

SUCCESSFUL CLINIC FOR RCAF

The second Red Cross blood donor clinic for 1958 was held at RCAF Station, Summerside on Wednesday. There had been 241 names submitted to the co-ordinator F/O Gen Monty of which 187 presented themselves at the clinic as donors. Miss Eleanor

THE WEEK AT S.D.U.

Debating Is Off To Good Start At St. Dunstan's

Sunday evening, Miss Margaret Hagen and Miss Francis Doiron, the first team of debaters from S. D. U. in the Maritime Inter-collegiate Debating League, Women's division, upheld the affirmative of the resolution, "Resolved that the impact of the mass media of communication today is more beneficial than detrimental to human happiness." This was the first debate of the year and was against Mount St. Bernard's College, last year's champions.

Mount St. Bernard's team showed polish and experience, both during their main speeches and during the rebuttal. Their vocabulary was very extensive, to say the least, and the many quotations they used showed the fruits of much research and vast preparation.

St. Dunstan's team proved their mettle by sticking to their guns throughout the debate and several good points were made and a few more presented in rebuttal. Both Miss Hagen and Miss Doiron appeared "calm, cool, and collected" behind the lectern, and their deliveries were very well given. Miss Mary Elaine Trainor, quite a debator in her own right, chaired the session.

This is the first year St. Dunstan's has entered the Women's division of this league. "Several resolutions in the constitution have been made to accommodate the girls and, if what we saw Sunday evening is any indication, the girls, coached by Dr. Brendan O'Grady, will soon be bringing home the championships like Fr. Cass' male crews have been doing in years past. Best of luck, girls, in your new field of endeavour.

Fr. Fred Cass, moderator of the St. Dunstan's branch of the M.I.D.L., has chosen his three debaters in M.I.D.L. competition this year. With the conclusion of the trial debates, the following three teams have been chosen: William Kelly and Daniel O'Hanley will travel to Mount Allison, while Robert Fearon and Richard Flemming will meet Acadia here at S.D.U. Bob Doyle and Charlie Daly will represent St. Dunstan's in the final debate at Halifax against St. Mary's.

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC

Again this year, as has happened for the last several years, the lads and lassies from the halls of St. Dunstan's have given generously to the Red Cross Blood Donor Service, which held a blood clinic in the Alumni gym on Monday morning, Dec. 1. Class competition and rivalry began as soon as the announcement of the clinic was made. The Junior class issued a well worded challenge, on a percentage basis, to the Seniors, who promptly accepted and included all other classes in the acceptance which they posted, urging all to part with "a pint or so of red stuff."

Surely the Seniors must have been very secure in their stand, as they turned out Monday morning as a complete unit, by complete unit we mean 100 per cent — and so won the honors of the day. The Juniors had a turn out of 95 per cent and the overall attendance was 83 per cent.

It speaks well of the Saints, especially the Seniors, that they so whole heartedly "turned out" to aid their fellow men in a truly worthy cause. As one timid Freshman later admitted, "It never hurt a bit and I felt fine. That lunch was good, too." The Saints really combined in a joint effort to show at least one of their University colors—RED.

Have you noticed the nip in the air lately? That's a sure sign the hockey season is not too far away. About a week ago, the Summerside Aces, layed the Junior Canadians in an exhibition contest, but, as yet, we have had no games in this area. Hockey in and around Charlottetown, and at the University, seems to center around a five team loop which has been recently formed. The Saints make up one of these five teams.

Coach A. J. MacAdam held a meeting last week of all those interested in playing this season, but it's too early to make any comments on this year's squad. Christmas holidays prevent us from getting a glimpse of them in action until January, although, according to rumor, coach MacAdam may stage a pre-Christmas practice session to take stock of his squad for the coming sea-

Letters of congratulations and sincere "Thank you" notes have been arriving at St. Dunstan's from various sources following the regional conference held here two weeks ago. Miss Olga Dowling is being widely congratulated upon her election as regional chairman. Hon. Heath Macquarrie, far off at the United Nations in New York, took a few minutes of his valuable time to send his best wishes to the newly elected Miss Dowling.

BOWLING

Every Saturday afternoon, the Rollaway Club in Charlottetown is invaded by ten bowling teams from St. Dunstan's, and the Red and White reigns supreme as they battle for first position in the University Bowling League. Interest remains as keen as it ever was last year, and this only adds to the fun and exercise which all enjoy. At present, John Whelan holds the high single while the high three has not as yet been attributed to anyone. The league standings are posted each week by Chas Hickey, the secretary, and soon we will be able to determine the strongest teams.

INTER-MUCAL SPORTS

Wednesday evening saw the Junior Science and Engineering Basketball team tangle with the Junior Arts and Commerce in their second game of a two game total point semi-final series to determine a finalist. The former team won the first tussle by five points and were heavy favourites to take the second. This they did with a score of 32-31 and took the series by 6 points, so earning the right to advance against the winner of the semi-finals still taking place between the two Freshman teams. Freshman Science and Engineering lead the Arts and Commerce by nearly 20 points and should emerge the victors. The finals should get under way on Sunday and we might see three very good games, if they are played in the same manner in which the semi-finals were played.

Extracurricular activity at St. Dunstan's has diminished quite a bit in proportion to what it was two or three weeks ago. This is a direct result of the closeness of the final examinations which begin Saturday morning, that's today. The majority of the students are finished before December 18, the date of the last exam, but there are always the few who must remain until the very end. St. Dunstan's will be rather quiet when all the lads go home for the holidays, and the faculty will have a chance for a well earned rest.

