Queen's County Jail.

Yesterday an EXAMINER representative in company with a Patriot reporter and R. R. Fitzgerald, Esq., chairman of Jail Commissioners, visited and inspected Queen's County Jail with a view to seeing the condition of the institution and enquiring into the manner in which it is conducted. The visitors were shown through the premises by Mr. Harvie. They found the rooms, such as they were, neatly kept, and the prisoners made no complaint about the manner in which they were treated.

Just now there are including the Indian who was "sent down" that morning, seventeen prisoners in the institution. Two of the prisoners are females, convicted of keeping a disorderly house, and the others are males. Five are in for larceny, three for violating the Scott Act, and the remainder for drunkenness and assault. On Sundays, spiritual consolation is given the prisoners in their rooms, by Messrs. Jost and Turner, and during the week the more active members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union visit the jail for the same purpose.

The prisoners awaiting trial are allowed any food their friends may send them; convicted prisoners are allowed nothing but regular prison fare, unless on the special order of a physician. There is no deviation from this rule. Scott Act offenders are treated in the same way as other prisoners.

The life of the prisoner in Queen's County Jail is an uneventful one. By seven o'clock in the morning all are up out of bed, and at eight o'clock at night all lights are ordered out. Those of the prisoners who are sentenced to hard labor begin work at nine o'clock, and continue until five, with an hour's intermission for dinner. The hard labor consists mainly of breaking stone. This work is performed in the jail yard under the supervision of Mr. McNeill, the assistant jailer, who sees that no time is lost. Since 1877 the average amount of stone broken each year is about 300 tons. Since the amending of the criminal laws giving the Magistrate increased power His Honor has invariably sentenced old "drunks" to hard labor and long terms of imprisonment. While this course has had the effect of lessening the number of the more youthful prisoners it has been the means of increasing the extent of the stone pile. The hard-labor prisoners get 6 ozs. of meat, 1 lb. of potatoes, and 1 lb. of bread each day, besides a weekly allowance of oatmeal and molasses.

No general visiting is allowed, except on certificates issued by the Clerk of the City Court. Persons bringing food to prisoners must also be provided with a certificate, stating the object of their visit, and having attached the physician's certificate if the recipient is a prisoner under sentence. These certificates are all kept on file, and some of them were shown to the press representatives. A record book is also kept in the reception room, wherein each visit of the commissioner and physician is reported.

The visit yesterday was not pre-arranged, and the fact that everything was found in good shape testifies to the great care and attention paid to their work by Jailer Harvie and Mr. McNeill. They evidently understand their business thoroughly, and the best of feeling prevails between them and those in their charge. The only thing THE EXAMINER representative saw that did not strike him as being exactly right was the fact that each man cooked and ate in his own room. There should, certainly, be a kitchen and general dining-room provided.

MORE POTATOES.—The M. A. Starr took 1300 bags potatoes from Summerside to Point du Chene, on Tuesday afternoon.

SUCCESSFUL.—The increased business of Messrs. Taylor & Gillespie have necessitated the removal of their bookbinding establishment to larger premises. They are now doing business in the Store next to J. D. McLeod, Queen Street, where they have fitted up a first-class workshop, where they will be most happy to show samples of their work. Messrs. Taylor & Gillespie are to be congratulated on their success.

A QUEBEC VILLAGE DESTROYED.—An extensive conflagration occurred in the village of St. Jacques Lachigan, about 45 miles from Montreal, on Monday, by which 28 houses were burned, rendering a corresponding number of families homeless. Some sheds in which large quantities of tobacco was being cured were also burned. The loss will aggregate about $100,000, on which there was comparatively small insurance.

DOMINION DAY.—Arrangements have been made for an afternoon's racing on the Summerside Park on Dominion Day. There will be three events, each for a purse of $40, divided into $20, $12 and $8 for the first, second and third best horses. The races will be for a three-minute class, another for four-year-olds and the third for three-year olds. The entrance fee will be ten per cent. of the purse.

ACADIA COLLEGE.—Following is a list of the students who graduated at Acadia College this week. It is the largest class in the history of the college: B. H. Bentley, Shefield Mills; F. J. Bradshaw, Centerville, P. E. I.; H. N. Brown, Wolfville; W. W. Chipman, Bridgetown; C. N. Eaton, Amherst; J. E. Eaton, Truro; L. F. Eaton, Canada; H. G. Harris, Canada; Miss A. G. Jackson, Port Williams; C. R. Minard, Wolfville; F. S. Messenger, Paradise; N. A. McNeill, Loue Creek, P. E. I.; J. B. Pascoe, Dorchester; G. P. Raymond, Hobbart; F. M. Shaw, Berwick; W. B. Wallace, Wolfville; H. F. Warnig, St. John; C. H. Woodworth, Weston.

