The Favorite

Remedy for Throat and Lung Difficulties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep.
There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

"My wife had a distressing cough, with pain in the side and breast. We tried various medicines, but none did her any good until I got a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has cured her. A neighbor, Mrs. Glenn, had the same, and the cough was relieved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have no hesitation in recommending this

Cough Medicine

to every one afflicted."—Robert Horton, Foreman Bloodlight, Morrilton, Ark.
"I have been afflicted with asthma for forty years. Last spring I was taken with a violent cough, which threatened to terminate my days. Every one promised me in consumption. I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
Its effects were magical. I was immediately relieved and continued to improve until entirely recovered."—Joel Bullard, Gulfport, Conn.

"Six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by an incessant cough which deprived me of sleep and rest. I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief until I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few bottles of this medicine cured me." Mrs. E. Coburn, 19 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

"For children afflicted with colds, croup, sore throat, or croup, I do not know of any remedy which will give more speedy relief than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have found it, also, invaluable in cases of Whooping Cough."—

The Future of Trotters.

ARE THEIR CAMPAIGNING QUALITIES TO BE SACRIFICED BY TOO EARLY TRAINING.

When the trotting season came to a close its votaries at once commenced to boast of the progress made in the development of young trotters, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Axtell's 2.12, Sunol's 2.10 1/2, Regal Wilkes' 2-year-old record-breaking mile of 2.20 1/2, and Faustina, a yearling's mile in 2.35, were dwelt on at length as showing that trotters could be brought, or almost brought, to the limit of their speed at an early age. It was claimed that a great step forward had been made, as trotters were showing phenomenal speed at an age when, in the slow process of old, they would not have been broken to harness.
Goldsmith Maid was as fast at 5, and Dick Wright trotted within half a second of his record when he was 20 years old. While it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of everyone that a trotter can be developed early, as in the thoroughbred, there are those who will say that the knowledge and its application are far from being steps forward, and produce facts to show that they are correct in the matter.
They claim that, while the thoroughbred is early brought to the limit of his speed, the result is reached at great sacrifice. It is shown that but the smallest kind of percentage of trained 2-year-olds ever reach their aged form. Last year there were 127 horses that won over $5,000 on the running turf. Out of this number only ten were 6 years old or over. The percentage is alarmingly small. Those to reach this amount were: Big Three, $5,040; Eurus, $13,335; Exile, $13,335; Little Minch, $8,385; Tattler, $7,237; Bass, $6,765; Swift, $6,670; Elphin, $6,640; St. Luke, $6,565, and Inspector B., $10,140. Of this number Eurus broke down before the season was over, Exile was able to start in only a few races, Inspector B., after racing on three legs for a while was retired for the season, and Little Minch was campaigned with ossiliages on both fore as big as a man's head.
The railer against early development need go no further for convincing argument.

The owners and trainers of the thoroughbreds recognize that money is to be made with youngsters, and commence to get them it to race almost before they have left their dam's side. When El Rio Rey was brought out here last spring the writer saw him in his stall at the fair grounds, and was struck with his enormous size and development. Turning to Trainer McCormick the question was put whether he was not afraid of breaking the colt down by hurrying him. The answer came promptly:

"What's the use of building up a big colt like this unless you want to run him early?
He may never see his 3-year-old form."

This is the way all the trainers and owners feel. Their object is to get a good colt and pound him along until he has not a good leg to stand on when he reaches his aged form. Is the trotting turf coming to this? The performances of Axtell and Sunol have given early developing a great boom, and next season promises to witness a revolution in the trotting world. What will the end be? Will the time come when the trotters of note 6 years of age and over can be counted on one's fingers as in the case of the thoroughbreds? Every lover of true sport will deplore such a result.

Horse Notes.

The American trotter Gracie B., record 2.22 1/2, a daughter of Blackwood, Jr., that was sent to Europe last summer, has distinguished herself by winning a 22,000-franc race at Vienna. She is owned by a Frenchman and from the fact of her winning a race it is judged that he has secured a driver for her. In her first races the owner mounted the sulky himself, but his essays in the line of handling a trotter were not a success. When Gracie B. was in this country she was looked upon as rather uncertain in temper, and the man who got up behind her was considered to be taking quite a risk. Her sire, Blackwood, Jr., whose record was 2.22 1/2, died recently in Indiana. He was a great three-year-old in 1875 and was brought out by A. J. Mc-Kimmis of Tennessee. Of late years he has been in the stud, being at one time owned by the late Com. Kittson, at whose side he was disposed of. He has a number of sons and daughters in the 2.30 list.

At the same time that Axtell was sent from Chicago to Terre Haute for the winter Budd Doble shipped with him a mare called Nancy, that for years has been the favorite road horse of the famous driver, Nancy, whose exact blood lines are unknown, but who has always been alluded to as a member of the Morgan family, is now thirty years old, and has been owned by Doble for a quarter of a century. She was sent to Terre Haute by Doble in order that her last days might be spent in ease and comfort, she being now too feeble for driving.
It would seem to the uninitiated that a man like Doble, having in his charge a dozen or more of the finest horses in the country, each one of them requiring exercise every day, would naturally turn to them when he wanted a spin on the road, but such was not the case, old Nancy being his favorite for a drive. It is the same with nearly every driver of prominence.
The valuable trotters in his barn are carefully exercised every day by the rubbers, but when the boss of the establishment goes for a drive he takes some lady's horse.

