

The Liberal-Conservative Party have taken the room in the Market House, formerly used as the City Council Chamber. This room will be open throughout the campaign.

Local and Other Items.

RALLY at the Market Hall this evening. BAND at the rink. Excellent ice. POLICE COURT.—One drunk was fined $1 or 4 days this morning. HEAR reports from the country at the Market Hall this evening. HEAR the public questions discussed at the Market Hall this evening. SUPPORTERS of McLeod and Blake at the Market Hall this evening. YOUNG LADIES JOURNAL for February at the Diamond Bookstore.

AN INTERESTING BOOK.—The story of Em-in's rescue, as told in Stanley's letters, is for sale at the Diamond Bookstore.

I. O. G. T.—Charlottetown Lodge, No. 1, I. O. G. T., meets this evening at half-past 7, sharp for initiation of candidates and other business. A full attendance is requested. By order, J. A. Houston, Secy.

GOOD FOR THE LANDING.—The New Glasgow Iron, Coal & Railway Co. have evidently concluded to locate at Pictou landing, as they call for tenders for 2,000 cubic yards of stone to be delivered there in addition to the 250,000 brick already asked for.

THE HALIFAX WAY.—A Halifax despatch says: At a meeting of the civic committee to-day, in the dispute over the appointment of a keeper for the city prison, Ald. O'Donnell struck Ald. Dennis a blow in the mouth. The latter will likely issue a warrant to-morrow.

CHURCH RE-OPENING.—St. Elizabeth's Church, Springfield, will be re-opened on Sunday, Feb. 2nd. There will be three services, at 11 a. m., 3 p. m., and 7 p. m. The Rev. Mr. Reagh will preach in the morning, Archdeacon Jones at 7, and at the service in the afternoon there will be several addresses.

A CERIOUS COINCIDENCE.—On Jan 12, 1847, Rev. John C. Morse, of Digby Neck, N. S., officiated at the marriage of Mr. George Hall, and on January 12, 1890, the anniversary of the marriage, the same clergyman officiated at the same gentleman's funeral. Mr. Thomas Hall, of Yarmouth, brother of the deceased, was "best man" at the marriage and chief mourner at the funeral.

AMPLY REWARDED.—The Halifax Recorder says: About noon to-day a young clerk in one of our insurance offices, while passing the Post Office, observed a pocket book lying on the pavement. It was found to contain a large roll of bank notes, and a card with the name of a medical man. The clerk obtained leave from his employers and carried the doctor his money, and was rewarded with 25 cents.

WILLIAMS PIANOS.—Miss Annie McDonald, of the Musical Academy, Pictou, N. S., writes to Messrs. J. F. Willis & Co.: "Gentlemen—I have used for some time two of the R. S. Williams & Son pianos, and they certainly deserve commendation. They are really perfect instruments, of singular richness, sweetness and brilliancy." J. F. Willis & Co., sole agents for N. S. and P. E. I., McEachern's building, Lower Queen Street, Charlottetown.

INTERMENT.—On the 17th inst., the remains of Catherine McPhee, aged 86 years, relict of the late Angus Steele, were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Georgetown, R. I. P. Her funeral cortege was followed by a large concourse of people to St. James' Church, where a High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by the Rev. J. C. McLean. In the sanctuary were the Revs. Wm. Phelan and the pastor, S. T. Phelan.

A REMEDY FOR THE EPIZOO.—E. A. C. writes to the Boston Globe: Several years ago some one recommended smoking and inhaling the smoke of cubeba as a cure for catarrh. I tried it and found that I could instantly stop an attack of acute cold or inflammation of the mucous membrane of the head, throat or lungs. I have used it 15 years, and seldom let such an attack last over night, and firmly believe that if inhaling the smoke of cubeba was generally practiced at such times death by pneumonia would be impossible.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button. It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. Jan 7 '90.

SAD ACCIDENT.—The Halifax Herald says: A sad and fatal accident occurred at No. 294 Goring Street, Monday. Violet and Willie Peach, two small children, were left in charge of an older sister Annie. Annie left the two children in the kitchen, while she went to get a pail of water. Meeting a friend, she had a gossip for perhaps twenty minutes. On her return to the house a horrible sight presented itself. The two-year-old little girl was rolling on the floor enveloped in flames, while the four-year-old little boy was sitting under the table. Annie seized the little sufferer in her arms and ran to a neighbor's house, where a woman present wrapped her dress around the little sufferer and extinguished the flames. Dr. Hawkins was summoned and attended the injuries of the little one, but, notwithstanding all efforts, the child died yesterday morning at three o'clock. The parents of the little one are in a pretty dejected condition.

