

Mikado Plays To Overflow Second Night Crowd

Unstinted applause mingled with ejaculations of pleasure punctuated the high-light songs and scenes presented at the Prince of Wales College Auditorium last night, when the Mikado Chorus appeared for the second time in "The Mikado" under the direction of E. Lillian MacKenzie, Mus. Bac. More than 200 patrons who sought admission had to defer their attendance until the final performance tonight, owing to the overflow attendance.

The principals, ably supported by the 44 members of the Chorus as Japanese school girls, 12 young men as the chorus of nobles and the six guards and coolies, repeated the hit of the first night and confirmed the assertion that Miss MacKenzie had done a splendid job in training the students.

A pleasing feature of the opening performance was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Miss MacKenzie by His Honour Lieut. Governor Prowse which was followed by an additional gesture of appreciation last night when Douglas Cudmore, President of the Students Council, made a similar presentation to Miss MacKenzie on behalf of the organization.

Mental Health Director Is Dinner Speaker

"For the last five years the treatment for emotional invalids available at Falconwood Hospital equals that of any hospital on the North American continent," Dr. A. A. MacVicar, a Director of the Mental Health Clinic under the Provincial Department of Health said at a dinner meeting last night. The Doctor, who was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of St. Paul's Laymen's Association, at which the members of St. Paul's Laymen's Association were guests, described several causes of the emotional upset which particularly affects those who are ordinarily nervous.

"Persons grow up wrong physically and also emotionally," Dr. MacVicar said. "Children react to their surroundings and background before they know where they come from. This sets their attitude towards the whole world. A harsh unforgiving, cruel cold father leaves a child so disturbed that he is unable to think right and feel right about people." A difficult part of psychiatric treatment is to break down barriers which exist between actual facts and the feelings of such patients.

"In a home where nobody is firm, where a continual bombardment of irritating things dominate, children are adversely affected. If they were brought up under rigorous rules and at one time had faith, which can be restored, they get well and remain as well as anyone else," the Doctor said. "A patient who has had no Christian upbringing is very hard to treat. We try to build up their faith, have them stand on their own feet and turn to religion," he said.

In extending a vote of thanks, Rev. Canon E. M. Malone said he was aware to some extent of the needs being done for people who need it, by psychiatry. "It is a great work for humanity with a religious background, to improve mental and spiritual health."

The guests were welcomed by G. S. M. Larter, President of the Association who also introduced the guest speaker. Reports carried here by the members of St. Paul's Association were expressed on their behalf by Dr. Frank Jelks, and supported by Rev. Canon J. T. Ibbot who also invoked the blessing. The closing prayer was by Rev. Canon G. E. Moffatt.

The delightful dinner arrangements were by the Evening Branch of the W. A. under their President, Mrs. H. S. MacPherson.

CAUSEWAY

He spoke specifically of Whitlock's pond and several others at Dundas and St. Charles.

He spoke also of Harvey Moore's bird sanctuary at Milltown and thought that Mr. Moore should get some kind of a worthwhile grant to help defray the expense of feeding the birds that come to this sanctuary. He said that already Mr. Moore had become almost as famous as Jack Miner.

VEGETABLES
Mr. Saville deplored the fact that so many vegetables have to be imported into the Province. He said he saw carrots from Texas in some of the stores and could not understand why Island growers could not produce just as good vegetables as those grown in the States.

He recalled that a number of years ago one farmer grew five acres of carrots which he sold in Souris for 25 cents a bushel. He looked back to the days when every schooner leaving the Island would have a cargo partially made up of Island vegetables. "It is beyond question that our dored Thing," Alfred Neuman. WANT PROVINCES BACK SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The International control commission in Laos has requested the return of the two Communist-dominated northern provinces of Phong Saly and Sam Neau to the royal government. Reports carried here Wednesday in the official Viet Nam Presse said the Pathet Lao, who have held the provinces since the signing of the Geneva Accords in 1954, have persistently refused to yield control of the area to the royal government.

"This is a wedge that may seem unimportant but I want to remind this House that many nations are in bondage today because they frittered away their liberties," said Hon. Dougald MacKinnon discussing an Act to amend the Teachers' Federation Act, which was agreed to in the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. Fred Large, who promoted the Bill, said that it had been agreed to on Second reading last week but had been brought back into committee at the request of Mr. MacKinnon who was out of the House at the time the bill was under consideration.

Mr. Forrest Phillips was chairman while the House was in committee on the bill.

Mr. MacKinnon said he had been accused of being unfriendly to the teaching profession, "Nothing is further from the truth. When this bill came into this House in the first place it was not in this form and why this House should legislate the freedom of anyone is more than I can understand," he said.

H. BENNETT CARR

Must Be Popular

Mr. Prosper A. Arsenault said that only four teachers out of 700 have asked to withdraw from the Federation so it must be popular with them. They give guidance and help to the teachers by bringing outstanding speakers from outside the Province and if there is anyone who would benefit from this it would be the permit teacher.

"We should not do anything that would impede their progress. It stands for the general good of education in the Province and for the good of the children as a whole."

Mr. Arsenault reminded the ment of education in this Province. If every farmer would become a member of the Federation of Agriculture it would be a good thing but would you expect us to pass legislation that would compel them to belong?"

NOT COERCION
Mr. Large said it was not a question of coercion. He said it allowed a teacher to give notice before the first of October whether or not she wished. "The Act has been in force for the past 11 years and has not resulted in any injustices," he added.

Mr. Baker asked the promoter of the bill whether teachers got any time off to attend conventions. He understood from an ex-teacher that the only reason he joined was to get three days off with pay.

Mr. Large said that teachers got paid for attending the conventions.

Fred Ramsay said he felt the Teachers' Federation is advancing the cause of education in the Province. "If there is any compulsion in the bill it is only gentle." He thought farmers would do well to take a leaf out of the teacher's book in this connection.

FUTURE MEMBERS
Mr. Arsenault said, "In a few years hence the ones who will be filling the seats in this House will be the children who are now going to school. As members of this Legislature we should support the teachers for I believe, in general, they are doing a good job. I cannot see anything in this amendment that will injure any teacher. On the other hand it gives her an opportunity to disassociate herself from the organization before the first of October whereas she had to wait until the end of the school year."

Hon. Keir Clark supported the Teacher's Federation in the amendment. He said the Department was right in assuming that permit teachers were eligible to pay the dues to the Federation as well as licensed teachers. He pointed out that if permit teachers were made ineligible to join the Federation it would mean 120 less membership which could seriously handicap the organization in its program.

Mr. William A. Acorn suggested that when each teacher started at the beginning of the school year and was handed a membership card he or she would have the opportunity of returning the card which would be an indication they did not wish to belong. The bill passed without amendment.

House that while children are the country's greatest asset they are also the country's greatest responsibility, "and we must see to it that we have responsible people guiding them," he added.

The member from First Prince felt that the people as a whole were not fully behind the teacher as they should be. "They say, 'this is a government responsibility', but teachers will never get the support of the Government until they have the support of the people in the district," said the speaker.
