INCREASED POLL TAX COLLECTIONS REPORTED AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING

More than $2,000 was collected in additional poll taxes as a result of the City requesting business establishments to furnish a list of their employees to the tax office," said Councillor E. C. Johnstone, Chairman of the Finance Committee at the regular monthly meeting of the City Council last evening. Mayor Stewart presided, all the Councillors being present excepting George Keefe.

Coun. Johnstone felt that there was still a large number of employees to contact for poll tax and suggested that every effort be made to collect from these. At the same time he cautioned the chairmen of the various committees to curtail spending to a minimum, if this year's budget is to be adhered to.

Coun. McCormac, chairman of the Street Committee, stated that most of the paving for the year will have been completed within the next few days. He reported that since September, Cumberland Street had been completed as well as the areas on both sides of it between Richmond and Sydney Streets and on the west side, between Sydney and Dorchester.

The following also were completed: Richmond Street from Cumberland to Canada Packers gate as well as parking areas on both sides; the sidewalk on the south side of Kent between Great George and Queen Streets; the paving of parking areas on both sides of Upper Queen Street, as well as the re-surfacing with asphalt of the existing concrete pavement for two and one half blocks.

MOVING BUILDINGS

Some discussion took place regarding the moving of buildings over City streets. Mayor Stewart informed the Council that only two buildings on the site of the new Federal building have been Continued on Page 5 Col. 2

R.C.A.F. Probes "Weird Lights"

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—The RCAF is investigating a report that "weird lights" were seen in the sky over the Chalk River area last week, it was reported Tuesday.

Canadian National Railways employees at Brent, about 55 miles southeast of here, said they saw the lights "hovering and darting" in the sky.

Confirms Russian Subs Off U.S.-Canada Coasts

OTTAWA (CP)—NATO's Atlantic commander said Tuesday Russian submarines have appeared and are continuing to be detected in North American coastal waters.

"We have them (Russian submarines) in the Atlantic and Pacific though there has been no increase in their numbers lately," American Admiral Jerauld Wright told reporters on his arrival here for a two-day visit from his headquarters at Norfolk, Va.

Asked about Tuesday's report by Tass, official Soviet news agency, denying that Russian subs are operating along the Canadian coasts, Admiral Wright cracked: "Because it's in Tass doesn't lend it authenticity."

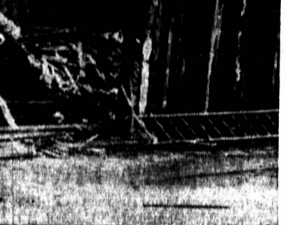

Tass classed as a "downright invention" a recent statement by Vice-Admiral E. R. Manguy, chief of the Canadian naval staff, that Russian submarine activity off Canada's coasts had been reported continually during the last 18 months.

TO MEET CABINET

Admiral Wright, who will confer with Defence Minister Campney, the chiefs of staff and the cabinet defence committee, said he has visited all NATO nations during the last year and is impressed with the "universal feeling of increased security because of NATO."

He said the Canadian navy has contributed "enormously" to anti-submarine warfare techniques but he had more to say about planes.

Old House Tough To Pull Down

This firmly built old house on the corner of Richmond and Pownal Streets stoutly resisted determined pulling on the heavy steel cable encircling it at the eaves. The bulldozer is shown bunting away the debris and supporting corner of the roof to weaken the structure. The destruction is part of the job of clearing the site for the new Federal building in Charlottetown. It will be on a block bounded by Queen, Richmond, Pownal and Sydney Streets.

Heavy Rain At Plowing Match

BRESLAU, Ont. (CP)—Heavy rain Tuesday interfered so much with planned opening events of the international plowing match that officials decided to extend the affair by one day.

The match will continue until Saturday near this Kitchener area community instead of ending Friday. The plowmen's banquet will be held Friday night.

Because of mud, the scheduled opening parade through the tented city of farm implement displays was cancelled.

However, the "local day" event started with about 100 competitors braving the rain. Officials said the mayors' event also would go on as scheduled.

Despite rain and mud, thousands of spectators thronged the grounds.

PLEASES GERMANS

News of the outcome pleased West German government circles in Bonn, committed to recruit 12 divisions for Western defence.

Mendes-France's victory by a wide margin was assured Sunday night when the biggest party in Parliament, the Socialists, decided to throw its weight to his side. The Socialists control 105 of the 627 votes.

Socialist deputy Georges Guille, the party's spokesman from the rostrum Tuesday, told Mendes-France:

"We ask you to continue to work for a united Europe and the organization of its safety. At the same time we ask you seize upon and, if necessary, take the initiative for a conference on general disarmament which is the desire of all peoples. It is in order that you may take this double action that we bring you our votes today."

Liverpool Man Drowned in River

LIVERPOOL, N. S. (CP)—Harold Roy, 41, drowned in the Mersey river here Tuesday while swimming an unusually warm afternoon.

Terrance (Tiger) Warrington, former Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, attempted a rescue but was unable to hold Roy against the strong river current.

Left Estate Of Seven Million

TORONTO (CP)—James S. McLean, founder and former president of the meat-packing firm of Canada Packers Limited, left an estate valued at $7,286,847, most of which goes to the McLean Charitable Foundation.

The will of Mr. McLean, who died Sept. 1, was entered for probate Tuesday.

