Busy First Week For New Members In Commons

By John A. Macdonald, M.P.

The busy and interesting week in connection with the Royal Visit, the Opening of Parliament and the opening of the House of Commons was a most enjoyable and unforgettable experience, many of us have been impatient to get on with our work as there is a great deal to be done.

During our first few days, besides meeting again our Minister, Hon. J. Angus MacLean and my colleagues, Heath MacQuarrie and Dr. Phillips, I had interesting one. I was fortunate in being given a seat near the centre of the government benches and immediately behind the Minister of Fisheries, Hon. J. Angus MacLean, sits on the second row in Ottawa for me and my seat is near the one occupied by my late father when he last sat in the House. The Premier and Mrs. Alex Matheson, Social Credit Party sits to our left.

right - at the far end of the Chamber - and the C.C.F. to the left of the Liberal Party. The other far end of the House by design or otherwise, we find the coincidence that the Social credit holds down the extreme right and the C.C.F. the extreme left positions - which has so often been portrayed as their views in Canadian politics today.

Within the framework of the different parties that make up the present Parliament there are very few changes in the two smaller parties. In the two major parties, however, there has been a drastic change. Liberal representation has dropped by sixty some seats, most of which have been replaced by Progressive Conservatives.

LIBERAL FRONT BENCHERS

The Liberal party has lost a number of able supporters and finds itself with an almost seventy per cent representation of French-Canadian origin who usually do not participate so actively in debate. Nevertheless, in the front row of the opposition Liberal party, there are a number of very capable and experienced men, such as former Cabinet Ministers St. Laurent, Gardiner, Martin, Pearson, Sinclair, Chevrier, Picherill and others.

As for the first week of Parliament went, one of the papers here made the following comment, under the heading "The Government Makes a Start": "The Government with government from the original 1400. More people will also be Liberal member from Ontario commented to me the other day that we had a very large group of fine looking young men and a surprisingly large number of veterans among them."

work in Parliament with great success. Potential opposition withered before the program. The only vote that was taken resulted in all but unanimous endorsement of its program. This was as it should be.

AWKWARD POSITION

This was, of course, referring to the awkward position of the Liberal Party when they indulged in criticism of the government then were placed in the embarrassing position of inconsistency by voting to a man with the Diefenbaker government.

Word has just come through that legislation will be introduced shortly to increase Old Age Pensions to $55.00 a month. This is one of the most important first steps in implementing the Diefenbaker program and is an increase of two and half times the offer made by the previous government from the original $20.00. More people will also be able to qualify as the required
