PATRIOT'S HEART

IN SAFE KEEPING.

AT OCCASION OF CEREMONY.

Tomb of Kosciuszko Removed to the Famous Polish Museum at Rapperswyll.

One day last week the heart of the patriot Kosciuszko, which had been transferred from the chapel in Vezio, near Lugano, was formally presented to the Polish Museum, in Rapperswyll, on Lake Zurich.

The museum is unique, and it is in many ways one of the most interesting of all the depositories of patriotic relics. Founded by Count Stanislas Plater, an exile from the country which he loved, it stands to-day as an eloquent protest against a historical injury. Mere accident brought the Count to the little commune of Rapperswyll, on the Lake Zurich. He was struck by the picturesque appearance of an old castle—an ancient seat of Counts of Hapsburg—which overlooked the waters, and determined to devote the remains of his great fortune to rehabilitating the ruins and turning them into a monument for the preservation of Polish relics.

To describe in detail the priceless treasures of the Polish Museum would be an impossible and an unprofitable attempt. It will suffice to mention that the collections fill the three floors of the castle, and comprise some six centuries of the history of Poland. There is a library of some 80,000 volumes, a wonderful cabinet of coins and medals, and a collection of historical objects of the early Polish kings, of Kopernik, Sienicki, Poniatowski, Mickiewicz, Chopin; flags and standards in glorious and eloquent tatters, and a remarkable gallery of modern works of art by Polish artists, such as Lenartowicz, Simiradzki, Chybiński, and others.

It was through the influence of the latter that the heart of Kosciuszko was obtained. The hero's body lies buried at Cracow; his heart was handed over to the friend of his declining years, M. de Zeltner, and later passed, a revered heirloom, into the noble house of Morosini, on the occasion of the marriage of Kosciuszko's goddaughter, Mlle. de Zeltner, to Count Morosini.

The heirs of the latter recognized that the relic could find no fitter resting place than in Rapperswyll Museum. A great ceremony greeted the occasion. Delegates from the Parliament of Galicia, including the President and principal authorities of Cracow; the Polish delegates from Posen, Prussia, and the United States were present. At the request of the patriot were delivered by Polish authors, and the whole affair went off in a blaze of glory.

In popular parlance, in poetry, and even in philosophy, the human heart has ever been deemed the seat of affection, of passion, of courage, and of science—even of life itself. Small wonder, therefore, that it has been considered as a votive gift peculiarly sacred. And this feeling has led to many instances of the burial of the heart of the patriot, and even of the scientist—even of life itself. Small wonder, therefore, that it has been considered as a votive gift peculiarly sacred. And this feeling has led to many instances of the burial of the heart of the patriot, and even of the scientist—even of life itself.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.
 "A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before we had half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever."
 FRANCIS J. THOMPSON, Peninsula Lake, Ontario. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPE'S COCOA

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

This is it.

This is the new shortening or cooking fat which is so fast taking the place of lard. It is an entirely new food product composed of clarified cotton seed oil and refined beef tallow. You can see that

Cottolene

Is clean, delicate, wholesome, appetizing, and economical—as far superior to lard as the electric light is to the tallow dip. It asks only a fair trial, and a fair trial will convince you of its value.

Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails, by all grocers