Until next week then, goodbye from the Saints, who wish you every success in your undertakings and urge you to remember the true Christian conception of Christmas in the coming festive season.

Junior League To Aid Charities

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior League of the Charlottetown Hospital was held on Tuesday in the nurses residence with 22 members present.

In the absence of the president the meeting was opened with prayer by the first vice-president Mrs. C. R. MacQuaid.

The treasurer, Mrs. Frances Christopher gave her report.

Mrs. Ivan Laurie, the corresponding secretary read correspondence received.

Mrs. Reginald Mahar reported for the magazines and named Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. Louis Doyle to take care of the magazines for the month of December.

It was passed at this meeting that the usual Christmas donations be given the different charitable organizations.

Officers Named By Orangemen

BEDEQUE — King Hiram, R. B.P. held his monthly meeting in the Orange Lodge room at Central Bedeque recently.

A new candidate was initiated into the First Degree of the Order. A letter was read from Health MacQuarrie, M. P., expressing his regret that he and Mrs. MacQuarrie were unable to attend recent festivities of the order due to his parliamentary duties necessitating his absence from the province at the time.

This being the annual meeting W. P. Sir Knight Cyril MacFarlane, on retiring from his office stated that he had not missed a meeting during his nine years in the chair and that the year just concluded had been the most enthusiastic with most degrees conferred.

He congratulated Alexander Dawson and Cook Howatt, who with less than two years affiliation with the order have memorized all the degree lectures from the Black to Red Cross inclusive.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. P. Lloyd Affleck; D.P., Gilbert Bell; Chap., Alexander B. MacFarlane; Registrar and treasurer, T. J. Nman; financial registrar, P.M. MacCaul; 1st. lecturer, Alexander A. Dawson; 2nd. lecturer, Cook Howatt; 1st. censor, Russell Bell; 2nd. Censor, Charles Henderson; 1st. standard bearer, Arnett Bell; 2nd. standard bearer, Cyril MacFarlane; pursuivant, Frank Howatt; Tyler, Wilfred MacDonald.

Committee: William B. Montgomery, Heath Macquarrie, M. P., Lemuel A. Burleigh, A. S. Johnson, and James Higgins.

Brief addresses were then given by the new members and the newly elected officers, the installation of officers to take place at the December meeting.

Maritime Chick Breeders Win Honours At Egg Test

Maritime Poultry Breeders have proved themselves in the third central egg production test recently completed at Ottawa, Ont.

In an official test, their birds have proved their profit potential in that they showed a net revenue per chick started of $2.20 to $2.84. In an official contest which included 32 entries which came from all over Canada and the United States and which included stock from the best breeders on the continent including high lines, Maritime breeders stood third, fifth, eighth, 11th and 13th.

Maritime entries showed up exceptionally well in the livability factor. In fact, in one entry, there were no losses after the seventh day.

The testing of these birds extends from the breeders' home plant to the official random sample central production test at Ottawa where Maritime breeders forward their top strains of poultry for testing or assessing the factors or characteristics carried for economic production as against other Canadian and United States stock.

Building a better egg laying strain has been the aim of Maritime poultry breeders over the years, and in the result of this official Canadian test, Maritime breeders have been repaid for their efforts in testing strains and strain crosses of poultry, exerting that strong selection pressure which brings out those factors which go towards economic production as evidenced by the net revenue secured per chick started in the central production test.

All profits from the Maritimes showed a profit higher than the average for the test. To the commercial chick buyer this indicates that the quality of chicks produced in the Maritime Provinces are as good a profit potential as the best birds produced elsewhere.

At the central test birds are assessed on the following economical factors: (1) Egg production; (2) egg size percent Large; (3) percent livability; (4) pounds of feed consumed per dozen eggs produced; (5) net revenue per chick started.

Maritime entries at the central test, in alphabetical order were as follows: Norman Clark, Lone Pine Farm, Berwick, N. S.; H. R. Clark, Burrits Corner, N.B., C and M. Ellis, Port Williams, N.S.; W. J. MacDonald and Son, Covehead, P.E.I.; Ralph Raynor, Mount Herbert, P.E.I.

The Mooses Are Honored

A miscellaneous shower was held on November 21st, 1958, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moase, New Annan in honor of their son Wendell and his bride the former Geraldine Woodside of Clinton.

The guests of honor were escorted to a prettily decorated seat by Mrs. Kenneth Simmons and Mr. Clarence Moase, while Miss Olive Dalzell played "Here Comes The Bride".

After the bridal party were seated Marilyn, charming little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thompson presented the bride with a bouquet.

Baskets of nice and useful gifts were carried in by Garth Thompson and Roy Moase while the following, read the accompanying verses and arrange of the future will be able to Charles Waugh, Mrs. Verson Miller, Mrs. Ian McMurdo, Miss Catherine Poole, Thelma Moase and Gerrie Melanis.

Wendell on behalf of his bride and himself thanked one and all for the gifts and invited all to visit them at any time, following which all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

A delicious lunch was then served to over 100 people by the ladies of the district and others. Music for the evening was furnished by Olive Dalzell, Mrs. Ivan Bowness, Ivan Bowness, Walter Coakes and Walter Moase on the piano, guitar and accordion, which was much enjoyed. All departed for home wishing Wendell and Geraldine many years of happiness.
