LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

"ARE YOU READY?"—Read Beer Bros. ad.

BAD ICE.—The ice is reported bad. Several persons walked across from Rocky Point today. Horses crossed at Westville.

A POINTER FOR CHARLOTTETOWN.—At Halifax recently a young lad was fined $1 or three hours in jail for smoking on the streets.

CITY TAXES.—The defaulters' list for city taxes for 1894 is now ready, and will be published next week. Defaulters had better pay up and avoid exposure.

POSTPONED.—The conversation to have been held under the auspices of the Caledonian Club on the 25th inst., has been indefinitely postponed on account of the skating races in the rink.

HOCKEY MATCH.—The Victoria Hockey Club have challenged the Charlottetown Hockey Club to a match. The latter have accepted and the game will take place on Tuesday evening, 29th inst., in the rink.

LECTURE.—Rev. Dr. Morrison, of St. Dunstan's College, delivered his lecture on "The Life of Daniel O'Connell" at Kelly's Cross last evening, under the auspices of St. Joseph's Literary Society. There was a large audience and the lecture was fully appreciated.

FIRE.—A barn owned by Henry Barnum, at North Tryon, was destroyed by fire last night. The cause of the fire is unknown. Six tons of hay and two hundred and fifty staves of grain, all the way in the barn, was destroyed. So far as we can find out there was no insurance.

DEBTORS WANTED.—The City of Charlottetown is open to purchase Provincial or city debentures to the amount of $4,000.00 for an investment for the Water Debenture Sinking Fund. Any persons desirous of selling same will please notify the City Clerk.

FOR THEIR EMPLOYERS.—During these hard times it is refreshing to give our readers an occasional evidence of prosperity. Mr. Mark Wright has kindly presented free tickets for the full privileges of the Y. M. C. A. reading room, gymnasium, educational classes, etc., to all the employees of his well-known and prosperous business establishment. Good!

AN ISLANDER INJURED.—It is reported that a young man named Frank Finnigan, belonging to Charlottetown, had his arm taken off in Boston recently as a result of an accident the particulars of which we have not ascertained. Finnigan is an employee of the Chelsea Electric Company. Before leaving Charlottetown he was employed by the Telephone Company.

CHARITY NEEDED.—S. P. C. A. Secretary W. MacDougall and a Transcriber reporter visited the house on Vulcan Street occupied by a woman named Mrs. Byers and five little children, one of whom is a cripple. The family here some time ago from P. E. Island, and are in a state of abject misery. The case is a sad one, and demands attention from the charitable disposed.—Moncton Transcript.

FUNERAL AT WEST RIVER.—The funeral of the late Alexander McKinnon, of West River, lot 65, was largely attended on Friday afternoon, 12th inst. Rev. W. Baker of Cornwall and McLean of Argyle Shrove officiated. The deceased was a young man of estimable Christian character, who had successfully made wealth during a sojourn of some ten years in Oregon, U. S., and had for a few months since settled down with a beautiful home and a bride. The community is saddened by his sudden demise, and much sympathy is felt for those who mourn the loss of a brother, a son and a husband.

PRISONER WANTS DAMAGES.—Mr. Alex. Hollingsworth, who has just completed a term of imprisonment in the county jail, appeared before the county council on Tuesday last, and demanded the following damages in connection with his imprisonment, viz., $1,000 for damages to health, which he claims was caused by lack of exercise while in jail, $1,000 for loss of insurance which he alleges was caused by the officials refusing to give him access to personal property to pay premiums, and several small sums for cleaning the cells in assisting to get the paper started. The council to the effect of the committee for investigation.—Truro Times.

A STORY WITH A MORAL.—The Calgary Herald has the following interesting little story to tell of Premier Bennett. The Premier is a printer and visited the North West some years ago. The party arrived at Calgary just as the Herald's first paper was about being started. The future Premier came into our office just as we were leaving on the office. Seeing the "pickle" we were in, he threw off his coat, rolled up his sleeves, and came gallantly to the rescue, doing invaluable service in assisting to get the paper started. The Calgary paper says the moral of the above bit of history, in the light of subsequent events, is plain: If you aspire to be Premier of your country, your first care should be to help the printer. If you can't set type for him, the next best thing is to subscribe for his paper, and pay in advance.

"ON WITH THE DANCE."—The genial and ever courteous proprietor of the Rankin House, Water Street, was "at home" last night to a large and merry assemblage of select ladies and gentlemen. For a time—until well into the night—they "chased the hours with flying feet," and thence the proprietor himself, it is said, had to pay tribute to Terpsichore, and "dipped the light fantastic" in good form, receiving rounds of well merited applause. The members of the Aberdeen Club, of Pownall St., found not to be outdone in the matter of hospitality, also treated their friends to a "club smoke and fireside entertainment." The fun was interspersed with variety sketches by the Club's specialists. The genial Mr. "Doc" danced a "piggyback" and rendered a manful solo to the delight of all present and his jokes and songs kept the company in the height of good humor. A selection by the Club's string band brought a very pleasant and profitable evening to a close.