INQUEST.—An inquest was held before Wm.
Norton, one of the coroners for King's Co., at Annandale, Lot 59, on Tuesday evening, 31st Dec., at the dwelling house of Mr. Jas. Robertson, on the body of Cahal Steele, of Little Pond, who, in taking his horse and sleigh out of Robertson's yard, fell on his head. He was taken into the house and instantly died. A verdict of "Death from natural causes" was returned.

A Strange Power.

A COLORED GIRL WITH NO APPARENT EFFORT GAUSES HEAVY ARTICLES TO FLY AROUND ROOMS.

The citizens of Sumter, S. C., are excited and puzzled by the strange manifestations of some hidden and extraordinary force which seems to follow Daisy Robinson, a colored servant girl, about twelve years of age. She seldom smiles, and gazes listlessly around at the crowds of people who are continually going to see her. As an illustration of what dozens of "eminently respectable and trustworthy" people of Sumter testify to, Policeman Epperson, who was detailed to investigate makes the following statement:

"I went to the yard of Mr. Tradewell, where I found a crowd collected, and I pushed my way through and went into the room where the girl and her sister were. I turned everybody else out, and sat on the bed facing the fireplace, with my lantern in my hand. There was another light in the room, and a fire in the fireplace. The sister sat by the door to prevent anybody coming in, and the girl sat on the right of the chimney, facing me, her chair leaning back against the chimney, and her hands in her lap.

"I waited a while, and nothing occur-ing, I was about to leave, when a dinner plate that was on the top of the bureau to my left and against the wall and several feet away from the girl, came sailing into the air and fell right side up on the floor, breaking into pieces. A two-quart bucket on the mantel shelf then sprang out and fell to the floor at my feet. Immediately after a trevet, weighing five or six pounds, that stood by the fire, dashed out and across to where I was, striking on one of its feet and spinning around.

"Mr. Tradewell came in at that moment and asked what all that noise was, and just then a shovel which was back in the corner to the right of the girl came prancing out and fell with a clatter, striking Mr. Trade-well on the foot, who left, without staying to see anything more. All this time the girl was sitting perfectly quiet, and there was no way for things to be thrown in from the outside, besides which I saw these things as they were coming through the air, and they came from just where they had been, I am satisfied that no one in or out of the room moved or threw them."

Similar occurrences manifest themselves in every house or room where Daisy goes, so that she is not a desirable visitor. Her aunt says she cannot afford such costly entertainments for the public, and does not know what to do in the matter, as she cannot turn her out of doors. She says that while Daisy was eating her breakfast, the bedstead in her room was actually wrenched to pieces by an unseen power.

Will Wonders Ever Cease?

It has been discovered that by means of the circulating blood any organ of an animal can be paralyzed or stimulated into renewed activity if the proper material is administered. Cocaine, which has revolutionized delicate surgical operations, is only one of the results of this discovery.
The use of Atropine by oculists is a remarkable example: For it matters not how administered (even if injected into the big toe), the first effect seen is the enlarging of the pupil of the eye. Another application of this discovery, as practical as any, was the idea that the great loss suffered by poultry raisers, owing to the fact that hens stop laying during cold weather, when eggs are worth fifty cents per dozen, could be overcome, if the ovaries of the hen could be reached and stimulated to egg-producing activity. The experiment was crowned with success, and the chemical compounds deficient in the ovaries of the hens at this season are now very important components of Sheridan's Condition Powder to make hens lay. And with its aid some of our most successful egg-raisers believe it is as easy to obtain plenty of eggs in mid-winter as to raise early vegetables. Last December the poultry editor of the N. E. Farmer said to a subscriber: "The office of Sheridan's Condition Powder is to animate the ovaries. A hen to lay profitably must be in condition. I use Sheridan's Powder because I believe that hens can be made to lay even in winter by using it, and fully twice as much profit can be made in a year from a flock of fowls where it is used." Is not that good evidence? Then force your hens to laying now, or later you will reflect.

"How wise we are when the chance is gone,
And a glance we backward glance!
We know just the thing we should have done, When the time for doing it's past."

For 50 cents I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send two 25 cent packs; five packs for $1.00; or for $1.20, one large 2 1/2 pound can of Sheridan's Powder, postpaid; six cans for $5.00, express pre-paid.
The best poultry paper, Farm Poultry, one year and a can of Powder for $1.50. Sample copy of paper 5 cents.

"I USE Ayer's Cherry Pectoral freely in my practice, and recommend it in cases of whooping cough among children, having found it more certain to cure that troublesome disease than any other medicine I know of."
—So says Dr. Bartlett, of Concord, Mass.

WICKED HALIFAX.—The record of suicides in Halifax for the year 1889 is one of the darkest that city has ever had to show. Three persons took their life by hanging, two by shooting, one by drowning and another by throat cutting.

Mothers who have delicate children can see them daily improve and gain in flesh and strength by giving them that perfect food and medicine, Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites. Dr. W. A. Holbar, of Salisbury, Ill., says: "I have used Scott's Emulsion in cases of Scrofula and Debility.
Results most gratifying. My little patients take it with pleasure." Sold by all druggists, $5, and $1.00.
