2,000 Attend Hoedown At Sports Arena Here Last Night

Charlottetown's Sports Arena was the scene of a real old-fashioned country hoedown last night as the cream of Province's Fiddlers and dancers vied for the P.E.I. provincial championships.

For almost three hours the close to 2,000 fans who crowded into the arena's north end to witness the performance whooped it up cheering, stamping, and whistling as their favorite contestants appeared on the stage.

RETAIN TITLES

Retaining the titles they won last year, George and Marlene Weatherbie of Charlottetown emerged the winners of the fiddling and ladies step-dancing contests respectively. Charles O'Brien, Covehead Road, was declared the victor in the men's step-dancing division, but only after a dance-off with Gabriel Finnan of Summerside, who trailed him by just one point.

Other prize winners were as follows: ladies step dancing - second, Sheila Gauthier, Bristol, Lot 40; third, Myrtle Perry Kinkora; men's step-dancing - third Andrew Gallant Charlottetown; fiddling- second, Fred McCullough, Borden; third, Emmett Hughes, Dromore.

The contests included the two top winners in the recent county eliminations plus the winners of last years competitions. Andrew Perry last year's provincial male step-dancing champion did not appear.

TOP PRIZE

Top prize of the big show went to George Weatherbie who won an all-expense trip to Toronto where he will appear as a guest performer on the King Ganam TV production. This was made possible through the curtesy of the Robin Hood Flour Mills Ltd.

The large group of teen-agers present came into their own when the show's guest stars King Ganam and Tommy Hunter appeared. Their shouts and screams of delight almost brought the roof down.

The two talented TV artists delighted their down-east friends with their fiddling and singing specialties. Particularly well receved were King Ganam's version of "Orange Blossom Special" and Tommy Hunter's "Teenage Love."

During the intermission and at the intervals between the contests, the Island's own Don Messer and his TV orchestra played their special brand of old-time music to an appreciative audience.

The genial Mr. Chamberlain, singing his favorite Irish ballads, was recalled several times.

Mr. Daniel Birt, Mount Stewart, Mr. Reuben Tuplin, Summerside, and Mr. John McCormack Souris judged the three contests. Mr. Ches Cooper was master of ceremonies and the prizes were presented by Mr. Roy Smallman President of Alpha Y's Men, sponsors of the event.

Schools Will Be Adequate For Forseeable Future

With the nearing completion of the new high school on Longworth Avenue school overcrowding has been dealt with for the foreseeable future, according to Dr. R.G. Lea, chairman of the Charlottetown School Board. Dr. Lea spoke to the Centennial Y's Men's Club at their Wednesday night meeting.

Dr. Lea, who was introduced by Bruce Hodgins, stated that facilities will be inadequate until the new high school opens in the new year. After that there will be facilities to take care of a school population increasing at the present rate.

The speaker stated that the rate of drop-outs before completion of High School is greater in Prince Edward Island than in Canada as a whole. He suggested elective vocational training at the Grade Eight level.

Dr. Lea said that locally a considerable improvement had taken place in the educational situation over the past several years. He pointed to the excellent work being accomplished by Kenneth A. Parker, superintendent of city schools. He was of the opinion that with further administrative co-ordination and the increased facilities, the educational picture had much to commend it.

The chairmen for the meeting were Robert Giggey and Bruce Hodgins.

The club decided to hold its next regular meeting on Tuesday to receive Earl Beckley, Y.M.C.A. secretary of Tokyo, Japan, who will speak at a World Service dinner held in his honour.

Secretary Of Orange Grand Lodge Tells Of Development

Mr. Gordon Keyes, most worshipful grand secretary of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of British America on Tuesday evening addressed a large audience of Orange members both L.O.L. and L.O.B.A. at the Berthelier Lodge room on Green St. Summerside.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Brother MacLean, PWDGM Gordon Ross presided as chairman and gave a brief address of welcome to Brother Keyes.

In his address Brother Keyes spoke of the Order being on a great forward march to bigger and brighter days, of the influx of younger members and how the Order would have to modernize and streamline its thinking and actions to keep up with these new members. As an example of these ideas, he brought with him copies of the new, "Sentinel". This new type of paper is a credit to the Order, he said and is being placed in the hands of Clergyman and politicians across Canada to publicize the aims, objects and actions of the Order. He also dealt with various ways of improving the lodge meetings.

At the conclusion of his address, Brother Keyes presented Brother T.J. Inman, senior past grand master present with a long service pen.

RWGM Mary MacPhail, MWGD Rena MacCaull, Past Grand Masters Inman, MacPhail, MacCaull and MacEachern RW Grand Treasurer R.W. Betton, W.M. Ernest Moore and Brother Elmer MacLean also addressed the meeting on various matters of interest. After the chairman's final remarks thanking the speaker for his visit and inviting him back in the near future, the meeting closed with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" and "The Queen".

Lunch was served and an informal get together rounded out a very successful evening.

Brother Keyes left early Wednesday morning by air for Sydney on the next leg of a tour of lodges in N.S. and N.B.

Singing Is Service Feature

Congregational singing has been one of the highlights of evangelistic services currently being held in the North River United Baptist Church.

A well-filled church listened to Rev. Keith Hobson as he stressed the New Testament truth that there is no other way to Salvation except through Jesus Christ. Mr. Hobson said that Christ was made sin on our behalf and that he bore our sins to death on the Cross. On the Cross Christ was at the very heart of sin because he hung between two thieves. The speaker said that nowhere in the New Testament does it say anything about a reformation. When anyone accepts Christ as Saviour and Lord, he becomes a new creation.

The choir of the Long Creek Baptist Church accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Hector Currie, provided the music. A male chorus from Long Creek sang during the service.

Chief of Police MacArthur reports that a 14-year-old boy was taken into custody yesterday and after questioning admitted setting the fire which was discovered at 313 Kent Street on Monday. The boy was released to his home, the Chief said.

Chief MacArthur declined last night to say whether there was any connection between the fire on Kent Street and those started at Queen Square.

A note was left at the scene of the fire in both instances

At Central Christian Church last night Evangelist E.P. Benoit spoke on the subject "The Church That Christ Built," outlining his message in the following manner: the church as revealed through prophecy; as to how, when and where established; its name; its program of expansion.

In concluding his message Mr. Benoit emphasized that all those who believe the gospel and surrender their lives to Jesus Christ are added by Him to His body, the Church. The sequel to this message "What About The Other Churches" will be presented by Mr. Benoit this evening as the services continue.

Special music for the evening was provided by the choirs of Fredericton and Breadalbane Churches of Christ and by W.O. Weale, who led the congregation in singing.
