Evangelistic Services Overflow St. John Church

"There is no half-way house in Christianity," said Harold J. Ockenga, speaking in Centenary-Queen Square United Church, St. John, N. B. "People must accept Christ all the way or have nothing to with him. Either He is God or He isn't, and his record of miracles speaks for itself."

Taking his text from the third chapter of John, "Unless man be born again he cannot enter the Kingdom of Heaven," the Boston pastor addressed the largest audience yet in his third address from the church auditorium.

Rev. Dr. A. C. Vincent, formerly of Charlottetown, pastor of Main Street Baptist Church, said he estimated there were 1,700 persons in Centenary-Queen Square Church for the meeting and a further 800 in the Baptist Central Church. The addition of St. David's Church tonight would add accommodation for a further 1,000.

Dr. Ockenga began by referring to Nicodemus, a cultured, troubled man who sought out the Master in an attempt to solve his problems. Using the intellectual approach, he received the same answer six times in a few sentences: "You must be born again." This answer, said Dr. Ockenga, was unsatisfactory to Nicodemus, who thought the idea of physical rebirth impossible. He was faced with a spiritual problem and unable to answer it.

What is needed, said the evangelist, is a revival to tell men of the exigency of rebirth. Few people in churches know what is meant by being born again, yet they are yearning for someone to show them the way.

Full Acceptance

When many people think of Jesus, he went on, they compare him with the sages and rank him with the prophets. If He is on a plane with these men then he should be listened to as a sage and as a prophet and his example should be followed. But He must be accepted in all the way or have nothing to do with Him."

There is only one real Superman, said Ockenga. Jesus was born of a seed planted by God in an earthly woman and was able to rise from the dead because He had no sin and fulfilled everything that the law of rebirth required. These things were inherent in the One who said: "You must be born again."

"Men may not preach or think much about rebirth these days, but it is still there in their creeds and beliefs." As an example, he spoke of the Methodist Church, whose first essential is rebirth. Biologists can make a seed, he said, similar in appearance to one containing life, but it is not the same. Something is lacking; the seed will not grow. "There is a law there and a mystery, too."

Through Prayer

"Man is in need of a new nature," he continued. "New birth comes from above. The seed is planted in our hearts by Jesus and we are reborn to eternal life." Rebirth is not inherent in man as it was in Jesus. It comes through prayer and the acceptance of Jesus.

"Christians must be born today with faith and conviction. A true Christian is unable to practice sin because God's seed is in Him. If you reject Jesus, you reject God." Dr. Ockenga concluded with Jesus' claim to incarnation. "He

MOUNT HERBERT YOUNG MARRIEDS GROUP

The regular monthly meeting of the Mount Herbert Young Married Couples Group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raynor on Wednesday evening, February 15.

The meeting opened with a prayer by Miriam Raynor, followed by the singing of the hymn, "Jesus Calls Us". The responsive reading from Psalm 96 was led by Ralph Raynor. The first three chapters of the Gospel, according to St. Matthew provided material for a very interesting discussion, after which the hymn, "Praise Him, Praise Him" was sung.

Due to the absence of both the President and the Vice-President, Ralph Raynor had charge of the business period. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Four couples answered the roll call by each quoting a verse of scripture. It was decided that the group purchase a Bible Reading's Guide to assist in our discussions. The discussion for next meeting will be on the fourth and fifth chapters of St. Matthew's Gospel. Membership fees were paid by four couples. The collection amounted to fifty-four cents.

The annual election of officers then took place, and the following were elected:

President — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins, Vice-President — Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Jenkins, Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. and Mrs. David Wood.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Wood.

The business meeting adjourned, after which the group joined in recreation befitting the Valentine season.

The evening was brought to a close by a delicious Valentine lunch which was enjoyed by all.

UNEMPLOYMENT HITS SCHOOLS

MONTREAL — (CP) — The Protestant central school board has reported a growing number of illegal absences and school inspectors attribute it to unemployment. They said many parents are reluctant to send their children to school if they are unable to buy proper clothing.

NEW FLOUR MARKET

VANCOUVER — (CP) — A 10,000-ton shipment of wheat flour has been ordered by the Ceylon government from a Vancouver milling company. It is the first large shipment of flour ever made to Ceylon; previous flour trade with the island country has been on a small scale.

Fashion Achieves Smart "Top" Look in Spring Styles

TORONTO, March 7 — (CP) — Herald of spring in the fashion world is the spring fashion show. And the current show at a large department store here has a refreshing collection of exciting clothes.

Largely from United States designers, the models included some French imports and a group from Nicol of Sweden. Leading designers were Christian Dior of New York, Pauline Trigere, Nettie Rosenstein and Ben Reig.

It is to be a season of color, despite forecasts of a navy-blue-and-white spring. Yellow, green, tangerine and straw are important whether in coats, dresses or hats. Grey and navy blue, however, still hold their own.

With both coats and suits it is the "top" look this year. This is achieved by turned-up collars, buttoned sleeves and full backs tightly belted. Skirts are slim beneath the full tunics. A monotone tweed coat with a pleated back to the waist, had push-up sleeves and was worn with a tangerine straw hat and elbow length white gloves.

Coats may be either belted or loose. For casual costumes they are often short, made of fleece material, and paired with a matching gaberdine skirt.

For Mature Figures

A group of clothes for the more mature figure featured darker clothes and highlighted accessories. One striking dress in navy wool with white pique trim, had straight overskirt of navy lined with pique. White gloves, navy corde or suede bags and shoes to match with a color or flower-accented hat completed the costume.

Pure silk is a favorite fabric. It appears in prints, shantung and sarrahs, frequently teamed up in color with the coat, or coat lining. White is used for accent, particularly in gloves. Little girls' coats had white overcollars of pique, or evelin embroidery. The classic pump is still the shoe for 1950, and here fabrics lend the new touch, linen for day and satin for evening.

this season. It is the forward look. Last fall hats were pulled to one side, but the fashion-wise woman will now wear her hat straight on the head.

Flowers are everywhere. Lilly Daché's black straw had pink roses, and Sally Victor's natural straw sailor had lilacs. For a more tailored effect, the modified derby and the forward cloche are important.

The newest evening gowns are shorter, and with them are usually worn many-strapped satin sandals. A lovely two-piece formal gown in a soft blue linen had a strapless jacket topped with a full silhouette. There was a touch of the '20s about Jean Reiz's white hankiechief formal with points dipping to just above the ankle.
