INTERIM REPORT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

We Were There

THIS YEAR we were at the CNE Stadium in Toronto when British Columbia Lions upset the wise guys by winning The Grey Cup from Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Probably we were supposed to come back from the Queen City and tell everybody how thrilled we were to have sat in on this great football spectacle. However, we were very disappointed with the whole show and have no desire to see one again. Perhaps it's because we are getting old and cranky. At any rate, we'll gladly settle for a living room seat for the next one.

We found that we couldn't follow the play nearly as well as we could on television. Frantically we kept thumbing our program, checking numbers. While we engaged in this practice, we missed a great part of the play, something that just wouldn't happen had we been watching at home.

The rain blowing in from Lake Ontario, smashing us rather violently on the right side of the face, surely did nothing to increase our enthusiasm. The halftime show was probably of a very high order but it wasn't exactly the kind of an afternoon you wanted to sit leisurely about watching young artists perform.

GOING to and from the game was a real experience.

Taxis wouldn't venture near the place. You couldn't blame them because of traffic tieups. There wasn't any money to be made taking passengers to the CNE. So away you went on the crowded subway until you reached a bus leaving from the Royal York. Once on the bus, the 'fun' really started. About fifty more were on the vehicle than comfort demanded. You got walked on, jabbed with elbows and pushed to and fro with monotonous regularity. Some smart alecks, half slopped, went about proudly proclaiming they were really 'lit'. Women passengers received no preference whatever from the ignorant ones who treat The Grey Cup classic merely as a drunken brawl.

The bus crawled—and we mean crawled—to the Stadium and we were dropped about two city blocks from where our entrance gate was located. During the game folks kept walking back and forth, hindering a vision already badly blurred by rain.

Disregard For Authority

WHAT really threw us was the utter disregard for authority by some many young 'punks'.

Prime Minister Pearson was there to kick off and his presence was greeted with jeers and catcalls from these upstarts. You didn't have to openly profess your belief in Liberalism to know that the Prime Minister of Canada is entitled to respect. Mr. Pearson wasn't there as Liberal leader. He was there as our Prime Minister and surely Canadian pride is great enough to demand that his office be given the respect it deserves. Even during the playing of O Canada, some jerks were blowing trumpets in the stands. Just imagine what would happen in the United States if somebody carried on like this during the playing of The Starspangled Banner.

After the game there was destruction. We went to the Hockey Hall of Fame and while standing just outside its main entrance saw some brave youths endeavour to tear down the flag standards in front of this building. One about 30 feet high was broken at its base and came crashing down on top of a spectator's head.

First And Last

WE ARE not sorry we went to this game after all. We hadn't imagined that one of Canada's greatest sport spectacles could be such a shambles. We wouldn't have believed it unless we saw it ourselves. We came away feeling rather low about the entire show and wondering how long The Grey Cup spectacle can last with this kind of side attraction thrown in.

Yes, we've seen two Grey Cup contests in the flesh. Our first and last.

Chicago Bombs New York; Canadiens Nip Toronto

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks, mired in fifth place in the National Hockey League standings, broke a five game winless string Wednesday night with an impressive offensive and defensive show in whipping the New York Rangers 6-1.

Chicago, with substitute goalie Denis Dejordy in the nets, played a strong checking game and gave the fourth place Rangers very few good scoring chances Dejordy played in place of regular Glenn Hall, who is resting.

With Bobby Hull, the league's leading scorer with 30 goals, shadowed effectively, three Hawks who hadn't scored all season, paced the Chicago victory.

Rookie Fred Stanfield, defenceman Al MacNeil and Doug Mohns switched from defence to forward by Coach Billy Reay, all scored their first goals of the season.

The victory broke a Hawk winless skein that had stretched from Nov. 22. Chicago had lost four and tied one in that time. For the Rangers, it was their third loss in the last 10 games.

SCORED TWICE

Chicago scored twice in the second period and wrapped it up in the final session with four more.

Both teams clicked after Chicago's John MacKenzie went off for holding at 17:46 of the second period. Standfield, killing the penalty, picked up a pass from Pierre Pilote and beat Ranger goalie Marcel Paille with a slap shot from about 50 feet. It was the rookie's first NHL goal.

Rod Gilbert got that one back while MacKenzie was still sitting out his penalty. Just 30 seconds after Stanfield hit, Gilbert grabbed a rebound of Jim Neilson's shot and poked it behind Denis Dejordy.

