

Prominent in Vancouver

In a recent article appearing in the Vancouver Sun reference is made to the changing of location of the office of the British Columbia and Yukon Chamber of Mines which is managed by Mr. Frank Woodside a former resident of Hamilton, P.E.I. The organization serves as a clearing house for the latest mining information in that area and as far north as Alaska.

The staff of the Chamber of Mines does not do assaying but they're called upon to help a lot of prospectors with identification of ore samples. Every year for the last 35 years it has conducted its own mining school and many of the school's graduates have realized the dream of all prospectors and struck it rich.

The manager, Mr. Woodside, has been prominent in the business life of Vancouver for many years and was for a time the chairman of the Board of Aldermen. He was instrumental in preserving Stanley Park and has been connected with many improvements which have made Vancouver the main City of Western Canada.

He is a brother of Archie and William Woodside who reside in Prince Edward Island and has two sisters: Mrs. Joseph Sheen and Mrs. Wallace Heywood.

Attlee Dodges

regarding a statement by Progressive Conservative leader George Drew, who noted recently in the House of Commons that Mr. Attlee's visit is under the auspices of the CCF.

Mr. Attlee said he did not intend to interfere in domestic political affairs. Earlier, he said his remarks will deal entirely with international matters.

Many of his statements at the press conference reiterated earlier declarations of policy regarding admission of Red China to the United Nations as the "effective" government of that country.

"If I talk of Canada, I talk of Canada, and not of Prince Edward Island," he said in a reference to the comparatively small territory of Formosa held by the Chinese Nationalists.

Mr. Attlee expressed cautious approval of the "conference at the summit" idea, often advocated by Sir Winston Churchill as an avenue of peace.

Asked about likely issues in the British election, Mr. Attlee said the main one will be whether the Socialist idea of "fair shares for all" will be followed or whether private enterprise would be the "first consideration."

Mr. Attlee, entertained by Mayor Jean Drapeau at a civic dinner Monday night leaves today for Port Arthur, Ont., where he will deliver the first talk of the tour that will cover Canada from Victoria to Glace Bay, N.S.

He will go to Washington to meet President Eisenhower April 24, returning to Windsor to address a meeting the following day.

U. S. Winter Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The agriculture department forecast Monday this year's winter wheat crop at 662,252,000 bushels.

This is 16,885,000 bushels less than the 679,137,000 bushels forecast last December. Last year's crop was 790,737,000 bushels. Tighter federal restrictions on production and drought in the Great Plains are factors responsible for the indicated reduction in this year's crop.

Stevenson Hits

greater peril to enduring peace than the islands themselves.

He referred to Quemoy and Matsu, tiny Nationalist-held islands which are under invasion threat from nearby Red China.

GIVES VIEWS — Speaking in response to what he said were requests for his views on United States Far East policy, Stevenson said he believes it is "based more on political difficulties here at home than the realities of our situation in Asia."

"We face 'the bitter consequences' of that policy, he said, 'either sooner or later, and humiliating retreat, or else the hazard of war, modern war, unleashed not by necessity, but by strategic judgment...'

"If we should withdraw under fire from defence of these islands, we again act the 'paper tiger'; if we join in their defence, we are at war, perhaps with no major allies, and with most of the public opinion in Asia and Europe against us."

CONDEMN FORCE — He said "the tragedy is that the possibility of war just now seems to hinge upon small islands that are almost as close to the coast of China as Staten Island is to New York."

He urged that "our government promptly consult our friends, yes, and the uncommitted states, too, and ask them all to join with us in an open declaration condemning the use of force in the Formosa Strait" and agreeing to "stand with us in the defense of Formosa against aggression."

The biggest losers, of course, two young talented singing daughters of Frank MacIntyre, did a character duet with the ease of young troupers of much greater experience.

Jim Pasaang and Frank MacIntyre were both in splendid voice and in the choice of their solos and encores, were able to demonstrate the result of careful training and their right to a place of distinction among local vocalists.