Personal.

Mr. W. A. Brennan, of the Summerside Journal, was in the city to-day. Summerside Journal: Many great men have the gripe. Mr. Bell has lost his on the Fourth District. The Journal reports that Hon. John Lefargey left on Tuesday last for the United States, where he will remain a few weeks in the hope of bettering his health. He expects to join Mrs. Lefargey and other members of his family at Boston, whether they wear white or black.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Summary of Proceedings.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.

In the House of Commons to-day, McCarthy introduced a bill to abolish the French language in the Northwest Territories. He spoke at length, reviewing the law which he proposed to repeal, and said he was obliged to share in the blame for its enactment. There was nothing in the treaty of cession which countenanced the statement that the French language was guaranteed to the people of Canada in 1841. The use of French as an official language had been dispensed with by Imperial legislation, showing clearly that its continuance had not been guaranteed by treaty, though subsequently this Act had been amended upon an address from both Houses of Parliament. By the British North American Act French was made an official language in the Dominion Parliament, but it was never contemplated that it should be extended to new provinces. There was no more important decision considered in connection with the formation of a nation than the question of language, and Canadian statesmen would not be doing their duty if they did not endeavor to make the country one and united. There was no use spending millions of public money upon railways with a view of uniting the various sections of the country if distinct nationalities and diverse languages were tolerated. Where there was community of language there could be no nationality. He quoted Lord Durham's report in 1841 in favor of one language for Canada. He charged that Quebec men were striving to build up an anti-English nationality. The ambition of the French-Canadians was rising to the level of the English and the language question must now be faced. He quoted a petition sent to the Government by the Northwest Assembly, asking for the abolition of the French language, and claimed that the people of the Territories were unanimous in favor of his policy. Plavariere said the proposal to deprive the French settlers in the Northwest of the right to use their language was cowardly. The present proposal was merely intended to pave the way for a general attack upon French Canadian rights. Sir John McDonald said that from the line of argument pursued by McCarthy it was evident that a serious question was to be opened up. Time must be taken to consider the probable consequences of such a proposal as that contained in the bill. He hoped that the measure would be read a first time, and printed so that it could be fully discussed on the second reading. Mr. Laurier regretted that McCarthy had introduced controversial matters at this stage, but would refrain from taking exception to the bill or the mover's remarks. The bill was seconded by Denison (Conservative) and read a first time. Replying to Campbell, of Kent, Bowell said that 10,008,403 barrels flour had been imported into the Dominion during 1889. There was no other business of importance, and the House adjourned. The Senate had another short session to-day, and, on motion of Abbott, adjourned until the evening of the fourth of February next.

A New Bill.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22. Considerable excitement has been caused among the commission men of the Chicago Board of Trade by a bill introduced in Congress by representative Butterworth, imposing a high internal revenue tax on all dealings in futures. The purpose of the bill is supposed to be to prevent speculation in food products and to restrict the transactions to actual sales. Ex-Congressman Dunning, a prominent operator, declares the effect of the bill will be to close every exchange in the country and leave the producers to the mercy of the exporters and millers.

A Change Made.

LISBON, Jan. 22. Senhor Miguel Martine Dautas, hitherto Portuguese Ambassador at London, has been transferred to Paris. He will be replaced in London by Marquis Ficalho, one of the Councillors of State and Grand Master of the Court, the government feeling that in this critical emergency it is necessary so important a place should be represented by an ambassador more fully cognizant of the national feeling than it is possible for one who has been a long time out of the country.

At Act of Vindication.

LONDON, Jan. 23. The Standard's Lisbon correspondent says that the news has just been received that the Government of Mozambique has published an act of vindication of Portugal's right to the entire shire district. This news has fallen like a bombshell here, and is regarded as justifying Lord Salisbury's procedure. Hence there is a calmer feeling.

The Haldimand Election Case.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22. The Supreme Court to-day gave judgment in the Haldimand election case, Justice Colver with costs, Chief Justice Ritchie and Judge Taschereau dissenting.
