

CITY SCHOOLS.

Midsummer Examinations.

QUEEN SQUARE SCHOOL.

A LARGE number of visitors attended the examination of Queen Square School to-day. Of the number were the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Macdonald, Father Gallant, Father McLean, Donald Montgomery, Esq., Superintendent of Education, Dr. Anderson, Prince of Wales College, Mr. LePage, Prince of Wales College, Mr. Miller, Principal of West Kent Street School, Miss Barr, Principal of Upper Prince Street School, Miss McKinnon and other teachers, J. D. Mason, Esq., and Mrs. Mason, Hon. David Laird, and Arch. Kennedy, Esq., of the City School Board. The classes were examined by Dr. Anderson, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. LePage and others; and the results of careful teaching were visible in every department—from the lowest to the highest. There is evidently a good deal of bright young intellect in this school. Good discipline is one of its marked features, reflecting great credit upon Mr. Wickham and the very capable teachers of his class. After the examination, the School gave an entertainment in the upper hall, of which the following is the PROGRAMME.

Each gentleman remarked upon the prevailing good order, and the general proficiency apparent in the several departments. Dr. Anderson spoke particularly of the reading and pronunciation of the scholars, commending the teachers for their persistent, though not, in every case, fully successful efforts in this regard; and passing a high compliment upon the Principal and the staff of the school.

Methodist Conference.

(Special Correspondence of The Examiner.) MONROE, N. B., June 26.

The New Brunswick and P. E. Island Conference of the Methodist Church is in session here to-day.

The Stationing Committee, composed of Dr. Wilson, Revs. J. Read, C. H. Paisley, A. M., R. W. Weddall, A. B., J. A. Clarke, A. M., and J. Shenton, Chairman of Districts, and Revs. S. H. Rice, J. Howie, G. M. Campbell, Fred. W. Harrison, J. S. Allen and G. Steel, met at 2 o'clock.

The following are the changes at present on the Island (which are still under correction):—Cornwall—Rev. D. D. Moore, A. M. Tryon—Rev. C. H. Paisley, A. M. Summerside—Rev. W. Tippet. Alberton—Rev. G. W. Fisher. Rev. W. Lodge, now stationed at Cornwall, is down for Salisbury, and Rev. J. Shenton for Woodstock and Rev. B. Chappell, B. A., for Campbellton.

There is a scarcity of men, and some of the Circuits will have to remain with supplies. The Statistical Committee met at 2 p. m. It consists of Revs. W. Harrison, H. R. Baker, A. B., Jas. Crisp, Thos. Williams and others. It is preparing all the Conference schedules. The Missionary Committee met at 7 p. m.

There is some talk of setting a Minister apart to the office of Conference Evangelist, but the paucity of ministers will probably prevent such an appointment being made. Also, not a few members of Conference believe such an appointment would not promote the best interests of the Church.

An unusually large number of young ministers are asking for rest for a year. Among such may be mentioned Revs. C. S. Wells, F. Frizzle, W. A. Taylor and Jas. W. Tate. Rev. William Harrison delivered the Theological Union Lecture before the Conference. It occupied about an hour in delivery, and was an able presentation of the case. Its title was: "The Religious Scope: Its Nature, Extent and Satisfaction." As a synopsis has already appeared in your columns, it is unnecessary to say more than that it was worthy of the lecturer and the subject. The audience was not large. Rev. B. Chappell presided, and Rev. A. Lucas led in prayer.

The following Island lay delegates are here already:—Messrs. S. C. Reid and A. Callbeck, Tryon; C. W. Strong, Summerside; Isaac Sells, Union Road; Geo. Sells, Jr., Highfield; Nath. Pearden, Winslow, and Jas. E. Sentner, Pownal.

Supreme Court.

JUNE 28. Robert O'Mullin and others vs. George Muttart.—Argument on demurrer. Plaintiff sues defendant on two bills of exchange, the consideration for which, as alleged by defendant, being a quantity of intoxicating liquors imported from Halifax into Summerside, where the Canada Temperance Act is in force, with the knowledge of the plaintiff that the defendant intended to dispose of the same contrary to said Act—Held that it is the facts as alleged by defendant be true, the plaintiff cannot recover, Mr. Justice Peters dissenting. The facts of this case will be tried by jury this (Tuesday) term, at Charlottetown. M. McLeod, Q. C., for plaintiff; Mr. Morson for defendant.

James Clow vs. Patrick Morris—This case was tried last Hilary Term, being an action for trespass and trover—a verdict was found for the plaintiff for $43. The costs were taxed on the full scale on a rule for review of taxation. Court held that the 317th sec. of the Common Law Procedure Act does not apply to cases of tort. Rule dismissed with costs. Davies, Q. C., for plaintiff; Mr. Stewart for defendant.

