

Odds and Ends.

A youth who was being reprimanded for playing ball on Sunday, was asked, "Do you know where those little boys go to play ball on Sunday?" He had not been sufficiently taught in regard to a future state, and replied, quite innocently, "Oh, yes,—some on 'em goes over to the river."

A Down-East girl being bantered one day by some of her female friends in regard to her lover, who had the misfortune to have but one leg, she replied to them smartly.

"Pooh, I wouldn't have a man with two legs—they're too common!"

"You have lost some of your friends, I see," said a traveller to a negro he had met on the road. "Yes, massa." "Was it a near or distant relative?" "Well, purty distant—bout twenty-four mile," was the reply.

"I am afraid you have a settled melancholy," said a land-lady to a cadaverous lodger. "No, madam," he replied; "my melancholy won't settle; like your coffee, it has too much grounds."

COULDN'T SPARE THE BLACKSMITH.—A blacksmith of a village in Spain murdered a man, and was condemned to be hanged. The chief peasants of the place joined together and begged the alcalde that the blacksmith might not suffer because he was necessary to the place, which could not do without a blacksmith to shoe horses, and mend wheels, etc. "But," the alcalde said "how then, can I fulfill justice?" A laborer answered, "Sir, there are two weavers in the village, and for so small a place one is enough; hang the other!"

CAST STEEL SOAP.—A cockney baronet sat near a gentleman at a civic dinner, who alluded to the excellency of the knives, adding that "articles manufactured from cast steel were of a very superior quality, such as razors, forks, &c." "Ah," replied the cockney baronet, "and soap, too—there's no soap like castile soap."

Some say the best way for a man to train up a child in the way it should go, is to travel that way occasionally himself.

One of Robert Hall's congregation took him to task for not preaching more frequently on predestination. Hall replied: "I perceive you are predestined to be an ass, and what is more, I see that you are determined to make your calling and election sure."

The more we fear crosses, the more reason have we to think that we need them. We ought to judge of the violence of our diseases by the remedies which our spiritual physician prescribes for us.

Why is a photograph album like the drainer of a bar counter? Because it is the receptacle for empty mugs.

A New Orleans gentleman calls the negro a remnant of the dark ages.

A young lady, who was asked to join the Good Templars, excused herself on the ground that she was already engaged to one of the Sons of Temperance.

When a lady indulges in a yawn or two, gentlemen are justified in guessing their hats are needed on their heads, and that the best side of the door is the outside.

Agriculture.

WOOD ASHES AS A FERTILIZER.

This is one of the most valuable fertilizers within reach of the farmers. The unleached article has the more potash, but the leached is thought to be quite as valuable. In leaching they shrink a good deal, and lime is usually added, which increases their value. They are generally sold, too, at a less price. Ashes are well suited to all farm crops, and are very beneficial in the fruit yard and orchard. Most farmers still sell wood in the cities and villages, and rather than go home empty, they should carry back ashes and other fertilizers, to replace the potash, lime, and phosphoric acid that have been carried off in the crops and animals sold. Ashes show immediate effects from their application, and at the same time last long in the soil. They are very highly appreciated in the onion growing districts, but may be applied with equal advantage to ordinary farm crops.—They should be kept as near the surface as possible, spread and harrowed into the seed bed, or applied directly to the growing crops. Make a business of saving, buying, and storing ashes, during the winter for the next season's operations.—American Agriculturist.

PORK AND BEANS.—The cheapest and most nutritious vegetable used for food is beans.—Prof. Liebig says that pork and beans from a compound of substances peculiarly adapted to furnish all that is necessary to support life. A quart of beans cost say 10 cents. This, as every housekeeper knows, will keep a small family for a day with good strengthening food. Four quarts of beans and two pounds of corned beef, boiled to rags, in 50 quarts of water, will furnish a good meal to 40 men at a cost of $1—two cents and a half meal.

CURE FOR EACRACHE.—Take a small piece of cotton batting or cotton wool, make a depression in the centre with the finger, and fill it up with as much ground pepper as will rest on a five cent piece; gather it into a ball and tie it up; dip the ball into sweet oil, and insert it in the ear, covering the latter with cotton wool, add use a bandage or cap to retain it in its place. Almost instant relief will be experienced and the application is so gentle that an infant will not be injured by it, but experience relief as well as adults.

TO STOP THE FLOW OF BLOOD.—Take the fine dust of tea and bind it close to the wound—at all times accessible and easy to be obtained.—After the blood has ceased to flow laudanum may be advantageous applied to the wound. Due regard to these instructions would save agitation of mind, and running for a surgeon, who probably would have no better prescription if he were present.

THE CHURCH UNION.

THIS Paper has been recently enlarged to mammoth proportions. It is the LARGEST RELIGIOUS PAPER in the WORLD. It is the leading organ of the Union Movement, and opposes ritualism, close communion, exclusiveness and church caste. It is the only paper that publishes HENRY WARD BEECHER'S Sermons, which it does every week, just as they are delivered,—without qualification or correction by him. It advocates universal suffrage; a union of christians at the polls; and the rights of labor. It has the best Agricultural Department of any paper in the world; publishes stories for the family, and for the destruction of social evils. Its editorial management is impartial; its writers and editors are from every branch of the church, and from every grade of society. It has been aptly termed the freest organ of thought in the world.

Such a paper, offering premiums of Sewing Machines, Dictionaries, Appleton's Cyclopaedia, Pianos, Organs for Churches, &c., makes one of the best papers for canvassers in the world.

Every congregation may obtain a Communion Service, an Organ, a Melodeon, a Bible, or a Life Insurance Policy for its Pastor, or almost any other useful thing, by a club of subscribers.

Send for a copy, enclosing 10 cents, to HENRY E. CHILD, 41 Park Row, New York.
