

THE DAILY EXAMINER, JANUARY 25, 1883.

The Development of our Resources

The whole world is just now in a state of unrest. Men are moving out of the "strait places"—seeking new fields for labor and enterprise.

This remark applies to communities as well as to individuals; and the course we ought to take with respect to the development of the resources of P. E. Island is of special importance at this juncture.

To judge by the very small attendance at Dr. Jenkins' lecture there is, however, some reason to fear that it will be so Citizens should have crowded to St. Patrick's Hall by hundreds to hear discussed a subject of such paramount importance.

In our opinion Dr. Jenkins has made a very correct diagnosis of the case, and has prescribed the proper course of treatment. Agriculture—the farm—is the basis on which we must build.

The divisions of the subject I do not attempt to give. It would be impossible to give a full account of a lecture containing so much that is valuable, in a newspaper article.

The Rights of Crapaud.

To the Editor of the Examiner. Sir,—A communication in the last Presbyterian signed "A Lover of Fair Play," has aroused the dormant energies of the people of Crapaud to a sense of their wants.

The inhabitants of Crapaud have had to grapple with many serious difficulties, and drawbacks before they got their harbor sufficiently dredged to admit vessels of large tonnage to come up to the wharves.

When we look at the sister ports of Summerside, Georgetown, and Charlottetown, with railroads and steamers, and our port only with a steamer running to Charlottetown, and then as the writer says knocked off the line in the last of October; it makes me feel as though Victoria was blotted off the map of P. E. Island.

There is just now a feeling of deep concern in Germany about the physical condition of boys at school. They are as attentive to their books as ever German boys have been, but there is a marked evidence of physical listlessness and inactivity.

Trusting that the people of Crapaud will without delay, arouse themselves and call meetings in their districts, so that the Government may take action upon it, and use their influence in procuring a good and sufficient boat for the route.

I am, sir, Yours truly, Crapaud, Jan. 22, 1883.

The Civic Election.

Mayor Hooper having been elected by acclamation, the contest yesterday was between the Councilmen. The five Wards of the city were contested, and the result was the election of William Koughan in Ward 1, Henry C. Douse in Ward 2, Simon W. Crabbe in Ward 3, William Ladner in Ward 4, and John P. Tanton in Ward 5.

Table with 2 columns: Ward Name and Candidate Name. Includes Ward 1 (Koughan), Ward 2 (Douse), Ward 3 (Crabbe), Ward 4 (Ladner), Ward 5 (Tanton).

Mr. LePage's Lecture.

MR. LE PAGE, of Prince of Wales College, delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture before the Teacher's Institute on Tuesday evening last, on the "Aim and Place of the Poet." The lecturer bestowed a great deal of thought on his subject, and his hearers, judging from the close attention given to the lecture throughout, showed their high appreciation of the lecturer's treatment of the subject.

At North Tryon, on the 19th inst., of consumption, Adeline C., eldest daughter of Henry and Matilda Woods, in the 21st year of her age.

At Point Prim, on the 16th December last, Isabella Margaret, beloved daughter of Archibald and Catherine Finlayson, in the twenty-fourth year of her age, dearly regretted by all her friends and acquaintances.

At Brooklya, N. Y., December 11th, J. Lemuel Pollard, eldest son of John O. Pollard, formerly of Georgetown Royalty, aged fifty-two years.