"Strictly amateur, but with a professional touch," marked the verdict of six members of the cast all of whom may be regarded as solid material for future performances, judging from their first appearance last evening before the footlights. These were: Maisie Dowling, Lorne McGuigan, Wilmer Blanchard, Bert Roche, Louise McCarron and Brighton MacDougall.

Accompanists were Austin Conolly, Mrs. Joseph Dougan, and Alce MacLean. George Cheverie as Master of Ceremonies introduced the specialty numbers and received frequent applause for his deft handling of the part.

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, dean of the medical staff of the Charlottetown Hospital, has been acting as emcee for many years, extending the thanks of the Hospital organization to the ladies of St. Charles Auxiliary and the entertainers for their support. He also commended the public for their patronage, pointing out the ever-increasing demands made on both the Charlottetown and the Prince Edward Island Hospital in giving an expanding and all-embracing service to the people of the province. Dr. MacMillan spoke in appreciation of the liberal grants made by the Federal Government which was matched dollar for dollar by the Provincial Government, and made it possible to provide an ambitious program of interest to the health of the people.

The production was under the distinguished patronage of His Honour Lieut. Governor T. W. L. Prowse and Mrs. Prowse, the Honourable Premier, A. W. Matheson and Mrs. Matheson, His Worship Mayor J. David Stewart and Mrs. Stewart. The performance, which will be repeated tonight, was witnessed by Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Prowse, attended by Captain J. J. Connolly and Mrs. Connolly, Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, representing the Premier in his unavoidable absence, and Mrs. MacDonald.

Expect Salk

will follow Dr. Francis on the program. He is expected to report new findings from his laboratory which would make the vaccine more effective than the one developed when it was used experimentally last year.

He declares it is perfectly safe and that it creates antibodies (sort of protective soldiers) in the blood stream. The big question is whether these antibodies can protect children from the disease during epidemics to polio. That answer had to come from the bold and unprecedented volunteer field trials.

At their press conference, Dr. Salk and Francis indicated it would be far too optimistic to expect 100 per cent protection from the vaccine, but it would mean to be 100 per cent effective to a successful vaccine.

PRODUCE VIRUS MEDIUM

The Connaught Laboratories, whose work was directed by Dr. Raymond Parker, cleared the way for large-scale production of the vaccine by producing the medium in which the polio virus is grown. The medium is a synthesis of 61 chemicals in which living tissues from the kidneys of monkeys are placed.

At one time the Toronto Laboratories supplied the bulk of virus for preparation of the vaccine in the U.S. and still supply a small amount.

Floods Continue In Manitoba

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Thaw-swollen rivers and creeks continued to flood over thousands of acres of southern Manitoba farm land Monday but the provincial flood forecasting committee said the peak on some streams appeared to have been reached.

The committee, in a report released last Monday by Premier D. L. Campbell, forecast a crest of 13 feet above average winter ice levels at the Red River at Winnipeg. This would be slightly below minimum flood stage and more than eight feet below the level of dikes built after a disastrous flood in 1950.

The level was 17.5 feet Monday night and the water was continuing to rise at the rate of about one-tenth of a foot an hour. The river flooded to 24 feet in 1949, 30.3 feet in 1950.

More than 200 farm homes were reported surrounded by water in rural parts of suburban St. Vital, southeast of Winnipeg, flooded by the Seine River. In the Oakville-Poplar Point area, 30 miles west of Winnipeg, more than 30,000 acres of farmland was under water. Some farmers in the Ellis district reported two feet of water

To Practice In City

Dr. Gerald D. Barrett (above) will open a dental practice in Charlottetown today at his office in the Tweel Building, 162 Great George Street.

Dr. Barrett graduated from the Dalhousie University Dental School in 1952 and for the past three years has practised dentistry in Halifax. In addition to his regular practice he was a demonstrator at the Dalhousie University Dental School.

