MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that Truth, Honesty and True Philanthropy are still Exist.

If any man who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excess or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge a plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell, and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-beings to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c silver to cover postage and address Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich. 135p&w.

Get the Best
The public are too intelligent to purchase a worthless article a second time, or the contrary they want the best! Physicians are virtually unanimous in saying Scott's Emulsion is the best form of Cod Liver Oil.

Of all the nerve-tonics—bromos, celerics or nervines—your doctor will tell you that the Hypophosphites are best understood. So thoroughly related is the nervous system to disease that some physicians prescribe Hypophosphites alone in the early stages of Consumption. Scott's Emulsion is Cod-liver Oil, emulsified, with the Hypophosphites, happily blended. The result of its use is greater strength and activity of the brain, the spinal cord and the nerves.

PARIS RESTAURANTS.

INFORMATION FOR THOSE WHO INTEND VISITING THE GAY CITY.

The "Swell" Eating Places and Samples of Their Charges—Prices That Sometimes Astonish Even High Rolling Americans.

These Americans who think that New York is an expensive place ought to go to Paris. There is no doubt that the prices of New York at first class places are high, but the New York restaurants have not reached such expertness in making out bills as they have in Paris. Therefore it is not at all uncommon to notice an American with his wife going over his bill with the hair slowly rising upon his head.

There are plenty of places in Paris where you can get a dinner cheaper—the bouillions Duval, for example. These restaurants are sprinkled all over Paris, and they give you plain food very well cooked at a reasonable figure. But the average American generally goes to the swell places, which are about 13 in number. There is the Cafe de Paris, Cubat's, Chevallard's, Durand's, Joseph's, the Restaurant Larue, the Tour d'Argent, Maire's, Paillard's, the Maison Doree, the Cafe Voisin and the Restaurant Lucas, together with the Cafe Anglais, the Lion d'Or, Foyot's and Marquery's, if you choose to include them. The Cafe Anglais is no longer first class, the Lion d'Or has been closed, Foyot's is in the Latin quarter and Marquery's is only middle class. The highest priced places are Durand's, Paillard's and the Cafe Voisin, and these are the most frequented. Each year the restaurant frequented by the "swells" changes. Two years ago it was Durand's, last year it was Paillard's and this year it is Voisin's.

Americans are generally disappointed in the appearance of these places because they are frequently small and by no means gorgeous in their equipments. They are all arranged in about the same way—a row of cushioned seats or divans running around the wall, with tables placed next to them. The guests nearly always ensconce themselves on the seats next to the wall and are served from the other side of the tables by the waiters. Occasionally, when the place is crowded, people will seat themselves on the outside, but ordinarily they are found on only one side of the table. As for the table linen, the china, the knives and forks, they are by no means as fine as we find in many of the American hotels and restaurants. The cooking, however, is hard to excel. The reason that the Paris restaurants obtain such high prices is owing to their peculiarity

SHERIFF'S SALE.

At the suit of Edward Jarvis Hodgson, Plaintiff, and Charles E. Rowe, and Frederick Rowe, Defendants.

By virtue of a writ of fieri faciente to me directed, issued out of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature, at the suit of Edward Jarvis Hodgson, against Charles E. Rowe and Frederick E. Rowe. I have taken and seized as the property, goods and chattels of the above named defendants, the following articles, that is to say: 1 Heintzman Piano.

And I do hereby give Public Notice that I will on Friday, the 4th day of June, A.D., 1897, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Music Store of D. McMillan, on Great George St, in Queen's County, set up and sell by Public Auction, the said goods and chattels to satisfy the levy marked on the said writ of execution, being ($90.32) ninety dollars and thirty two cents, besides Sheriff's fees and all legal incidental expenses.

of getting what they call primeurs. Their Paris epicurean guests seem to want to eat things out of season. For example, they are fond of serving you peas in January. Then, they will give you pheasants and birdnest soup and other exotic dishes.

Here is a sample dinner and a very plain one for two at a Paris restaurant. They charge you, by the way, 50 centimes, or 10 cents, to sit down. Therefore for the two places, or converts, put down 1 franc; an aperitif, the substitute for our American cocktail, another franc; a bottle of ordinary white wine, 3 francs; a bottle of ordinary burgundy, 7 francs; a tureen of bouillon, another franc; a sole with normandy sauce, 8 francs; a duckling with turnips and cream, 15 francs; asparagus with a delicate sauce, 12 francs; ice cream tart, 5 francs; coffee, half a franc; liqueurs, 1 franc; tip, half a franc; total, about 60 francs, or about $12.

The French have many ways of cooking eggs most deliciously. For example, eggs with shrimps, scrambled eggs with chicken gravy, and scrambled eggs with almost everything, much better, you find, than in America. They also cook many things in covered saucepans which are most appetizing. Their saucepans are earthenware, of the kind called casseroles, and by keeping them covered they can cook a chicken en casserole which will make your mouth water. The average American chicken is baked in an oven—although the cook thinks she is roasting it when she is only baking it—and, as a rule, it is dry and tasteless and unfit to eat.

You can get a lunch, or what the French call a breakfast, at any of these restaurants, including a bottle of ordinary wine, butter, shrimps, eggs and mushrooms, chicken with artichoke hearts, strawberry tart, coffee and cheese for about 25 francs, say $5. But all of these bills that I am giving you are the dinners and breakfasts ordered by people who are careful. The average American is apt to take things which are suggested to him by the waiter, and when he has eaten with his table companion say four dishes and finds that it costs $10 apiece it makes him very tired.

If you will notice, I have put on the bills of fare above only ordinary wines. If you place yourself in the hands of the sommelier, or wine steward, and tell him you want something very good, he will bring you up an old cobwebby bottle of burgundy without any tag on it and will tell you that it is good. So it is. It will generally cost you more than champagne, and by the same token it is better than champagne. Americans soon find out the places where they have good burgundy and bordeaux, but they have to pay for them. I would advise these Americans always to trust in the sommelier rather than attempt to find things themselves from the wine list, because the wine list is meaningless. All it can tell you is vintage and prices, and sometimes not even that.—Paris Cor. San Francisco Argonaut.

Enlightened.
Tarry de Windt, the Siberian traveler, took a number of woodcuts of the Andree polar balloon for distribution among the natives of northwestern Siberia. One day he noticed a Tchuktchi studying one of the pictures intently and asked him what he would do if he saw it in the sky. "Shoot it," was the immediate reply.

SPECTACLES.

Over twenty-five years I have been in the Spectacle business and during that time have fitted hundreds and hundreds of persons. Some had put off getting glasses so long that they could not see a large 4 inch letter A without going within 2 or 3 feet of it, and might have gone blind if they had put off getting glasses much longer. Others have been fitted or rather misfitted, with wrong glasses by travellers, and charged a great deal more than they ought to have been. This year our traveller, Mr. C. H. White, intends calling on parties at their homes in the country, to test eyes and show samples of our goods. Should he call on you I bespeak for him your favorable consideration, and any order you may give him will be filled as soon as possible and guaranteed by me. Glasses can also be exchanged at the store, CAMERON BLOCK, City, if after a trial they do not prove as satisfactory as you wish.
