

Local and Other Items.

Four Scott Act summonses have been issued and more are coming.
SHARES of Island Navigation Co. were sold by A. H. B. Macgowan at par.
At the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon a well-known vagrant was given three months imprisonment.

The Owen Sound police magistrate has been fined $5 and costs for assaulting the chief of police of the same town.

REV. MR. TYLDER will preach in the basement of the Methodist Brick Church this evening. A collection will be taken up.

On Sabbath, Oct. 3rd, the Rev. J. G. Cameron will preach at West River at 11 o'clock, at Clyde River at 3 o'clock and at Beakfield at 6.30 p. m.

We congratulate Mr. R. S. Farquharson on the important step he has taken, and wish him and his amiable partner the fullest measure of prosperity and happiness.

MARSHAL THURDEAU, of Moncton, has started in on the violators of the Scott Act. Two cases are now occupying the attention of the court, and more are coming. Good!

The traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the week ending September 21st, were $221,000, an increase of $40,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The supreme court of Vermont has just held a man liable in damages for an assault made by his wife upon a neighbor, although the husband did his best to prevent the assault.

The Montrealer has received letters stating that a Catholic seminary in China has been burned by natives, and that 1,600 Catholic adherents have been placed in manacles.

A NEWLY formed church among the Zulus has the following among its regulations: "No member shall be permitted to drink the white man's grog or native beer, nor to touch it with his lips."

THERE will be no tickets sold nor badges given at the Cattle Show entrance gate to the Provincial Exhibition. Attendees will get their badges at the Secretary's office when the animals are being entered.

The telegraphic system throughout Canada and the United States is working as usual to-day. This proves that there is no storm of any consequence. In the neighboring Provinces the weather is much as it is here.

The Canada Gazette contains the order-in-Council prohibiting the importation of live cattle from eleven English counties and the district of London on account of the existence of pleuro-pneumonia in the localities enumerated.

MR. WALTER PELHAM convulsed his audience by giving his "Imitations of Street Itinerants and Quacks." In his "Reminiscences of Rare Readers" Mr. Pelham is positively.—Paddington Telegram and West London Times.

The members of the Benevolent Irish Society are requested to meet in their Hall on Thursday morning, at 8.30 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of James F. McCrear, a deceased member. JOHN HENNESSY, Secretary.

CROWFOOT, chief of the Blackfeet, and Three Bulls, sub-chief and son-in-law of Crowfoot, with Mr. Henreux, government interpreter, are en route for Ottawa to interview the government, and to take a pleasure trip through the eastern and maritime provinces.

MESSRS. E. BRECKEN and A. NEWSON have been matched to skate three races in the Roller Rink to decide the championship, the winner of two races to be declared champion. The first race will take place on Wednesday (Exhibition night), at 9.30. Distance, three miles.

The steamer Worcester, Capt. Allen, arrived from Boston this morning, with a general cargo and the following passengers: John McKinnon and wife, W. J. Baldwin, E. A. Congdon, Miss Delia E. Judson, Mrs. J. Hughes, Miss Alice Coyle, Miss Susan Manton, Mr. William McMillan.

Up to the time of going to press the terrific hurricane predicted by Prof Wiggins had not put in an appearance, and P. E. Island still retains its position on the map of British North America. We are just now, however, being treated to a little rain and high water—both reasonable luxuries. Alas, poor Wiggins!

MR. GAFFNEY'S house is about ready for occupation and it is scarcely too much to say that it is the handsomest in town. The situation is a good one and has been judiciously improved by grading. With a few ornamental trees in front, Mr. Gaffney will have as cosy a residence as an ordinary mortal could wish. So says the Summerside Pioneer.

ONE day last week, says the Summerside Pioneer, Mrs. Charles E. Clark of this place and the wife of Rev. J. S. Allen, while out riding, were violently thrown from the carriage, resulting in Mrs. Clark having her collar bone broken. Mrs. Allen escaped with slight injuries. We are pleased to learn that both ladies are in a fair way of early recovery.

BALBERGA, the Swedish Wonder, in his unique entertainment, entitled, "Modern Miracles," is to appear in the Lyceum the first week in November. The entertainment is divided into nine parts, consisting of mesmerism, spiritualism, acrobatic feats, etc., etc. The wonder is at present in New Hampshire, where his entertainments are delighting the people.

The Summerside Pioneer says:—Mr. P. McRae, of Beletown, spent several days at Toronto Exhibition, the week before last, returning on Wednesday. He is delighted with what he saw and thinks it would pay many of our Island farmers to visit the premier province of our Dominion at Exhibition time. Mr. McRae, while there, purchased a handsome stud, for carriage purposes, dark red in color, large and stylish, weighing 1375 lbs. The animal will be here next Thursday.

