The Little White King.

(For The Empire.)

The king in his carriage is riding by,
The little white king so fair;
Robed in ermine and crowned with gold—
Daintiest raiment his soft limbs unfold—
Claiming obedience of young and of old
With right imperial air.

The king in his carriage is riding by,
The little white king so sweet;
And his loyal subjects linger to trace
The winsome smile on the baby face,
While lamely they sue for his royal grace,
Who holds the world at his feet.

Make room, make room for the little white king,
The little white king so dear;
For we hear with his passing a flash of wings,
A far-off thrilling of sweet harp-strings,
And our hearts uplift to holier things,
While heaven itself seems near.

—FAITH FENSTON.

News Notes.

Japanese advices state that there is a movement on foot to plant a colony of Japanese in Mexico.

The gas company of Brantford have decided to introduce incandescent electric lighting in connection with their works.

While handling a rifle on Tuesday, Mrs. Allen Blake, of Lexington, Me., accidentally shot her little child, who bled to death.

Chinese advices state that there has been great gambling in silver in Hong Kong, and the Hong Kong and Shanghai banks are said to have made millions out of the deal.

It will be interesting to observe the outcome of the competition among architects for the erection of the Montreal board of trade building. All Canadian architects are being invited to compete for the preliminary designs of the building, the architects of the best three plans to receive $300 each. Five leading United States architects will also compete.

Despatches state that a party of Armenians and Druzes attacked the barracks at Silencia, Syria, and blew up a portion of the buildings. Forty Turkish soldiers were killed. The Armenians then invaded the Government buildings, killed the governor, and robbed the treasury of all its contents. From there they proceeded to the prison, which they carried by storm, liberating all the prisoners.

The damage by floods in Virginia will probably reach $400,000. Reports of great damages come from the valley of every stream emptying into the Ohio between Stubenville and Parkersburg. One death is reported—William Winters, of Vista, Marshall County. In one county alone eight bridges were carried away.

Railroad traffic is at a standstill. Ten dwelling houses passed Grantsville up to noon Tuesday.

The Vancouver Telegram boasts of the great crops harvested by the farmers in that province, and for which they receive high prices. Hay is selling for $16 per ton; oats, $30 per ton; potatoes, $15 per ton; butter, 22 to 24 cents per lb.; hams, 17 to 18 cents per lb.; eggs, 25 to 40 cents per dozen; plums, $1.50 per box; beef, 12 to 18 cents per pound; milk, at 10 cents per quart, and so on of other things.

Mail advices from Grenada, Nicaragua, report a terrible state of affairs there on account of earthquake shocks, which began September 11, and continued with greater or less violence or frequency for over two days. The losses reached $200,000. About three-fourths of the inhabitants left the place and the whole city was in a panic for two days. Aid was sent to the afflicted people by the Government and citizens from all parts of the Republic.

Sarsen, the astronomer, proposes an observatory on Mont Blanc, at the Chalet des Bosses, within two hours distance of the summit of the mountain, and 4,400 metres above the sea. He thinks an observatory at this point would be more productive of scientific results than any other now existing in Europe. Canada's turn for mountain observatories will come after a while. There are localities in the Rockies and Selkirk where the cloudlessness and purity of the air favor telescopic work more than in any part of Europe. Of course some railway magnate or some other wealthy man will be the founder.

"Old Gold."

The Rev. W. W. Brewer lectured in the Methodist Church, Souris, on Tuesday evening last. Rev. J. Goldsmith occupied the chair. Subject of lecture, "Old Gold." The lecturer began his discourse by glancing at the so-called good old times when it was lawful to burn witches and to hang them. For his part he was glad he was not born then. If he had had the planning of it himself, he would not have selected any other time than the date of his birth for his arrival in this world. Some might long for the old times—the present suited him all right, and is far preferable to the past. He then introduced a variety of proverbs, Scotch, English and Italian, commented upon the truthfulness, as well as the absurdity, of some of them, giving a humorous turn to each that excited laughter among the gravest of his hearers.

