CHARLOTTETOWN Business College

AND Writing Academy Will re-open for the Fall and Winter Term ON AUGUST 29th.

Let the Searchlight of Practical Illumination shine on the dark places of Theory

A THOROUGHLY Progressive, Practical Institution, in which young men and women are not only taught Bookkeeping (in all its applications to Commerce) both by single and double entry, but are trained how to do business by actual business transactions. The students act as buyers, sellers, traders, bankers, book-keepers and accountants in actual business operations, and the currency issued by the College Bank, and the mds. issued from the Emporium are used in business transactions, just the same as in mercantile and banking houses. Book-keeping in itself may be learned at home, but a knowledge of how to transact business cannot be thus acquired. That our course and system of teaching is eminently practical write for testimonials from business men and from students who are now holding lucrative and responsible positions.

SUBJECTS: Book-keeping by single and double entry (theoretical and practical) Actual Business Practice, Business Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Railroading, Steamboating, Banking, actual practice in the College Bank, Typewriting, Shorthand, and Navigation.

FACULTY: L. B. Miller, Principal, Teacher of Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Business Practice, Business Correspondence, Typewriting and Navigation. A. C. McMillan, Vice Principal, Teacher of Railroading, Steamboating, Banking, Accounting and Actual Business Practice. J. Harry Williams, teacher of Business Penmanship. Wm. Moran [license] Teacher of Shorthand. George S. Eiman, Esq., [Law Firm McDonald & Inman] Lecturer on Commercial Law.

WHAT SLIPPERS WILL DO.

Owners of Neatly Turned Ankles Warned to Beware of Them.

"I am afraid," said the girl, "that you'll have to set the buttons over a little." "Yes," assented the clerk. "I believe I will. You've worn slippers a great deal, haven't you?" "Certainly," she replied. "I thought so," he said. "Slippers make such large, knotty ankles." The girl blushed a little at the uncomplimentary allusion to that portion of her foot. "But everybody wants them," she argued.

"Yes, I know," he returned. "But nobody ought to. Slipper wearing, when indulged in to any great extent, spoils the shape of the foot. Slippers are worn for various reasons. Some women like them because they are comfortable, others because they imagine their feet look better in low, fancy shoes, and still others because they are convenient. The fact of the matter is slippers are not a bit more conducive to ease than high shoes, if the latter are selected judiciously. Indeed, they are less comfortable in the long run, for the woman who is addicted to slippers is bound to have swollen feet a good part of the time, and when she finds it necessary to wear high shoes the inconvenience greatly exceeds the pleasure she has previously derived from slippers. For that reason the beauty is purely imaginary, for there is nothing attractive in bulging, overgrown ankles.

"Convenience is the only good point that can be really urged in favor of slippers. The ankles need support, and if they don't get it they not only become deformed to a certain extent, but their strength is impaired."

"What about the people who go bare-foot or wear sandals all the time?" interposed the purchaser with a smile of satisfaction which seemed to imply that she thought she had him there.

"In that case," said the clerk, "the whole foot grows and is strengthened proportionately. But even in sandals you will notice that the straps always fasten tightly around the ankles, thus affording them more support than any other part of the foot. I have had immeasurable wrath called down upon my head for preaching an iconoclastic doctrine that dispels the illusions of a lifetime, but I know my duty to my customers and human kind in general and persevere in the right course in spite of all censure. Here, madam, are the shoes with the buttons set over. I will be frank with you and tell you that your foot will not look so well as it would were your ankles the normal size. I think you have grasped the gist of my discourse, which is, 'Don't wear slippers except at odd moments when in perfect repose. Slippers are the natural enemy of pretty ankles.'"—Chicago Times-Herald.

His Part in It.

As a well known London clergyman was recently ascending the steps to his church an old lady requested his help. With his usual courtly grace he gave the old woman his arm. On reaching the top step she halted breathlessly and asked him who was to preach.

"The Rev. Mr. —," he replied, giving his own name. "Oh, dear," exclaimed the lady, "help me down again! I'd rather listen to the endless grinding of a windmill. Help me down again. I'll not go in." The minister smiled and gently assisted her down, remarking as he parted with her, "I wouldn't go in either if I weren't the preacher."

Her Judgment Sustained.

In a divorce case where there was evidence that the wife called her husband "an old fool" the court says, "The record sustains the wife's judgment."

And on another point also her conclusion was affirmed. She told him she would have been foolish to have married a man of his age who had no money, and the court says, "Again we think her judgment was correct."—Case and Comment.

Earthquake Travels.

The course which an earthquake runs is usually very rapid. The rumbling earth sound travels at the rate of about 10,000 to 11,000 feet per second and the earth wave on an average about 1,200 feet in the same space of time.

Weary of Experimenting

TANSTEAD JUNCTION, P. Q., 12th Aug. 1893.

MESSRS C C RICHARDS & Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I fell from the bridge leading from a platform to a loaded car while assisting my men in unloading a load of grain. The bridge went down as well as the load on my back, and I struck on the ends of the sleepers, causing a serious injury to my leg. Only for its being very fleshy, would have broken it. In an hour could not walk a step. Commenced using MINARD'S LINIMENT, and the third day went to Montreal on business and got about well by the use of a cane. I can sincerely recommend it as the best liniment that I know of in use.

Yours truly, C. H. GORDON.

Farm For Sale

That well known and valuable freehold farm, lately the property of Edward Mullen, and now of James L. Mullen, Covehead Road, Lot 34, is offered for sale. It contains 170 acres of first class land, mostly cleared and in good condition. There are a few acres of fine timber suitable for scantling and fencing and some hardwood. On it are a well built and comfortable residence, barns, granary and hay house. It is well adapted for a pasture farm; is almost alongside of church and school, and nine miles from the city.

If not disposed of by private sale before the second day of November next, 1899, it will be sold at auction on that date.

Farm produce, stock, implements and household furniture will be sold at the same time. For terms of sale and particulars apply to

No More War

Swords will be beaten into plough shares later on; but farmers do not need to wait till the "Peace Conference" is over, before buying their plough shares, as they can do so at once, by calling at the Masonic Temple Store, where the share, or other plough extras can be had for less money, and better than any imported. Prove this at once, by trying them.
