

Deadly Nuclear Wastes Becoming Expensive Problem

DENVER (CPS-CUP)----American Federal officials are still up in the air when it comes to disposing of rapidly increasing radioactive waste materials, but they have made one th-for the January 21 march.

Student president Dunn sent a telegram to Prime Minister Trudeau, lashing out at the federal government's dropping of the OFY program which created 24,000 jobs for students last summer.

"The direction of wage and price controls and government expenditure cuts seems aimed at placing the burden of your war against inflation on those who can least afford it", stated the Dunn telegram. "We find this totally unacceptable."

"The end of OFY means the end of many students' opportunity to continue their education," stated the ing perfectly clear-they won't be shooting the nuclear wastes into the sun by rocket ships.

"Rockets just aren't reliable enough yet for such a thing," one energy telegram.

The telegram also attacked provincial proposals to increase university and community college fees by 65 percent and to wipe out the grant section in the student aid program.

The students also demanded the federal government make public Fiscal Transfer Act negotiation. This act includes money the fed-official told the Wall Street Journal.

The toxic wastes, such as plutonium, which must be isolated for hundreds of thousands of years, are fast becoming a major eral government gives the province to finance student aid programs and post secondary education programs.

Carleton has established an office to coordinate and promote student political action, and it will be this office which will monitor the January boycott of classes and the province wide march on Queen's Park.

issue as nuclear power plants proliferated.

White House officials are currently working on a program to assure the public that radioactive wastes pose no health problems, but high costs are proving to be a hangup.

Nuclear waste disposal may cost the country hundreds of millions of dollars over several years.

Since rockets to the sun are out, scientists are studying salt beds in New Mexico, underground rock formations in the midwest and east, and the ocean floor as sites for possible nuclear garbage dumps.

your high class holes.

We have a reputation of our own and you have the audacity to come here and ruin that reputation. You come with your ideas of a swinging time and think you can show us how to live.

Get off your ego-trip you "furigners" and if you can't conform to our way of life at least shut-up or get to hell off our fair Isle.

Disgusted Islanders Residence 'Boys' Embarrassing

Dear Editor,

My God some of these residence 'boys' are sick. We were embarrassed to think they actually could be so immature as to carry on in the manner they did last Thursday (15) when Morell High School visited. We witnessed one particular fool who was cheered on by a gang of JOCKS etc.humiliated some of our Island students in the cafeteria. This behaviour is not symbolic of this Unive-rsity and we regret that these high school students should have witnessed it. In the future we will not tolerate such ignorance and if this is the way they were taught to behave in public they certainly don't belong here.
