa Thursday.

Appeal Planned After Sentence

By STRUAN MATHESON
MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks, former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, Ind., was found guilty Friday of conspiring to assault a rival union official seven years ago.
The jury, 56-year-old accused showed no emotion on hearing the verdict at the end of a 36 page judgment which took Judge Claude Wagner two hours and 20 minutes to read in a packed court. However, tears came to his eyes as he was being taken to cells.
Banks' $2,000 bail was cancelled and he was ordered held in Bordeaux Jail until sentencing Tuesday when defence counsel Joseph Cohen said an appeal will be filed and application for habeas corpus made.
Banks was charged with conspiracy to assault Capt. Henry Walsh with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (CMSG) was beaten up Aug. 18, 1957, in a darkened hotel parking lot in Owen Sound, Ont.
OTHERS NAMED
Paul Carsh and Jack Richardson, of Montreal, and Jack Casper, of Sacramento, Calif., were named as co-conspirators in the charge which carries a 14 year maximum sentence.
In his judgment, Judge Wagner said:
"The court has come to the conclusion that the beating of Capt. Walsh was a manifest act of gangsterism agreed to, planned, carried out, directed and supervised by H. C. Banks and other named persons."
"The court has no hesitation on air policy he should have made in the Commons."
He said Banks' profession of faith in the policy of non-violence at the trial is "incompatible with the evidence this court has heard."
"Not only has it been established beyond a reasonable doubt that a beating took place, but it has also been established and also beyond a reasonable doubt that this beating was ordered by the accused."
The judge also said such lies as Banks' with the truth in his testimony that it is now impossible for this court to believe in."
The judge described Banks' action, said in the Commons Monday, May 4.
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Parliament At A Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
FRIDAY, May 1, 1964
Opposition members said Transport Minister Pickersill forced the CBC to let him make a TV statement on air policy he should have made in the Commons.
Mr. Pickersill denied his Thursday statement to a TCA and CPA integrating their overseas services constituted government policy.
A Conservative censure motion against Mr. Pickersill was ruled out by the speaker over a decision to be upheld 11-63.
Works Minister Deschamps said his department is prepared to study conditions in a given area to see how it can stimulate economic activity.
MONDAY, May 4
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Daughter Born To Princess

LONDON (Reuters) — Princess Margaret gave birth Friday to her second child, a girl, in the same London palace where Queen Victoria was born. Margaret's baby weighed six pounds two ounces. It was announced in the Gazette this week. Mother and baby continue to make good progress, the announcement added.
The baby's father, the Earl of Snowdon, was attending his daughter. "She looks a super baby. It is marvellous news," he said.

Armed Forces Integration Draws Salty Naval View

HALIFAX (CP) — A former Atlantic Coast high Chief, retired Rear-admiral Hugh F. Pullen, says salty comment Friday about integration of the armed forces. He described some aspects as nonsense.
The 58-year-old admiral a veteran of almost 40 years in the Canadian navy, did mention Ottawa by name but referred to "the old boys going on in another place."
"Then he said: 'Let's not have any more sense that a fool can take a man out of an engine-room and put him in a tank.'"
The admiral spoke at a ceremony commemorating victory in the Battle of the Atlantic during the Second World War. He said the "old boys" were important action of the war, because everything else depended on it. The battle had been won by the courage, devotion and sacrifice of navy men.
"You don't do that with integration or mucking about with a uniform," he said.
Admiral Pullen also referred to the "old boys" in breaking down. He said he could speak freely now that he is out of uniform.