More dandies are but cut flowers in a bouquet—once faded, they can never re-blossom. In the drawing room, as everywhere else, mind, in the long run, prevails.—Lord Ed. ward Lytton.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Letter from G. B. Norton.

Sir,—I am compelled to call your attention to a mis-quotation in your issue of the 3rd inst., in an article alleged to be an extract from The Republic and Sun, of Joliet, of 24th ult.

The passage referred to, in the original is as follows:

Whitman described the people from Prince Edward's Island as the scum of the earth, money would hire to do anything.

This is quite a different form from that given in your quotation, and as I was present and heard the famous tirade of abusive denunciation of which this is a part, and which I have heard called "Mr. Whitman's Defence," I am prepared to verify the report of The Republic and Sun. To set the matter right, I respectfully ask space for the following clippings from other Western journals of the same and later dates.

G. B. NORTON.

The council of Baptist churches convened in Joliet, May 19, 1890, in response to letters missive sent out by 117 present or former members of the First Baptist Church of Joliet, to consider certain questions propounded in said letters missive, after protracted and thorough examination of the matters involved, make the following deliverance:

We deeply deplore the disgrace that has come upon the whole denomination as the result of the troubles that have arisen in a church which has so long been united and prosperous and widely honored. We deeply regret the refusal of the church as a body to call a council to advise them touching matters that so vitally concern the honor of our common cause. We also lament the fact that when after the opening of our session to-day, the pastor of the church was visited by a committee of this body and courteously urged to be present and aid us in coming to right conclusions, he should have refused to avail himself of so good an opportunity for his personal vindication, if such vindication were possible. We also regret that our action was embarrassed by the refusal of the church to allow us the use of their records touching the matters that have come before us. That we find that the action of the church in receiving Mr. Whitman into membership was and is incompetent, that it did not recognize its obligation to the sister church at Charlottetown, that it was contrary to the usage of this church or of Baptist churches generally; that art 1, sec. 7, and art 4, sec. 4 of the constitution were in spirit and in fact broken, and that the action taken in the reception of Mr. Whitman was therefore null and void, and does not give him any such ecclesiastical standing as Baptists are bound to recognize.

We further find that the action of the Charlottetown church in Mr. Whitman's exclusion was well-grounded, the evidence sustaining the several counts being of the highest character, consisting of the affidavits of members of Baptist churches whose character and standing are unimpeached, the written statements of other reputable witnesses, besides letters and written statements of Mr. Whitman himself, containing the most damaging admissions, which cannot be explained on the hypothesis of his innocence.

We further find that the First Baptist church of Joliet, under the leadership of Mr. Whitman, has proceeded to exclude members who were offensive to him without their having been furnished with copies of the charges against them or any opportunity of defence, and that other members have been suspended, some for definite periods and some indefinitely—a species of discipline contrary to all the established usages of Baptist churches and to the Word of God.

We recommend that the findings of this council be submitted to the next session of the Aurora Association, with the view of determining the ecclesiastical question involved, leaving the question of legal or property rights to be decided by the courts, if all other expedients prove to be in vain.

The council earnestly urge the brethren and sisters who have called us together to possess their souls in patience, to wait humbly upon God, and to hope and pray that the brethren and sisters now in the majority and claiming to be the First Baptist church of Joliet may come to be of a better mind when the passions of the hour have subsided and time and grace have healed the wounds that have been so sadly made.

MR. WHITMAN'S MASS MEETING.

JOLIET, Ill., May 23.—Special telegram to the Chicago Inter-Ocean—The Rev. Edward Whitman called a mass meeting at the Opera House to-night, but it was not attended en masse, only about 400 attending out of curiosity to learn what the much talked about pastor would say. His own following was present in force, 180 strong, and acted well in the role of claqueurs. Mr. Whitman pitched into those who opposed him in his church, calling them liars, forgers and general criminals. He stated that all the evidence used against him was bought by members of the church here, and that all the incriminating letters produced before the council were forgeries. The people whom Whitman scored and lampooned are old residents, men of lifelong residence here. And even good old ladies, who honestly believe that he is not what he ought to be, from the evidence produced by members of churches where he formerly preached, were vilified and sneeringly denounced. He uttered a bit of vulgar sarcasm with a devotion that is misleading. Whitman tries to get out of the terrible dilemma in which the Council of Ministers placed him after examining the evidence by coarse abuse of the old members of the church here appointed to him, and by making statements to the effect that they have spent money freely to compass his destruction by a corrupt and venal press, and by the agencies of the Evil One generally. No action was taken at the meeting.
