Let's Never Go Back, Flood Evacuee Pleads

WINNIPEG, May 13 — (CP) — A little smudge-faced four-year-old looked pathetically up at her mother and said: "Please mummy, let's never go back."

She was one of 250 unhappy, homeless refugees who arrived in Winnipeg by train today from the flooded McTavish district, 23 miles southeast.

Aboard the flood emergency train were many other youngsters, dressed in mud-splashed garments and staring into space as if they didn't understand what was happening.

Tired mothers rocked weeping babies. White-haired old folks prayed.

The evacuees, many of whom had been fighting the Red River for days without sleep, were immediately taken to an emergency shelter.

The evacuation began Sunday. Menominee families jammed the McTavish station to await rescue.

Approximately 150 head of cattle bellowed and kicked as exhausted farmers loaded them into boxcars. The animals were brought here with the people.

IN MEMORIAM

EDWARD GRAHAM

There passed peacefully to rest in the early evening of April 18th, 1936, Edward Graham at the age of 57 years. More than a year ago he had a serious operation but his loved ones and friends had hoped that his strength and health would be restored but about two months before his passing his condition showed more symptoms of a serious nature and in spite of medical care and tender nursing by his wife and family his strong body gradually weakened unto the end. "Ed" as he was known to all, was born and lived his life in Cavendish, being the son of the late William and Sarah Burgoyne Graham. He was a man of true Christian principles, ready to do good unto neighbours and strangers at all times.

He was a faithful member of the Stanley Orange Lodge, also a faithful adherent of the United Church. Besides his widow, nee Florence Henry, there is one daughter, Marguerite, Mrs. Oliver Cole, and two sons, Allie and Gordon, all of Cavendish as well as two brothers, Bruce in Kensington, and Herbert who lives in Apsalis, B. C. who will mourn the loss of a loving and kind husband, father and brother. To all many expressions of sympathy have been offered by friends near and far. There are also three grandchildren of whom he was very fond.

Funeral service was held from the United Church and in spite of the bad roads was largely attended. Rev. George Gough offered an inspiring and hopeful sermon based on the words, "He is not here, He is risen". Favorite hymns of the departed were sung — "The Lords My Shepherd", "The Sands of Time are Sinking", and "Lead Kindly Light". Mr. George Clark sang as a solo, "Beyond the Sunset". Mrs. Ira McCoubrey presided at the organ.

The L.O.L. conducted a service at the grave. Pallbearers were as follows — Alfred Moore, George McCoubrey, Ernest Clark, Cecil Simpson, Clarence Stewart and Max Ferguson. Funeral arrange-

by Ken Reynolds

Citizens of Georgetown learned with interest, a few days ago of the intention of the Maritime Electric Company to run an electric power line over the eight miles of road from Poole's garage corner to Georgetown during the coming summer. At present our electric power comes across the harbour by submarine cable, laid quite a number of years ago. The uncertainty of this route of supply was demonstrated several weeks ago, when a break occurred in the cable, which fortunately was near the Georgetown shore, but which nevertheless deprived the Town of power, for from 13 to 15 hours. In this modern age with so much dependence being put on electricity the assurance of a steady and uninterrupted supply of power is vitally necessary to a community the size of ours and it is to be hoped that no unforeseen developments occur to further cancel the running of the power line into Georgetown, via our main highway route.

U. K. Housewives Begin Boycott Of Fresh Vegetables

LONDON, May 12 —(Reuters)—British housewives have organized country-wide boycott of high-priced vegetables begun with a record sale of canned goods.

Grocery stores predicted a shortage of canned vegetables if the run continues.

Housewives preferred to pay 8 1-2 pence (about eight cents) for a can of peas rather than 1s. 3d. (about 19 cents) for a pound of fresh peas.

Cans of diced carrots were selling fast. They equal two pounds of fresh carrots and cost 7 1-2 pence a tin. Fresh carrots cost 7s. 6d. a pound.

But as the boycott began disension broke out in the ranks of housewives' leaders.

Most organizations went ahead with the boycott — which has the approval of Food Minister Maurice Webb — but some leaders said they consider it unfair to start it until their probe into prices is completed.

The National Federation of Housewives, with a membership of more than 100,000, supported the boycott.

British women refused to buy after price ceilings were removed. The boycott was successful and gave the housewives the lead to hit at high vegetable prices.

Limited quantities of oranges were being handled by London market traders today, first day of decontrol.

The price was expected to rise 1s. 6d. retail against the controlled figure of 8d. a pound.

Halifax Murder Hearing Adjourned

HALIFAX, May 11 —(CP) — Detective Inspector James Baker said today that Eunice Harnish, 18-year-old former Halifax waitress charged with the murder of her baby, told him April 18 that she had "done away with my child."

Inspector Baker testified at Miss Harnish's preliminary hearing that he visited her at the County Jail, where she was in custody, to check on the whereabouts of her baby. He had secured a list of unmarried mothers from the registrar of births and was making a routine investigation.

He said he asked Miss Harnish why the Children's Aid Society was looking for the baby and she replied: "I done away with my child."

A 3 1-2 page statement taken from her at that time was admitted as evidence on the objection of defence counsel.

Miss Harnish was charged with murder after the strangled body of a five-months-old baby girl was found in wooded Point Pleasant Park here April 16.

Ordinary Seaman Kendall Glendinning, stationed at H. M. C. S. Stadacona here, told the hearing today he met Miss Harnish the first of the year and lived with her for a month. He had seen her "a couple" of times after that.

The hearing was adjourned for a week.

Don't take a 1-in-5 chance with your new home!

It would be unusual for a new homeowner to be without fire insurance — yet the chance of his house burning within the next 20 years is only 1 in 200. The chance that he will not be living in 20 years, however, is only 1 in 5 — just 40 times as risky (at age 45).

For your family's security, remove that 1-in-5 chance of losing their home by providing Imperial Life Assurance to look after the mortgage and the needed running expenses. See your Imperial Life man.
