It's Hard To Win

THOSE Prince of Wales College hockey players must indeed be wondering just how you go about winning a hockey game in this Charlottetown District Junior League.

Three times since the new league got underway, the collegians have appeared at The Forum and have given a good account of themselves. Yet they haven't been able to garner a single point despite their fine output.

Their first outing was against St. Dunstan's Jayvees and the Welshmen on that occasion seemed to have victory all wrapped up. They surely had the Red and Whiters on the run as far along as the third period but just couldn't manage to stave off the Saints' great drive in the closing stages. The boys from out the road won that by a 10-9 score.

Next time it was North River that appeared as opponents for the city scholars. This time there seemed no doubt about the outcome as Welshmen led 9-4 in the third. It was a matter of playing out the remaining minutes. They played them out all right, North River scored six times and nipped Prince of Wales 10-9.

Came last Tuesday night and the show acted in reverse. The Billy Mulligan-coached lads couldn't get going early in the contest and trailed 5-1 after 20 minutes. They closed the gap to 8-5 after two and outscored their opponents 3-1 in the third but finished on the short end of a 9-8 score.

That's 28 goals in three contests and yet the record of the Welshmen is a dismal 0-3.

It's apparent that the Welshmen offence is working good enough for this league but the defence end needs a bit of perking up. If these winless collegians could cut down the output of the enemy, they'd start getting points when they appear at Bucko Trainor's ice palace.

Regardless, the Prince of Wales lads are giving fine entertainment in the loop and one of these nights the breaks will ride with them. To date, they haven't been the recipient of such breaks and their turn is overdue.

How about it, Welshmen?

PLAYOFF DATES for Maritime playdowns in all brackets will likely be released this weekend following the semi-annual meeting of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association in Moncton.

We don't know with certainty how folks registered until we get a look at secretary-registrar Hanson Dowell's lineup this weekend. However, we are taking it for granted that Sandy's Royals are registering Senior and Johnny's Flying Hawks, Summerside Combines and RCAF Eagles intermediate 'A'.

We understand that North River Juniors will register its junior club and of course, Summerside Legionaires, a definite threat for Maritime honors, will most certainly be in the junior fold. As usual there'll be plenty of juveniles, midgets and bantams entered from Prince Edward Island.

Charlottetown folks will get a preview tonight of intermediate 'A' competition when RCAF Eagles are guests of Johnny's Flying Hawks at The Forum. Both teams have strengthened greatly since they last faced each other, so there's no use trying to compare their abilities. You'll have to see them in action to do any judging.

Both these Hawks and Eagles have definite designs on the Maritime Intermediate 'A' crown but Summerside Combines could very easily clip the wings of both of them. However, you would not get Johnny or the Airmen to agree to this. Each of them maintain they are head for the crown.

So tonight you can get an idea of the strength of both Flying Hawks and Eagles. Each club will present its strongest lineup and a fast bruising battle can be expected.

Treat yourself to an evening of good hockey entertainment. Be at The Forum tonight at 8.15 when Eagles and Flying Hawks square off.

Strange Happenings

IT didn't look at all natural to see the results of basketball and hockey games involving St. FX teams Tuesday night.

The X-Men were trounced in their own backyard in hockey by UNB Red Devils 6-2 and Dalhousie threw a tremendous surprise on the basketball floor by edging the Antigonish students by a single point.

Times have changed indeed.

TO SHARPEN BOMBERS' TEETH

Dr. Neville Winograd, 41-year-old dentist, has been assigned the job of sharpening the football teeth of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who finished out of the Western Conference playoffs last fall for the first time in 14 years. Dr. Winograd, elected president of the Winnipeg Football Club, also faces the problem of a financial deficit that appeared on the team's books last season. (CP Photo)

Chicago Defeats Detroit; Montreal Edges Leafs 2-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Two goals in the final minute and eight seconds gave Chicago Black Hawks a 4-2 victory Wednesday night over Detroit Red Wings in a wild National Hockey League game.

The Red Wings remained fifth, a point back of New York Rangers, to lose to Boston.

Chicago carried a 2-0 lead into the final period on goals by Johnny McKenzie and Wharram but at 12:20 of the final frame, Larry Jeffrey scored his seventh goal of the year and fourth against the Hawks to pull the Wings within one of a tie.

Delvecchio then hit the tying marker on a conversion of a pass by Gordie Howe.

MONTREAL 2 TORONTO 0

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal Canadiens blanketed Toronto Maple Leafs with checking here Wednesday night and handed the Leafs their ninth shutout of the season, winning 2-0 before 13,932 restless fans.

Bob Rousseau and Gilles Tremblay scored the goals to assure Canadiens of at least a share of the National Hockey League lead. Leafs managed only 23 shots on goaltender Charlie Hodge, who coasted to his shutout.

The Canadiens remained in a tie for the lead with hicago Black Hawks, who beat Detroit 4-2 Wednesday night.

