THE LAKES OF KILLARNEY.

The announcement that Rev. Dr. Walker, of Hallow Bay, would lecture on the far-famed Lakes of Killarney attracted a large number of people to the A. O. H. hall last evening, despite the unfavorable weather. Mr. W. J. O'Reilly, President, on Division No. 1, presided. Previous to the lecture Mr. Charles Bell sang "Killarney," and Rev. Dr. Doyle sang "Kate Kearney," and in response to an encore, "Father O'Flynn."

Rev. Dr. Walker, after being introduced, began his discourse by stating that the lakes is not a more beautiful spot in the whole of the United Kingdom than the Lakes of Killarney. These lakes, said he, must be known to be properly appreciated. They are three in number, viz., the upper, middle and lower lakes, and are situated in the county of Kerry. Visitors always get a hearty welcome from a people whose hospitality is proverbial.

The trip through the lakes and the adjacent country was then graphically described, especial reference being made to the rich and brilliant scenery and the stories told by the people concerning some of the points of interest. Kate Kearney's castle adjoining the lakes was also referred to, and brief reference was made to the famous-rookery stone, the eagle's nest, Ross castle and other points of historical interest.

"I have given you an idea of the places of interest rather than a description of them," said the rev. lecturer in conclusion, "for no description, however vivid, could do credit to the beautiful 'Lakes of Killarney.'"

PATRONS OF INDUSTRY.

The meeting of Patrons of Industry in Philharmonia Hall closed yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. A Provincial association was organized, with the following officers:

President—Duncan Marshall, Charlottetown.

Vice-President—Francis W. Hughes, Tracadie Cross.

Secretary-Treasurer—D. J. Stewart, Lower Montague.

Sentinel—William A. McDuff, Brookfield.

Auditors—W. A. Leard, Belemque; Thos. McNutt, Malpeque.

Trustees—Walter Simpson, Cavendish; S. M. Martin, Heathlands; A. A. McNeill, O'Leary.

Among the changes made in the constitution is the admission of merchants as members of the order.

A platform was drafted, which will be submitted to the subordinate associations. Among the new features in it are an honest enforcement of the Canada Temperance Act, and a strong plank favoring the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

A number of subscriptions to the official organ, which it is intended to establish here, were handed in, and arrangements were completed for receiving further subscriptions.

TRICKS THAT ARE VAIN.

In vain is the net spread in front of any bird, and in vain do unscrupulous dealers offer a high price label with a poor wine inside the bottle. The Bordeaux Claret Company are not concerned about a label. They have put before the public a generous, old, robust wine at a price which has absolutely paralyzed the high-priced people. Even those who like it well enough to get wine at half-price have almost been afraid to believe the good news. The new prices for Claret and Burgundies are $3 and $4 per dozen quarts. Bottled from the wood imported direct from the vineyards of France. Address Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital St., Montreal. 246

HORSES SHIPPED.—Mr. E. Gorrill, Northam, shipped two horses from Summerside yesterday morning, to Mr. J. B. Hamm, St. John, N. B., and W. H. Manson shipped one to a party in New Brunswick.—Agriculturist.

THE EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The congregation was an excellent one for such a stormy night and the whole service was filled with power and interest. Mr. Crossley and two members of the congregation led in prayer. After that Mr. Crossley sang "A hundred years to come."

The congregation was led in prayer by the Rev. W. J. Kirby and the Rev. Mr. Campbell made the announcements. He wished the reporters to note the fact that no subscription list will be used for the evangelists and Thursday night will be only chance for persons to express their gratitude for blessings received, in the thank-offering. There were several requests for prayer for parents, children, college students and other friends.

Mr. Hunter spoke from 1st Cor. 13th chapter, commenting as he went along, "Babies in Christ." I like babies. Don't like these new fangled families where the baby is not liked. I like the old fashioned family of nine, ten, fifteen or twenty children for that matter. One place where I do not like babies, viz., in church. I mean great big babies. Christians of twenty years standing who have to be fed with a spoon.

Can't walk the church, and preacher had to carry them all the time. Babies that have to be coaxed. Always getting miffed about something. They don't like this and they don't like that. Miffed at the preacher, the choir, the church and everything. They have to be handled with care. They have been carried forty years. Babies are no good for warriors or workers. They are not strong in service for God.

"Reward according to our works." I like that—We shall be rewarded some day. "Ottie: foundation can no man lay," and yet some are laying for foundation good work, baptisms, and many other things instead of Christ only. Now let me give you a few rules for Christian character and church building.

1. Unite with a church—you will make the most of your life if you do not join some church. Join the church of your choice. But don't join the church, (a) for style, nor (b) for position, (c) nor for rest, but to be (d) a warrior, witness, worker.