TYPHOID FEVER is on the increase in Moncton, N. B. Paul Lee, Esq., formerly of this city, is among the number stricken with the disease. The Montrealer Times says that the fever cannot be traced to the recent disturbance at the waterworks, as asserted by some, but appears to be due to other and not preventable causes. Some medical gentlemen report, in fact, that the proportion of cases in the Mountains and other country districts is larger than in town, which seems to indicate that the fever is due largely to certain climatic conditions.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

(SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.)

A PERMANENT EXHIBITION.

What Sir Charles Tupper Says.

Money and Exhibits Promised

TORONTO, Sept. 28. Sir Charles Tupper addressed a largely attended meeting of exhibitors to the Colonial and Indian Exhibition in the City Hall this afternoon.

At the residence of the bride's father, on the 24th inst., by Rev. J. M. McLeod, Mr. Richard S. Farquharson, of the firm of D. Farquharson & Son, and Miss Julia E., third daughter of Henry Douse, Esq.

At Glenwood, Lennox Ferry, C. B., on the 7th Sept., at the residence of the bride's uncle, J. J. Clough, Esq., by the Rev. Edward Ansell, Nicholas White, of the Post Office Department, Charlottetown, P. E. I., to Miss Margaret, eldest daughter of Charles Fickett, and grand daughter of the late Dr. Charles Fickett, of St. Heller, Jersey.

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

BIRTH.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, on the 24th inst., by Rev. J. M. McLeod, Mr. Richard S. Farquharson, of the firm of D. Farquharson & Son, and Miss Julia E., third daughter of Henry Douse, Esq.

At Glenwood, Lennox Ferry, C. B., on the 7th Sept., at the residence of the bride's uncle, J. J. Clough, Esq., by the Rev. Edward Ansell, Nicholas White, of the Post Office Department, Charlottetown, P. E. I., to Miss Margaret, eldest daughter of Charles Fickett, and grand daughter of the late Dr. Charles Fickett, of St. Heller, Jersey.

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

WHITE OATS WANTED

FIVE THOUSAND BUSHELS good, clean, WHITE OATS, for which the highest market price will be paid.

Apply to H. H. HASZARD, Lower Queen Street, Charlottetown, Sept. 23, 1886—3 wks eod pd has removed to the office adjoining that of R. H. Fitzgerald, Esq., Cameron Block.

JAMES H. REDDIN, BARRISTER-AT-LAW, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY PUBLIC.

MONEY TO LOAN. Sept. 27, 1886—1 mo eod & wry 3 mos

Valuable Business Stand. THE Subscriber will rent his premises on Queen Street for a term of years, as may be agreed upon. The house contains 13 rooms; there is also good stabling and other out-buildings. The dwelling house can be rented either furnished or unfurnished.

For further particulars apply on the premises. JOHN J. TRAINOR. Sept. 27, 1886—pat 3 eod

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.

In this city, on the 28th inst., of consumption, James F. McCrear, in the 23rd year of his age may be in wear.

(Funeral from his late residence, Richmond Street, to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 8.45, to Dunstan's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.)

At his residence, South West, on Monday, the 22nd inst., after an illness of four months, which he bore with exemplary patience, John Stevens Leslie, at the age of 81 years. His remarkable kindness endeared him to all; and his true liberality, together with his strictly temperate principles, make his loss much felt. His life may be truly illustrated in the following lines:

While every lives, and Friendship dies, While hopes grow cold and fears increase, Oh, what shall calm the anxious eyes, And give the weary spirit peace? Afraid to live, unfit to die, Oh! what shall bid the darkness fly?

Religion points beyond the stars, And seeks to reassure our faith; But hirelings and bloody wars, The hypocrite's and bigot's breath, Have clouded his serene aspect.

We are driven In scorn of men, to doubt of Heaven. The poet's thought, the preacher's word, In such an hour are all in vain; But actions touch a deeper chord, And strike a sweeter strain.

Pure deeds, the Truth's divinely seal, Supply a hope that all can feel. Such deeds were his whom now we mourn, His life was pure, his heart was true, No writhing lowly life may scorn, Through death to nobler life he grew, Compared with such a life and death, Proud logic is an idle dream.

At Summerside, Sept. 23rd, of consumption, Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. Henry Bishop, aged 19 years.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Mrs. R. C. Donald, of a daughter.

At Charlottetown, on September 23rd, Leslie N. W. Cannon, second son of William Cannon, of Summerside, aged 19 years and six months.