Mr. Brewer takes high rank as a popular lecturer. Of fluent and forcible address, with good physique and Shakespearian appearance, he commands the closest attention of his audience from beginning to close. The proceeds of this "Old Gold" lecture go towards the funds of the Souris Methodist Church. By the way, we may as well say here that the Methodists of that town have recently been renovating and improving the interior of their Church. A new platform for the choir on either side, with a communion rail in front of the pulpit have been erected. This, together with new matting for the aisle (the gift of a young merchant of the place) along with other improvements, make the church look quite cosy and respectable.

THE LADY FRANKLIN FLOATED.—A St. Ann's, C. B., despatch says that the schr. Lady Franklin has floated from where she was ashore at South Gut. She sustained little or no damage.

Dyspeptic.—Is not a palliative, but a cure; it first relieves, then controls, and finally entirely subdues the irritation and inflammation of the stomach that causes indigestion and dyspepsia.

HAS LEFT THE CITY.—Mr. A. M. Macrae, Secretary-Treasurer of the Security Loan and Savings Co., of St. Catherine's Ont., has left the city and an examination of his books show that he is a defaulter to the extent of $25,000.

THE OLDEST MASON.—Robert Sellers, said to have been the oldest Freemason in Canada, died at Kingston, Ont., on the 14th inst., at the age of 99 years and 10 months. He was born in Fort Frontenac in 1790, and was made a mason in the ancient St. John's Lodge, in 1890.

HORSES AND LAMBS.—The Journal says: On Tuesday morning Mr. C. A. McNutt, of Kensington, shipped 196 lambs from Summerside by the Princess, for Messrs. James A. Leaman & Co., of Halifax. Mr. David Keeffe shipped 196 sheep and lambs, and Mr. J. O'Brien 137, to St. John, on Wednesday morning. Seven horses were shipped on the same boat by different parties.

ANOTHER LABEL SUIT.—Notice has been served on the Toronto Globe of a suit for damages to be entered against it on behalf of Grosvenor Hood Graeme, a young Englishman whose name figured in an article the Globe published in which Birchall was alleged to have endeavored to implicate him in the murder of Benwall. Damages have been placed at $50,000. Graeme is the son and brother of an English Baronet, but is working here as the driver of a delivery wagon.

LIGHTING SYDNEY MINES.—The Amherst Gazette says that the Canada Electric Co. has just been awarded a contract for lighting the coal mines near North Sydney with the incandescent system. The company is to put in 25 lights, some of which will be 800 feet underground. This is a new departure in coal mining and will be a great improvement on the old methods affording absolute safety from fire damp, and giving the miners a much better light to work by than formerly. Sydney Mines therefore will be the first mine lighted with electricity in Nova Scotia. The same company has the lighting of North Sydney. The building is now being built up for that purpose.

THEY'RE SORRY NOW.—Many people who were induced to give up their homes and business in the Dominion for the purpose of settling in California, would be glad to be restored to their former circumstances. They have found that life on the Pacific Slope is not all that it was represented. A correspondent of an American paper says of the New Englanders settled in one section of California: "They dress well, but the poor stomach has to suffer. A roast of beef is only set on the table on great occasions, and the banquet is referred to with awe for months afterwards. It is a mark in the course of time. One hears that such and such an occurrence took place five weeks after we had the roast. Priscilla Longbone died just ten days before we had the roast, or Ebenezer Scroggins proposed to Jane the day after we had the roast."

More Sheep.

Comparatively few farms are well-stocked with sheep. To be sure, the price of wool has fallen in the last few years, but not altogether out of proportion with other farm products. Wool growing may not be as profitable now as it was for a few years after the war, but the mutton market is excellent. There are several reasons why farmers, and especially those up on light soils, should keep sheep. No other animal requires so little care, or returns so much for the little food consumed. No other stock is so easy on land or so beneficial in subduing rough soils. Many a partially run-out field has been brought into good condition by pasturing with sheep for a few years. The cost of stabling sheep is light, as they only need shelter from storms, such as good sheds and straw covered pens afford. They will get along with very little hay if they have a strawstack too and are given a moderate feed of grain through the winter. The wool is a source of revenue at a time when the farmer is most in need of money for summer expenses. And wool can be held for higher prices without loss for storing. The old rule of letting out sheep to double every four years, would indicate the large profits of the business. No other stock seems to increase so fast, with so little demand upon the resources of the farm.