He is a veteran of overseas wartime service having enlisted in the Army as soon as he finished high school. He served overseas and in the South West Pacific with the Canadian Army Intelligence Corps.

On his return from the army he entered Acadia University from where he graduated with the Bachelor of Science Degree in 1948.

His wife is the former Beryl MacDonald, daughter of Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Minister of Health and Welfare and Mrs. MacDonald. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Barrett, Truro.

Dr. and Mrs. Barrett have two children, Brian aged three and Pamela a year old.

Police Bulletin Takes Note Of City Centennial

The fact that the annual conference of the Canadian Association of the Chiefs of Police will be held in Charlottetown September 20-23 is noted in the latest issue of the Canadian Police Bulletin which is the official organ of the Association.

The article, entitled "A Salute to Charlottetown," refers to the Centennial of the City and gives prospective delegates a vivid description of some of the points of interest that may be seen during the convention. It recalls the early days of the Island pioneers and some of the hardships they were forced to endure. In comparison with these days the writer states, "Today there is little poverty in Prince Edward Island where folks enjoy the amenities and comforts of modern times. But in one sense, the way of life of those hardy pioneers has been preserved by the people of the Island who stand firm in Christian faith and integrity."

Chief of Police MacArthur who will be playing host to the Police Chiefs across Canada has a big assignment on his hands preparing for some 100 delegates and their wives. Already he has received numerous letters from chief constables across Canada expressing their intention of being here. The job of preparing for such a convention in one of the larger centres does not present such a problem as it does in a small centre like Charlottetown. Police organizations in the larger cities have a large membership and have considerable funds at their disposal for entertaining a convention of this size. Chief MacArthur is not in the least pessimistic about the problem, however; he feels that the response from a number of sources will be sufficient to entertain the guests in a manner befitting that of any previous meeting.

Police are also working on the theory it may have been a "thrill" killing.

The finding of Judy's body Saturday on the bank of a creek in Markham township, 17 miles north-east of here, gave police few clues. They know little more than they did when she first disappeared from near her home Feb. 25.

They do know she was murdered by someone who used her own wool scarf to strangle her. But they don't know why.

NOT ATTACKED

The possibility that her killer might be a sex deviate was ruled out after an autopsy indicated she had not been sexually attacked.

"She was dead before she was thrown in the water," said Dr. Lawson. "The autopsy showed that her lungs were dry. There were no marks on her body except on the neck from the tough knots. It definitely is not a case of a sex attack."

Dr. Lawson said Judy probably was murdered on the day she was kidnapped, but there was no way of telling from the autopsy.

"I definitely believe she was strangled by someone she knew, someone who lives in the area where she lived."

REVENGE MOTIVE

"The only motive for the crime I can think of is revenge against her family," Dr. Lawson added.

As police searched doggedly for clues, two Markham township boys—Eric Christensen, 12, and Kenneth Oliphant, 13—learned they probably will share a $1,000 reward put up for finding Judy's body. Chief Constable John Chalmers said the matter would be put before the police commission for approval.

An additional $600 reward put up by a tile company is for the arrest of the person who kidnapped the girl. It still stands.

Speculate Little Girl Acquainted With Killer

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Smirle Lawson, supervising coroner for Ontario, said Monday he believes eight-year-old Judy Carter was killed by someone who knew her. He thinks it was a revenge killing.

Police are also working on the theory it may have been a "thrill" killing.

R.C.A.F. Units In Europe Kept In Top Form

OTTAWA, (CP) — A continual round of aerial combat tactics, escort work, high level interception and simulated ground attacks is keeping the RCAF's 1st Air Division in Europe in top fighting trim.

RCAF headquarters here re-counted some of the exercises carried out by the Canadian Sabre jet pilots, sometimes alone, sometimes in conjunction with other squadrons of the North Atlantic Treaty forces in Europe.

