LETTER FROM

CORPORAL JOSEPH O'REILLY.

The Springs, near Elandsfontein, Transvaal, June 24, 1900.

DEAR FATHER.—I suppose that you are thinking by this time, that I am either dead or lost, as it is two months since I wrote to any one on the Island, and the same period has also elapsed since I heard from any friends at home. Yet don't imagine it has been an easy time with me, for I have had my share of a lot of hard work. I wrote before leaving Bloemfontein for Pretoria. During that march I covered 350 miles, and had my share of 11 battles before reaching Pretoria on June 5th. We believed then that the war would soon be over, but the Boers seemed to think that it was only beginning.

We left Pretoria on June 9th, marching back to Elandsfontein, and thence to "The Springs" where we are stationed now, and where we may possibly be left till we are to be sent home, which we hope will be soon. We are getting pretty sick of the business though we are encamped in quite a pretty place. It is mid-winter here now and not at all pleasant, although we have no snow. We have, nevertheless, some severe frosts, but, being quartered in houses we don't mind the cold nights very much.

We have just a scrap of news from the outside world to the effect that there is war between Japan and Russia, but we have learned no particulars.

We have had no mail for two months, but we have heard that Gen. De Witt has captured 2000 bags which he burned. We learned that there was some Canadian mail, and the boys think that if this be true the Boers must have got some interesting reading.

We here, are earnestly hoping for the early ending of this war, though there is no certainty. We have no reliable news on any subject and only know for facts what occurs in our immediate vicinity. We have reason to believe that in Canada the people are better acquainted with the progress of the war than we are, our only reading matter at present being a Boer paper published at Johannesburg, and according to it the English are always being badly "cut up." It is shameful to see how the Boers are deceived by their leaders, and we believe here that the rank and file of their army would freely lay down their arms if they were permitted to learn the truth. Several of them come to surrender freely, and when they see how they are treated they send messages to others, secretly, to come in and surrender also.

We hope to return to our friends with at least one cause for gratification. All the superior officers unite in lavishing praises on the first Canadian Contingent. They declare we have earned it for ourselves and that we confer honor on that Canada which we represent.

Here is an extract from the "Orders" issued to the brigade on the day after we reached Pretoria. If it has not already appeared in the press of Charlottetown you might furnish them with a copy.

(Extract from General Orders.)

PRETORIA, June 6, 1900.
"Order.—The 19th Brigade has achieved a record of which any infantry brigade might be proud. Since it was formed Feb. 12th, 1900, it has marched 620 miles, often on half rations and seldom on full. It has taken part in the capture of ten towns, fought in ten general actions, and on twenty-seven other days. In one period of thirty days it fought in twenty one of them and marched 327 miles. Casualties 450 to 500.

[Sgd] IAN HAMILTON, General.

The 19th Brigade consists of 1st Gordon Highlanders; the 1st Shropshire Light Infantry; the 2nd Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry and the 1st Canadian contingent.

Here is proof that we have not been loitering; but I am sorry there was only a few of the Island boys saw the whole thing through.

Remember me to all my friends and remind them I have not heard from any of them. For yourself I hope you are enjoying good health. I am well and in fact never felt better in my life.

Your affectionate son
JOSEPH O'REILLY.

P. S.—If there be any truth in the report of difficulty between Japan and Russia I may take a notion to go and help the Japs if there be a good show.

A DECIDED DIFFERENCE

Some of our Liberal contemporaries have endeavored to convince the public that the action of Mr. Wise in leaving his party, was the same as that of Mr. Piucan, in deserting the party that elected him. There is, however, no similarity in the two cases. Mr. Wise, when he came to the conclusion that he could no longer support the Farquharson government, pursued a straight-forward, open and above-board course, and resigned his seat in the Legislature, though Hon. Mr. Farquharson did perform a somewhat surprising act of jugglery with his resignation. Mr. Piucan, on the other hand, betrayed the confidence of the men who elected him, and had not the good grace to resign, and give his constituents the opportunity of approving or disapproving of his very peculiar course of action. And Hon. Mr. Farquharson, in an ecstasy of political rapture, clasped him to his bosom, and wept tears of joy over him, and Mr. Piucan appears to have enjoyed his welcome immensely.—Summerside Journal.