Canadiens were tied for the lead with Chicago Black Hawks before the game. The Hawks were playing Detroit Red Wings in Chicago.

Rousseau, who scored five goals last Saturday night in a game against Detroit, was fodtunate to score Canadiens' first goal against Toronto at 9:20 of the first period. A blueline shot by rookie defenceman Ted Harris, recently called up as a replacement from Cleveland of the American League, bounced in off the right winged's leg.

HAD NO CHANCE

Leafs goaltender Johnny Bower, who turned aside a total of 24 shots in the game, had no chance to save on the shot.

Montreal, backchecking furiously, kept the Leafs bottled up the rest of the way, save for a few brief spurts when erratic shooting took the edge off any advantage the Toronto club could muster.

After a scoreless second period, the Canadienn assumed complete control, but themselves were victims of wild shooting and a couple of fine saves by Bower before Tremblay cashed in a neat pass from Henri Richard at 18:20 of the third.

Richard and Tremblay broke away while the Leafs were playing four forwards and a defenceman up in an effort to tie. Richard drew defenceman Kent Douglas to him, then flipped a pass to Tremblay in the clear and the winger drilled the puck past Bower's outstretched glove into the corner of the net.

Marion MacDonald rink maintained their unbeaten record by trouncig the Fran McLennan rink of the RCAF by the score of 12-5. In each of their three victories the MacDonald rink from Charlottetown had to come from behind to win.

The 3.00 o'clock draw yesterday was particularly rewarding to the Summerside rinks each of three winning by deceisive margins. Vivina Sheen and her mates won 18-3 over the Doris MacDonald rink from Charlottetown. The Willa Somers foursome eliminated the Ann Spicer rink from the RCAF station 12-3, and Anna Hayes and her foursome defeated the Paulie Burden quartet 12-3. SPORT ECHOES

By Norman Macdonald
Summerside Bureau of The Guardian

Clay's Possibilities

Tiger Jones's showing against Tom McNeely shoved Casius Cloy's stock a little higher because it showed that Clay beat a pretty tough cookie when he outpointed Jones. Wouldn't it be funny if Cassius wasn't given to exageration after all.

Can you see Clay standing over Liston who has been knocked colder than a refrigerated mackerel? Maybe something as big as that would make Cassius modest. We rather think it will be the other way around, however. When it's all over, there will be a dead (Clay) pigeon.

Successul "Silver D"

The "Silver D" Bonspiel is rolling along its merry way at Summerside Curling Club, and they're begining to separate the women from the girls as the week advances. Tuesday night eight rinks had been eliminated by losing two games, and another batch of foursomes faded out of the picture on Wednesday.

Some of our Summerside rinks are doing surprisingly well. Shirley Dye has won all three of her games as we write this, and the foursomes of Willa Somers, Vivian Sheen, Marion Smallman and Anna Hayes are still in connection.

There are no less than four MacDonald lassies leading foursomes from Charlottetown, and when that many MacDonalds start throwing rocks, somebody had better duck.

This is true, in spite of what you might have read about Glencoe. Any rink that can eliminate four such Macs desedves to be crowned "Silver D" Queens.

Pat On The Back

Congratulations to the Charlottetown Centennials (peewees) for their impressive 6-0 victory in their first game of the international series at Quebec city.

Also congrats to Saint Dunstan's hockey team which looks pretty good to pick up all the college marbles this year. Billy MacMillan was a little slow starting, but he is in high gear now, and frankly, he is better than we expected him to be.

And - this may be a sort of fringe sport, but congratulations anyway to Miss Helen Kelly, one of our former pupils, for her election to the honor of being carnival queen. Stand up and take a bow, honorable judges. You make a wise choice.

Last Week's Bouquet

Scoring four goals in just one game is surely quite a caper. His deadly aim and wrist snap shots could hardly be shipshaper. Jim Kennedy has what it takes.

Hawks Hosting Eagles Tonight

Hockey action returns to The Forum tonight with Johnny's Flying Hawks and RCAF Eagles playing the leading roles.

It's true it's an exhibition encounter but the teams will play it as though they were fighting for the Maritime Crown. Both Eagles and Hawks are registered intermediate 'C' for Maritime playoffs and they will be going after each other once Island playdowns commence. The Summerside Combines are also in the intermediate fold and will be fighting it out in playdowns with Eagles and Hawks.

But tonight folks should get an idea as to what type of action to expect along the playoff trail. If the boys intend packing them in for these MAHA arranged contests, then they had better give a good advertisement tonight.

There seems no reason to think that they will not. In fact, tonight's action should be chalked full of action and both teams will be anxious to grab a verdict.

The lineups of each club are set now for the season and rival coaches will get their best into action tonight so as to get a good idea of the abilities of their boys. Hawks feel they can take the visiting Airmen but Eagles' management are cocky about the outcome.

The curtain goes up at 8.15 sharp.
