S'ide Policeman Victim Of Assault - A policeman's life is certainly not a happy one as was evidenced by an experience Cst. Harry MacKay of the Summerside Police Force last evening. About six o'clock Cst. MacKay picked up a drunk on Water Street and proceeded to escort him to the police station. The alleged drunk came along quietly and they started up Summer Street with MacKay holding his prisoner by the left arm. Suddenly the prisoner struck at the policeman with a hatchet which apparently had been hidden in his clothing, and hit him a glancing blow on the side of the head which slightly dazed him for a minute. However, he was able to knock the weapon from his assailant's hand and after a short scuffle, place the handcuffs on him. The blow caused him to bleed about the ear but apparently the damage was only superficial but it could have been serious.

Annual W.C.T.U. Convention Held The 26th annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held yesterday in the United Church, Bedeque. The meeting was opened with a beautiful devotional service, conducted by Mrs. Samuel Campbell of Charlottetown. Encouraging reports were given by the heads of the different departments, showing that much work had been accomplished along the different lines. Miss Norma MacFayden, one of the three successful competitors in the Essay Contest, read her essay and was awarded first prize. The special speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. R. C. Eaton, who gave a very informative and inspiring address. The following resolutions were brought in by the Resolutions Committee, and adopted unanimously: (1) That the thanks of this meeting be tendered to Mrs. R. C. Eaton for her inspiring and most encouraging address.

(2) That we also express our thanks to the Bedeque Congregation for the use of their church, and to the W. C. T. U. members for their kind hospitality and generous treat. (3) That we members of the W. C. T. U. do all we can to further the Temperance work. Having been reminded by our speaker of the important necessities in this work, therefore let it be resolved that we increase our efforts in these and other essential matters, relating to the progress of Temperance. (4) Believing that if all people in the Christian Church united in approving of and practicing total abstinence, the liquor problem would be on the way to being solved, resolved that we urge all church members to unite in taking this stand. The convener of the nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers, which was also approved: President, Mrs. J. A. Clark, Charlottetown. 1st vice-president, Mrs. Howard Schurman, Bedeque. 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Hazen Howard, Cornwall. Recording secretary, Mrs. George Jardine, Freetown. Theatre, Ladd creates a gunfighter that makes most Western characters look like wispy cap pistol artists, and according to advance reports, he sets a high mark for future film badmen to shoot at. Co-starring with Ladd are beautiful Mona Freeman and rugged Charles Bickford in this tale of a wandering desperado who tries to steal a cattle empire by impersonating the rancher's missing son. When the rancher's daughter tames this ruthless gunfighter, he sets off in search of the lost boy who is holed up in a Mexican bandit hideout. This sets off an adventure chain reaction that thunders across the Rio Grande and is said to leave the most hardened adventure fan limp and wilted.

Expect Little Loss In Grain Farmers who cut their grain a month ago and were forced to leave it in stook through the exceptionally rainy weather will not be as badly off as was at first feared. At least this is the opinion of two well known agriculturists. Both Mr. R. C. Parment, Experimental Farm, and Mr. J. Lincoln Dewar, secretary of the P. E. I. Federation of Agriculture, have given this as their opinion. They feel that there may be a slight loss in quality but little in quantity. There may be some discoloration and the general outlook is not quite as bright as it was last year.

Mr. Dewar stated that where threshing had begun the grain was good, but the straw was tough. Some of the grain may be of doubtful quality for seed purposes after such a long spell of wet weather while it was in stook. However, a few more warm dry days will make a tremendous difference. There is still a great deal of grain to be cut and it should show no loss in quality, Mr. Dewar states. An exception to that may be the occasional field where rust is showing. It is thought there will be little of that as most farmers do not now sow the old time varieties which were so subject to rust.

Mr. Dewar said the use of self-propelled combines was proving a great money and time saver to grain growers. One man with such a machine could do the work of eight or nine and this means a great difference in the farm wages he would have to pay and thus increases the profit on his grain. There are several such combines in operation here this season, although the exact number is not known. It is believed to be between six and twelve. Two of them are in use in the Montague and Murray River territory and another on the farm of Premier J. Walter Jones. One is being operated by Mr. Vincent White, Hunter River and another on the farm of Mr. A. A. Seales, Freetown.

In addition to the saving in labor through stooking and threshing there is also a considerable item in the saving on twine for binding as this latter alone is estimated to cost about one dollar per acre.

Strange But True The human brain is a marvelous machine. It never ceases working for us until we get up to make a speech. The Puritans practiced a most unique wedding custom in that the bride was married in the raw; in other cases she was allowed to wear a slimsy chemise. The custom grew out of the popular notion that a man could not be held responsible for debts contracted by his wife prior to her marriage, provided he received her property, including clothing. The blushing bride would modestly stand behind a curtain during the ceremony, extending her hand when the time came to receive the wedding ring. The custom of giving a "shower" for the bride dates back to the ancient Norsemen. The bride usually received livestock. If especially prominent, she was presented with a shield, sword and axe - so that she might, if necessary, defend herself from the blows of her lord and master. It is estimated that Canadian sawmills waste about 400 million cubic feet of wood every year. The sawdust from these sawmills could, if used for fuel, heat a city twice the size of Charlottetown. Goat's milk is like rich Jersey milk, naturally homogenized. It contains 16 elements in a fairly harmonious proportion required by the human body. Incidentally, lady bulls that causes our nostrils to shudder, especially during the breeding season. The Province of British Columbia has 22 breeders who are members of the Canadian Goat Society. Out of every 1,000 babies born in Canada, 44 do not live to reach their first birthday. No wonder doctors are saying that Canada isn't as healthy a place for babies as it should be. Lem from the Ill. A Jefferson City, Mo., paper reports: Columbia, Tenn., which calls itself the largest outdoor mule market in the world, held a parade recently, headed by the Governor. Charlottetown might do worse than post this sign which appears in a small Texas town: "20 minutes an hour or $100.00. That should be slow down motorists who are hell bent for heaven, eh?" In 1850 men and women of 65 and over made up only three percent of our population. Today they comprise seven percent. By 1960 their proportion will have risen to about eleven percent, all because science has handed us another 20 years of life. The $64 question coming up is what shall we do with the extra years. After all none of us is getting any younger. The department store of Stein's Philadelphia, actually used this ad: "Our buyer is stuck with a blonde that is a blonde suite. We've cut the price from $379 to $198. Can we stick you with it?" Poverty is largely a state of mind; and, considered in that
