$400 In Goods Stolen From Ch'town Jewellers

Photographic equipment valued at approximately $400 was stolen from a display at Taylor's Jewellers early Sunday morning. Kicking in the small window east of the entrance just above street level two men made off with a variety of articles including three movie cameras, several still cameras and an exposure meter. The smash and grab team were almost caught in the act by the Chairman of the City Council's Police Committee, Councillor Arthur Gormley, who drove by just as the culprits were making their escape across Queen Square. Mr. Gormley and the night watchman on the block followed the escape route used by the thieves and were successful in recovering three of the missing articles. Shortly after the break City Police questioned two persons in relation with the raid, but neither of the two was detained. Late last night the police reported that they had been successful in recovering the balance of the loot.

City Council

(Continued from Page 1) the city limits. It is believed that there are still many in existence. The resolution was never enforced, although notices had been passed out to offenders that steps would be taken within 30 days if the condition was not cleared up. The City Clerk was advised to send out another notice to all listed offenders after the wording of the 1956 notice is checked to certify it is legally sound. W.H. Crandall, a consulting engineer, reporting on the Ward 6 drainage project, told the Council that an underwater project from Government Pond into Hillsboro River would cost about 40 percent more than an underground project. He said that upon investigation it was found that over 2,000 feet of main would be needed for the extension out from Government Pond, nearly twice as much as originally estimated.

Island-Born Educationist From Toronto Speaks Here

Quoting Plato as the wisest man who ever lived, Professor Fulton Anderson, guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday said, "The purpose of education is to make human beings to be what they have in them to be." Dr. Anderson, who is Professor of Philosophy at the University of Toronto, as speaking on the metaphysics of Education and dealt with the varied efforts being put forward in the modern trend to control the underlying programme of education. He was born at Morell, P. E. Island and after graduating from Prince of Wales College was on the staff of several colleges in the United States, eventually being appointed to his present position at the University of Toronto. He is an ardent fisherman and returns to the Island regularly to enjoy his vacation. Dr. Anderson said "People should be valued by their contribution to society. School teachers salaries are a disgrace, and I leave it to you to compare the salaries of musicians such as church organists with what is paid to those performing the most menial tasks." In Russia, the teachers are paid twice as much as in the United States. Strength and brains here are being recruited to junior executive positions, and the education of children is disgracefully neglected," he said. "Only two things are worth while, Dr. Anderson said, mathematics and language and these should be mastered at an early age, say 12 or 13. "St. Dunstan's University and Prince of Wales College have not fallen for these new ideas, they have preserved their dignity and high standards. Of this I am perfectly sure in the case of P.W.C. with the background of Dr. S. N. Robertson, Dr. Steel and now Dr. MacKinnon." One of the best things this province has provided is a strong mind, the arts, music and drama, the things that make people alive," Dr. Anderson concluded. The speaker was introduced by chairman Tom DeBois and thanked by co-chairman Dr. Alan MacMillan who described the address as "stimulating, thought provoking and arresting." Guests of Rotary were: Dr. Xien Khonghakvl of Bangkok, Thailand, Ewen Anderson and Dr. L. E. Prowse, Charlottetown. Visiting Rotarians were: Walter Davis, St. John's, Nfld., Laurie Hancock, Halifax; Allan Swain, Dedham, Mass., Russell Sayre, Ripley, West Virginia, Edgar Cannon, Summerside, Mark Tripp, Trenton, Ont., Derrell MacGuire, Amherst, N.S.

French Tests Seen As Key To Utilizing Fundy Power

MONTREAL (CP) — The success of a series of experiments in France could provide the key which may unlock a new source of power for the Maritime provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. A paper submitted to the world power conference, meeting here this week, described French efforts to harness the energy of the tides in the country's Rance Estuary. "When planning a tidal plant, the aim must not be to obtain a steady power output, but to contribute economically to reach the objects of an investment scheme," said R. Gibrat, a French consulting engineer, in a written discussion submitted to the conference of 1,000 representatives from 51 countries. The French engineer, who was not able to attend the actual sessions, wrote of the utilization of the bulb-type, horizontal shaft turbine generators and the evaluation of tidal variations. These are the keys which may provide the answer to operating a plant to reach the proposed objects of an economical power scheme. OVERCOME LUNAR CYCLE J. K. Sexton, chief civil engineer of the Montreal Engineering Company told a press briefing that Gibrat attempts to prove in his paper that by the use of these units and careful study of tidal phenomena it is possible to overcome the effect of the lunar cycle on tides in power developments such as these. The French engineer now is installing four bulb-type turbines in the estuary for experimental purposes, Mr. Sexton added. This is to attempt to solve the purely mechanical and hydraulic problems which will crop up in a full scale operation. "But only a big plant could pay off in the end," he added. A Canadian engineer said the Frenchman's work could possibly make the development of power in the Bay of Fundy a reality. "If the Bay of Fundy is a marginal source and if Gibrat's work is successful, it might mean that it could be possible to develop power in a similar way in this country," said R. S. Sproule, manager of the hydraulic division of the Dominion Engineering Company, Montreal. Consideration has often been given to such schemes for the Bay of Fundy, where tidal variations are extremely great.