The pilots are kept at the ready and in the exercises "scramble" to their planes just as they would in wartime.

One of the exercises, headquarters recalled, involved more than 1,500 planes of various nationalities in a simulated air battle which ranged from the United Kingdom to Switzerland for some seven days.

STATION EXERCISES

That was one of the biggest. At the other end of the scale are the station exercises where a handful of Canadians simulate attacks while other Canadians try to intercept them.

Sometimes the Canadians buzz their own fields in mock strafing attacks, giving the pilots practice in ground attack and the anti-aircraft defences on the ground a chance to get live targets in their sights.

Simulated dog-fights are frequent and camera guns are used on the Sabres. The film from these cameras is later assessed by experts who can help the pilots improve their techniques of attack.

High level interceptions, air-to-air firing in North Africa, night flying and navigational trips are all included in the training curriculum to keep the pilots at peak efficiency.

Headquarters said that the languages, equipment, aircraft, servicing, training and tactics of the various NATO air forces in Europe are being standardized and the exercises have proved the best method of improving the defence system.

Predict Grain Handlers Strike

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—A strike of more than 1,200 lake-bound grain handlers within the next 10 days was predicted Monday unless the federal government intervenes.

Officials of Lodge 500, Elevator Division, Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks (AFL-TLC) said Monday the strike date likely will be set after the ballots of a recent strike vote are counted Monday night.

Representatives of the union and the Lakehead Terminal Elevator Operators' Association broke off talks March 29 after more than 16 months of negotiation.

Brussels countries offering to set some all-round security system. Such an arrangement should contain agreements on limitation of troop strengths and on armament control.

Fear 11 Lost In Crash At Sea Of Indian Airliner

SINGAPORE, (Reuters) — An Indian airliner carrying 11 Communist officials and newspaper men to next week's African-Asian conference in Indonesia plunked into the sea north of Sarawak Monday. All aboard were feared dead.

In New Delhi it was reported the chartered Indian four-engined Constellation carried 12 passengers and a crew of seven.

The airliner sent out the first of three SOS signals when it was five hours out from Hong Kong, en route to Jakarta, Indonesia. Aboard were eight minor Chinese Communist officials, Polish and Indonesian Communists, and a North Viet Communist named Vuong Phinh-Phuong.

India's director-general of civil aviation, L. C. Jain said in New Delhi chances of any survivors being found were "remote".

SEARCH UNDER WAY

Indonesian air force planes took off to search the area of Pontianak southwest Bornea—the region on the Equator indicated in the airliner's distress signals. An RAF high-speed rescue launch churned up from here to make a search in the area.

Ships in the area were told by radio to keep a look-out.

Air India said cause of the crash is unknown.

In Jakarta an Indonesian government spokesman said the officials aboard were "second-echelon officials." He said Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai will fly to Indonesia via Rangoon, arriving April 16, two days before the Bandung conference begins.

The Chinese officials were the advance element of Chou's 24-man delegation.

Jain is the correspondent of the Austrian Communist newspaper Volkstimme. He recently arrived in Hong Kong after a six-month visit to China.

Tells of Red Moves To Get Into CCF Party

TORONTO (CP) — Leslie Dawson, one of 14 members of the Ontario CCF party expelled last fall, said Sunday it was his information which led to the expulsions.

Dawson said in an interview he was a member of the Revolutionary Workers (Trotskyites) party until last summer when he went to the CCF executive and told them he and 13 other Trotskyites had been able to join the CCF party.

"I decided that revolutionary socialism was wrong," he said.

The expulsions became known Friday when confirmed at the annual convention of the Ontario CCF. The party's provincial council said those expelled were members of another political party who were expelled from the CCF.

Ken Brown, CCF provincial secretary, confirmed Monday that Dawson supplied the information. TROTSKYISTS STILL REDS

The expulsion report said the Trotskyist party, "in spite of its many differences with