The Grand Jury were discharged this afternoon. In their report they state that they visited the jail, poor house and hospital for the insane, which institutions they found in a very satisfactory condition.

COURT OF APPEAL IN EQUITY.

Halifax Banking Co. vs. Uriah Matthew and another.—An appeal from the Vice-Chancellor.—decreed in favor of the defendant. The Court delivers unanimous judgment, dismissing appeal with costs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

What is Secularism?

SIR,—Possibly there may be persons who hold mistaken views as to the definition of the word "Secularism," and as Charles Watts, the celebrated English Philosopher and Secularist, is to lecture in this city on Wednesday evening next, July 4th, we subjoin from "The Library of Universal Knowledge" its proper meaning:—"Secularism commences by laying down the proposition that intelligent sincerity is sinless. It does not maintain that even intelligent sincerity is errorless, but that it is without conscious guilt, even when it is, as it may be, dangerously mistaken. The conscience thus educated, thought may be intrusted to enquiry, and the search for truth may be begun. So far from being the end, it is the beginning of enquiry—the first condition for the recognition of unknown truth. He who would be master of his own mind, and know what is in it, and would have no principles there but those which are pure, true, and reliable, must refuse to believe anything until he is compelled to believe it; it being no more safe to keep one's mind open to all notions, than to keep one's door open to all comers. Secularism is not committed to denying that there is other good—it does not meddle with that question; it says whether there be good or not, the good of the present life is good, and it is good to seek for that good. Secularism proceeds in the path of positive philosophy, not seeking for errors, but for truth; not busy-ing itself with negatives, but with affirmations. In sacred writ it seeks for guiding truth and thought which commends itself to reason and experience, accepting the intrinsically true, without entering upon the vexed questions of inspiration or authenticity. Secularism is not an argument against Christianity, it is one independent of it. It does not question the pretensions of Christianity; it advocates others. Secularism does not say there is no light or guidance elsewhere, but maintains that there is light and guidance in secular truth, whose conditions and sanctions exist independently, act independently, and act forever. Secularism is not skeptical. It seeks everywhere positive truth, and regards doubt as a difficulty and a danger. It is not infidel, for that is a state of mind treacherous to the truth, and truth is the first thing to which secularism teaches allegiance. It is not atheistic, atheism being alien to secularism, which concerns itself with the affirmative. Secularism is the religion of the present life; it teaches men to seek morality in nature and happiness in duty; guiding the conduct and educating the conscience of those who do not know, or who, from conscientious convictions, stand apart from Christianity. Secularism teaches a man to acquire himself well in this world as the purest act of worship, to study the truth, to judge by reason, to regulate human interests by considerations (purely human, and to act on that rule of utility which conduces to the greatest good of others; thus endeavoring to deserve another life by the unshaking, unrelenting pursuit of duty in this."

Yours, TRUTH.

At Little Baltic, Dundas, on the 23rd of May, after a lingering illness, Duncan Gillis, in the 45th year of his age, leaving a wife, three sons and three daughters to mourn their irreparable loss; but their loss is his eternal gain, for he passed away with a full hope of a glorious resurrection.

On 27th May last, of pleuro-pneumonia, at St. Margaret's, King's Co., Donald R. McDonald, in the 54th year of his age, leaving a widow and family to mourn the loss of a kind husband and provident father. R. I. P.

On Wednesday, June 13th, after a short illness, of hemorrhagic purpura, borne with Christian resignation to the Divine Will, Elizabeth, the beloved wife of Mr. John Jenkins, of Mount Albion, Lot 48, in the 63rd year of her age. She leaves a sorrowing husband, five sons and four daughters to mourn the loss of a loving wife and a kind and affectionate mother. She was brought to a knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus when she was but very young, under the ministry of the late Rev. Donald McDonald; and with a full assurance of a blessed and glorious immortality beyond death and the grave.

Suddenly, on Lordlay morning, the 17th inst., sorrow came to the house of Brother James Ching, St. Catherines, Lot 45, in the loss of his beloved wife, Sister Jessie J., daughter of the late Alex. Stewart, Esq., Red Point, Lot 46, King's Co. Sister Ching died at the age of 24 years, 5 months and one day. Her husband and many friends are left in sorrow. Her three little children are left without mother's care. Cruel seems the severing of the tender ties, but He doeth all things well. She leaves a life of earthly happiness for pleasures wholly unmix'd with pain.