EARNSCLIFFE NOTES.

Tarte's debenture button—taxing the necessities of life.

Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Mount Albion, spent a few days last week with her Earncliffe friends.

Mr. Joseph McInnis has returned from a very enjoyable visit with friends in Fort Augustus.

Friends, please stop grambling. Remember that:

A cheerful spirit gets on quick
But a grumbler in the mud will stick.

Mr. George A. Carrier, of Crapaud, spent a few days with friends here, returning home on Monday. Our friend informs us that the game party given by the church members of Crapaud, recently, was a grand success in every particular. About six hundred people were present, and the sum of $200 was realized.

Cupid has been spending a few holidays in Pownal, and the reckless way he has scattered his darts about has been the means of wounding several young people. Capri's Earncliffe victims, while their symptoms are, at times, very alarming, will likely, with great care, recover, had as some of the cases are.

Again we call the attention of the government to the dangerous condition of the bridge at Acorn's mill, at Pownal. As a friend of ours remarked, "It is like the government, tottering to its fall, and rotten in every plank of its construction." The Premier told the electors at the meeting in Pownal last fall, that he was going to put a steel bridge there. We humbly suggest to the Premier that now would be a good time to keep that promise, especially when he can place the steel bridge there without costing the country a cent; just by simply issuing a few more debentures.

Mr. Seaforth Acorn, of Pownal, has recently enlarged the bolting capacity of his flour mill, besides making other improvements and repairs in the machinery. There are about three hundred bushels of wheat, and a quantity of oats in the mill at present. Mr. Acorn, who is one of the finest young men in the locality, and who has the enviable reputation of being one of the best millers in the province, has just completed his new residence which stands on a very pretty site on the banks of the mill stream. We join with others in wishing that our friend and his charming wife may spend many happy, peaceful years in this beautiful home of theirs.

Last spring, when the House was in session, a petition signed by nearly every voter in Earncliffe was forwarded the Government asking them to grant a sum of money to repair a part of our road that has been in a bad condition for the past eight years. In reply to a question by our energetic representative, Mr. A. A. McLean, the C. P. W. said the road would be repaired at once. Now four months have elapsed and the road has not been repaired yet; and our people are asking how long does it take a Grit "at once" promise to materialize? Perhaps you can tell us, Mr. Editor.

There is a strong probability that in the coming Dominion election the present talented representative of East Queen's, Mr. Alex. Martin, will be elected by acclamation. If so, it will be a fitting tribute to the faithfulness and ability with which Mr. Martin has discharged the trust confided in him by the electors on June 23, 1896. As an honorable, upright politician and an untiring worker in the interests of the people of this Province, Mr. Martin challenges the admiration and respect of even his strongest opponents, and makes a representative of whom any constituency in the Dominion might feel proud.

BLACK RIVER NOTES.

Our school is progressing favorably under the skilful management of Mr. W. W. Ellis, who has only recently taken charge here. Judging by the earnestness displayed by both teacher and pupils we have a good guarantee of success.

With a view to securing greater convenience and comfort Mr. Joseph McAulay has made several extensive alterations in his dwelling house, and by a general application of the painter's brush he has materially enhanced the already beautiful appearance of the place.

Mr. Angus A. McAulay has lately purchased a fine organ. Miss Gillis, of Donaldton, is giving musical instructions to Master Bruce McAulay.

We understand that Mr. B. McCabe will be the teacher in Pleasant Grove school this term. Mr. McCabe is an excellent teacher, and the trustees are to be congratulated on their selection.

We are pleased to see Mr. F. W. Hughes home again from an extended visit with friends in Point de Roche.

Mrs. J. P. Affleck, is visiting the people of Mt. Stewart.

Mr. J. D. McAulay has returned home from a pleasant visit with relatives in Portage.

The recent rains have been a great boon to the farmers. Although the hay crop is not as good as that of last year the crops in general are looking splendid and we believe that when the time of harvest is at hand the toil of the husbandman will be well rewarded.