It disposes of property including $6,050,881 in stocks, $639,852 in insurance, $258,721 in real estate and $337,392 in other holdings.

13 Convicted Of Conspiracy Against The U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen Puerto Rican nationalists were convicted of seditious conspiracy against the United States Tuesday.

A federal court jury deliberated a little less than four hours before returning the verdict against all the defendants.

Four of the accused already had been convicted of spraying the U. S. House of Representatives with bullets last March and wounding five congressmen.

The maximum penalty for each would be six years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The Nationalist party, which is dedicated to complete independence for Puerto Rico, first gained notoriety when two of its members attempted to assassinate former President Truman.

The congress shooting came last March 1. The government charged that all 13 had conspired to bring about Puerto Rico's independence from the United States by force and violence and armed revolution.

WAS PRIME MINISTER OF SOUTH AFRICA 6 YEARS

Malan Plans To Retire

By Astley Hawkins

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters)—Daniel F. Malan, South Africa's prime minister for six years and architect of plans to establish perpetual white supremacy in the country, Tuesday announced his retirement.

He will hand his resignation in Nov. 30 to Governor-General Ernest Jensen, leaving the appointment of his successor to the parliamentary caucus of his Nationalist party.

The new prime minister is virtually certain to be either Nicholas Havenga, 72, moderate Nationalist reported to have Malan's support, or Johannes Strydom, 61, a stronger advocate of strict racial segregation.

U. S. Defence Sec'y Wilson Says Remarks Twisted In Political Move

DETROIT (AP)—Defence Secretary Charles Wilson said Tuesday his remarks at a press conference Monday about jobless workers and bird dogs had been distorted in an effort to make political capital against the Republicans.

Wilson issued a statement elaborating on the story told Monday which touched off a political storm and brought angry replies from persons who interpreted it as a slap at unemployed workers.

Wilson's statement followed shortly upon one by President Eisenhower expressing full confidence in the defence secretary.

Wilson, always blunt-spoken, got things going with an offhand remark. He said that while he had "a lot of sympathy" for jobless

London's Power, Food Threatened

LONDON (Reuters)—Leaders of 4,500 London tugmen recommended at a mass meeting Tuesday night that they join the strike of 27,000 dock workers which has crippled the port of London.

A final decision will be made Saturday.

If the tugmen go out it will complete the paralysis that has brought activity in the port area to a standstill. The movement of any cargo by water in the port would cease.

This would jeopardize power supplies by curtailing the delivery of coal to power stations, and it also would strike hard at the disposal of sewerage in the port.

The walkout over two separate disputes has left 220 ships stopped unloading of vital food cargoes, and threatens to spread to other ports in Britain in the worst flareup of labor unrest since the general strike of 1926.

Tuesday more than 10,000 of the striking 19,000 longshoremen marched six abreast in a mile-long file that wound through six miles of east end London streets. At a mass meeting, they voted to continue the walkout "until its conclusion."

The longshoremen started their strike over the unloading of meat cargoes for which they got the same piece rate of work pay for a slower and more complicated job. It originally involved 300 men at one dock but soon spread as other cargo handlers joined the walkout.

In the other dispute, 8,000 ship repair workers quit because of the laying off of five electricians in violation of what they charged as the "last-hired, first-fired" rule.

At Tilbury, 22 miles east of London, 1,000 members of the same Transport and General Workers Union voted not to strike, but later more than 800 of them walked off the job.

A strike committee said that if there is no sign of a settlement by tonight they will "spread the strike throughout the country."

The dock workers' dispute is not the only one to trouble London. A "go-slow" movement in the city's bus system also spread Tuesday.

Ninety-six of the 113 bus and trolley garages have been enforcing a ban against overtime which has reduced service.

Child Drowned In Brook Near Home

SYDNEY (CP)—Duncan Small, 22-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander P. Small of nearby Sydney River, toppled backwards into a small brook near his home Tuesday and drowned. It was believed the rain-soaked edge of the stream gave way.

700 Homeless In Haiti After Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel left a toll of death and destruction in Haiti Tuesday as it rolled ponderously through the Windward Passage toward the Atlantic ocean.

The storm's 115-mile-an-hour winds left several persons dead and upward of 700 homeless as it thundered across Haiti's southern peninsula which juts westward from the main body of the island.

Moving forward at the exact pace of only seven miles an hour, the storm's whirling winds caused damage of $550,000 in Haiti.

Winds rose to gale force in the Atlantic to the north of the Windward Passage as the tropical storm edged northward about 500 miles southeast of Miami. The Bahamas were warned against the approaching storm.

Cuba, on the west side of the Windward Passage, still had felt no high winds, but the storm's centre still approached that island's eastern tip.

Port au Prince was pelted by wind and rain but the Haitian capital is in a valley protected by mountains from heavy wind. Floods rushing out of the mountains offered a threat to both Cuba and Haiti.

Naval vessels sailed Monday from the big U. S. navy base at Guantanamo bay for the open sea to ride out the storm.

Senate Clerk Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—Horace V. Attfield, former chief clerk of the Senate's English minutes and journals branch for 27 years, died here Monday in hospital. Mr. Attfield, 65, retired last January. Born and educated in Carlisle, Eng., Mr. Attfield came to Canada in 1912.