2. Join a working church—ones where you can do something for God, don't get side-tracked, or you may get ditched. Some Churches might have up the notice, "Dead slow."

3. Join a giving church—a giving church is always a prosperous church. The difference between the dying thief and the Christian who does not give is, one is a dying thief and the other a living thief.

4. Encourage your minister by attending the p. m., Sunday morning and other services. Speak well of him, if you love him tell him so; sympathize with him. Ministers have their troubles like other men and need your sympathy. Be sociable with him, call and see him; pray for him. Oh what a sermon he could preach if his people were praying for him Sunday morning. Pay him well. Don't be afraid to throw a turkey into the hall and say nothing about it.

5. Encourage members. Help them. Sprak well of him. Shake hands with them. Make them feel at home.

6. Encourage sinners by inviting them to church, to your homes and encouraging them to look to the church for a home. Thus you will become a grateful, prayerful, prosperous living church.

Mr. Crossley gave his last song sermon on "From glory to glory," and taking text I. V. xxv. 19, "The ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads." There is no such thing as music outside the influence of Christianity, that which is called music in heathen lands is no music; they who say it is "don't know Old Hundred from Yankee Doodle." A new song comes to the hearts of those who embrace religion.

I. I used to reach heaven we must be delivered from guilt—is, 4:22, "Look unto me and be ye saved." Here he related the well known story of Mr. Spurgeon's conversion. What does work else will come instinctively. Don't look to tears, or fears, or feelings, but to Jesus. A song, "Life for a Look," was sung to impress this thought.

If we must live a life of prayer. "Behold he prayeth," was said of Paul, and it might be more than saying prayers, because he had often done that before. Do you pray? or only say prayers? You would not want to know more of me than to know I had not spoken to my father for ten years, and yet my father had not spoken to my heavenly Father for more than ten years. Speak to Him tonight.

III. We must be workers with the Lord I Cor. iii, 9,—with Him, not for Him, I want you to reach heaven we must be workers with Him. To work for Him. You ask, "What can I do?" To work with Him, you ask, "What can the Lord do with me?" A song was sung here as a motto, "This year for Jesus."

IV. We will live in hope of Heaven, Heb. vi—19. Hope an anchor. Refer ferenge here to the old method of using the anchor by throwing it over a rock on the shore, and thus letting the vessel drift out. But you are hoping to repeat some day and get ready for Heaven, but not now, and consequently, you have no hope. Some have a fear they will never get to Heaven; but it is "your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom." Don't think of merit or demerit, but remember you are a child of the King, and rejoice while I sing "I shall be satisfied."

V. A peaceful and triumphant death; Ps. 37—37. Christians die well. This has always been true. No such thing as Jordan's dark waves, death's cold flood. Bishop Haven said: "No river here. No river here. No such thing as some sing, 'One more river to cross.' Some say 'dark valley.' But Ps. xxiii. says 'a valley of shadow,' and did you ever see a shadow without light? A painful thought to die. No, no; only as painless as going to sleep. The end is peace. Death is a conquered foe. Dr. Gordon cried at death, 'Victory! Victory!'

VI. A royal welcome, I Pet. 1 —2. You will have a welcome from Jesus, from angels, from loved ones. Pass on, my people, the people, the people, befriend me, meet you. Alfred Workman, in his dying moments cried, "I am sweeping through the gates washed in the blood of the Lamb." Let us then decide to meet the loved ones while I sing, "I am now a child of God."

The songs of Mr. Crossley were very impressive and exceedingly appropriate to the many points touched upon.

These song sermons have been a great feature in connection with this campaign and many will regret that last night was the last they will ever hear from Mr. Crossley.

In his opening song service some very beautiful ideas were referred to in relation to the scarlet color. "Though your sin be all scarlet," while we have chemicals, said he, to remove scarlet colors from clothing, yet have none to remove scarlet. But what chemicals cannot do in the physical world the blood of Jesus can do in the spiritual. For the heart of scarlet sins can be made white.

THE ORIGIN OF THE ULSTER!

Ulsters were first used in Belfast, Ireland, in 1857, so that they have almost completed their fourth decade, a fact in itself which goes to prove that in this world of change no garment has been found so well adapted to the requirements of the men of the temperate zone. Old but ever new, the Ulster is likely to continue to protect the bodies of the males of our race "from winter's surly blasts" for forty years to come.

We show the finest assortment of the above garments ever seen in Charlottetown. We have them for any age, and to fit any shaped person, short or long.

We have the reputation of giving good honest value for your money. An inspection of our stock is solicited.