Appeal Planned After Sentence

By STRUAN MATHESON
MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks, former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, Ind., was found guilty Friday of conspiring to assault a rival union official seven years ago.
The jury, 56-year-old accused showed no emotion on hearing the verdict at the end of a 36 page judgment which took Judge Claude Wagner two hours and 20 minutes to read in a packed court. However, tears came to his eyes as he was being taken to cells.
Banks' $2,000 bail was cancelled and he was ordered held in Bordeaux Jail until sentencing Tuesday when defence counsel Joseph Cohen said an appeal will be filed and application for habeas corpus made.
Banks was charged with conspiracy to assault Capt. Henry Walsh with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (CMSG) was beaten up Aug. 18, 1957, in a darkened hotel parking lot in Owen Sound, Ont.
OTHERS NAMED
Paul Carsh and Jack Richardson, of Montreal, and Jack Casper, of Sacramento, Calif., were named as co-conspirators in the charge which carries a 14 year maximum sentence.
In his judgment, Judge Wagner said:
"The court has come to the conclusion that the beating of Capt. Walsh was a manifest act of gangsterism agreed to, planned, carried out, directed and supervised by H. C. Banks and other named persons."
"The court has no hesitation on air policy he should have made in the Commons."
He said Banks' profession of faith in the policy of non-violence at the trial is "incompatible with the evidence this court has heard."
"Not only has it been established beyond a reasonable doubt that a beating took place, but it has also been established and also beyond a reasonable doubt that this beating was ordered by the accused."
The judge also said such lies as Banks' with the truth in his testimony that it is now impossible for this court to believe in."
The judge described Banks' action, said in the Commons Monday, May 4.
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Bankers Found Conspirators

RARE CRABS USED IN ERROR

PARIS (Reuters) — Six giant crabs of a rare species being flown from Alaska to aquariums in London, Manchester and Hamburg were eaten by error by the passengers.
Paris airport authorities said Friday by "regrettable negligence" the chef preparing meals on the flight was not informed that the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.
A Paris air official said the crabs had been deposited in the cold room only to await transit connections.

12-Mile Limit Retaliation Not Suggested

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
OTTAWA
The United States has not made any suggestion of retaliating against Canadian fishery products in Canada proceeds with the unilateral 12-mile limit fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, MP for Quebec, MacLellan, said last night.
Mr. MacLellan, the former minister of fisheries, said Trade and Commerce Minister Mitchell Sharp whether he had received any assurances from the United States ministers who were in Ottawa this week that they would refrain from such retaliation.
He suggested that the retaliation might come in the form of duties or other means imposed against Canadian fish products if the government takes future action under the 12-mile limit legislation which was introduced in the Senate this week.
Mr. Sharp said that the subject was not discussed during a series of meetings which concluded in Ottawa Thursday.

Appeal Planned After Sentence

By STRUAN MATHESON
MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks, former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, Ind., was found guilty Friday of conspiring to assault a rival union official seven years ago.
The jury, 56-year-old accused showed no emotion on hearing the verdict at the end of a 36 page judgment which took Judge Claude Wagner two hours and 20 minutes to read in a packed court. However, tears came to his eyes as he was being taken to cells.
Banks' $2,000 bail was cancelled and he was ordered held in Bordeaux Jail until sentencing Tuesday when defence counsel Joseph Cohen said an appeal will be filed and application for habeas corpus made.
Banks was charged with conspiracy to assault Capt. Henry Walsh with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (CMSG) was beaten up Aug. 18, 1957, in a darkened hotel parking lot in Owen Sound, Ont.
OTHERS NAMED
Paul Carsh and Jack Richardson, of Montreal, and Jack Casper, of Sacramento, Calif., were named as co-conspirators in the charge which carries a 14 year maximum sentence.
In his judgment, Judge Wagner said:
"The court has come to the conclusion that the beating of Capt. Walsh was a manifest act of gangsterism agreed to, planned, carried out, directed and supervised by H. C. Banks and other named persons."
"The court has no hesitation on air policy he should have made in the Commons."
He said Banks' profession of faith in the policy of non-violence at the trial is "incompatible with the evidence this court has heard."
"Not only has it been established beyond a reasonable doubt that a beating took place, but it has also been established and also beyond a reasonable doubt that this beating was ordered by the accused."
The judge also said such lies as Banks' with the truth in his testimony that it is now impossible for this court to believe in."
The judge described Banks' action, said in the Commons Monday, May 4.
The Commons meets at 2:30 p.m. EDT to hear how it can stimulate economic activity.

Parliament At A Glance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
FRIDAY, May 1, 1964
Opposition members said Transport Minister Pickersill forced the CBC to let him make a TV statement on air policy he should have made in the Commons.
Mr. Pickersill denied his Thursday statement to a TCA and CPA integrating their overseas services constituted government policy.
A Conservative censure motion against Mr. Pickersill was ruled out by the speaker over a decision to be upheld 11-63.
Works Minister Deschamps said