Wharram broke the scoring ice at 5:07 of the middle session, beating Paille on a net backhander. Pilote had started the play with a 25 footer which Paille kicked away, but Wharram jumped on the rebound for his sixth goal of the year and first of two for the night.

MacNeil's 40 foot slap shot at 1:58 of the third period made it 5-1 and then Mohns hit at 7:11. MacKenzie at 15:32, and Wharram again at 19:00, wrapping it up. Hull had three assists and now has 29 points.

First period: No scoring.

MONTREAL 3 TORONTO 2

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal Canadiens held off a furious third-period come-back attempt by Toronto Maple Leafs to register a 3-2 National Hockey League victory before 14,176 fans here Wednesday night.

The triumph enabled Canadiens to snap a deadlock for second place with the Leafs and gave the visitors 27 points, one back of the idle Detroit Red Wings.

Claude Provost, Dave Balon and Gilles Tremblay handled the scoring for Canadiens. Ron Stewart and Don McKenney counted for the Leafs.

Montreal took a 2-1 lead at the end of the first, moved in front by a 3-1 score then held the leafs to a lone goal in the final frame.

Goalie Charlie Hodge was particularly brilliant in the second period when he was called on to turn aside several Leaf rushes. At one point he stopped four successive drives with three Toronto forwards perched in front of the net.

Toronto netminder Terry Sawchuk, who made 22 saves compared with 25 by Hodge, was steady throughout the contest and came up with several key stops.

The game saw the return of Frank Mahovlich to the Leaf lineup after an absence of 11 games due to a mysterious ailment. Although he failed to pick up any points, the Big M worked hard.

Manager-coach Punch Imlach inserted Mahovlich at left wing on alternate shifts and the Leaf forward responded with a few spectacular rushes.

The visitors opened scoring at the 4:54 mark of the first period with Provost notching his ninth of the year. Centre Henry Richard fired a pass out from the left corner and Provost, parked in front of the net, shoved the puck past Sawchuk.

Leafs were pressing in the Canadiens' zone for the early part of the period, but couldn't get past Hodge. Both clubs handed out solid checks and it looked as if there would be fisticuffs on several occasions.

FIRST PERIOD—1. Montreal Provost 9 (Richard, Balon) 4:54 2. Montreal, Balon 6 (Richard, Harris) 11:04; 3. Toronto, Stewaart 8 (Baun, Brewer) 15:30

Combes Add Strength

We started the season fearing that the Enman Drug Combines would be a bit too strong for the rest of the league. Luckily, this fear was groundless, but the Combine team is getting stronger, so watch out. They've added Dennis Clow who stiffened the defence somewhat, and Claude Gaudet, whose play was surprisingly good for his first game of the year. Claude, like his kid brother Alan, can dump a lot of rubber into a net if the breaks are going for him. Then there are Vance Harris and Ron MacArthur who may later join the team. In the words of the song, this may be the start of something big. Dave MacPhee, hero ther of Doug, known Maritime hockeyist, scored his first goal for the Combines last Friday night, and seems to be getting

League Is Balanced

League balance in the P.C.H.L. looks healthier than it did two weeks ago. In their last two games the RCAF Eagles lost one, and won the other 5-4 after a hard struggle. If it wasn't for our Juniors the league would now look very closely knit. But the Legionnaires seem a notch or two behind the other three teams. We say this in the hope that the Juniors will regard it as an insult, get leaning mad, and jam those words down our throat. Go ahead. We double dare you.

Dale MacWilliams and Charlie Sark must have added some defensive strength to the Borden Nationals, though both were a little too chummy with the penalty timer. Steve Philips joined the RCAF team and scored one of the goals. He should help the airforce boys a lot.

In speaking about certain hockey or baseball players, you've often heard it said: 'As Brown goes, so goes the Crescents." In other words, Brown's doing well seems to lift the whole team, and if Brown slumps, the whole team slumps with him. Bobby Hull doesn't seem to be that kind of leader. He's having his best years and the Black Hawks as a whole are doing very poorly. Do you suppose they're getting sick of playing in the shadow of the great Mr. Hull? They may have a "whats the use" attitude. No matter how well we do. Hull is still the bright shining star. They used to say that Ted Williams and his superstar standing had that effect on the Red Sox.