GOOD ADVICE GIVEN.

The Lieutenant-Governor Addresses the Students of the Business College.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor visited the Charlottetown Business College this forenoon and was presented with the following address by the principal:

CITY TOWN BUSINESS COLLEGE, January 19, 1895. George W. Howland, Esq., Lieutenant-Governor of P. E. Island.

HONORABLE SIR:—As the principal of the Charlottetown Business College I have much pleasure in welcoming you on behalf of my students, to this institution. We regard your visit not only as a further evidence of your interest in all kinds of educational endeavor, but as an evidence of the markedly personal sympathies with which it is linked. Let me assure you, sir, that any counsel you may have to express will not be wasted on my students here. The principal and members of the Charlottetown Business College will appreciate your presence and your remarks here to-day not less warmly than have the pupils of the city schools before whom you already have appeared. Characterized, sir, as your addresses ever are, by their strong practical value, they are heard with pleasure by older as well as by younger students of the business man's art.

Assuming your honor speaks of our esteem and pleasure at your presence to-day, I beg to remain,

On behalf of my students, Yours most obediently, L. MILLER.

In reply, His Honor spoke as follows: At the request of your Principal, Mr. Miller, I have come here this morning to say a few words to you on the great work on which you are engaged in the Charlottetown Business College. It is of the greatest possible moment to this community that we should have such an institution as this in Charlottetown. The result of its work is manifested throughout our banks and public offices, as well as in the counting rooms of our merchants. The contrast of the present state of affairs with that of the past, presents itself to me with much more than a faint interest. This was in my early days. Then, book-keeping, for example, was only obtainable by several years of hard and patient toil in a mercantile office. The standard for penmanship was then much lower than now, and indeed such business handwriting as I observe in this college could scarcely be found anywhere, while typewriting was as unknown as the Egyptian art of embalming or the plastic cement of the round towers of past ages. In nearly the same category may be placed shorthand, telegraphy, banking, and the science of navigation. As the result of the teaching of this College we now have many expert bookkeepers, accountants, telegraph operators, shorthand and typewriters and navigators. In this connection might also be mentioned the special advantage offered by this institution to those who wish to prepare themselves for the examinations for the civil service of Canada. In this "Canada of Ours" with its steady development and progress, great resources and many industries, it is most necessary that you should be well equipped to take an active part in its busy life. Canada is yet but a young country, as a glance at its history will prove. In 1774 its population was but 90,000; in 1806 it was 430,000; in 1840, 1,534,000; and at Confederation (1867) it had reached 3,500,000. The declaration of independence, the population of the United States was forty times larger than that of Canada; it is now only twelve and a half times as large. The increase of population has been rapid and steady. The total imports into Canada have risen from $73,459,644 in 1868, to $129,074,268 in 1893; the exports from $57,567,888 to $118,564,352, and the aggregate trade from $213,027,532 to $247,643,532. The volume of trade in 1893 was considerably in excess of that of any year since confederation. Those of you who have read the newspapers of the past year will no doubt remember the great financial embarrassments which have occurred in the great republic to the south of us, wherein the year 1893, over two hundred national banks closed their doors, including state and private banks, savings banks and loan societies, over six hundred financial institutions succumbed. Early in the past year the well known American economist, Mr. D. A. Wells, wrote in the Forum:

"In the Dominion of Canada, separated territorially from us on the north by an imaginary line, there has been no panic, no unusual demand for money, no stoppage of industry, no restriction of trade, no increased rates of interest—in short, nothing beyond the ordinary course of events, except so far as these events may have been influenced by contingencies which may be termed a financial cyclone, whose pathway of destruction was contiguous to but not within Canadian territory."

I have presented to you these few figures to show you what an amount of careful banking management, bookkeeping, etc., was necessary to bring about such good results, as well as to bring to your notice the solidity of our banks and banking system, and to present to your minds an idea of the greatness of your country. There never was a time in the history of Canada when she wanted able, energetic, experienced and loyal hearted men more than at present. You are now or will shortly be stepping out on the great platform of her busy life, and I hope that you will make such use of your time here as will enable you to confer honor and dignity on yourselves and credit on your alma mater.

Within the past few weeks you have read of the funeral of the late Right Honorable Sir John Thompson, and also of the great kindness bestowed on him and his family by our royal mother Queen Victoria. He was one of the noblest sons of Canada. He has left behind him a character a study of which will reveal to you the vision of a great and good man who gave to his Queen and country his talents and the best years of his life. His opportunities were no better than yours. He has opened the way to the high position of the gift of the Cross, which like him you may attain by assiduity, perseverance and industry. There is room enough in this great Dominion for all those who will make a proper use of their opportunities and abilities, your opportunities are great, and I am sure you will fully value them, so that you may become worthy sons and daughters of your beautiful Island home.

CONCERT IN ST. JAMES' HALL.

The concert of the Little Jewels Mission Band in St. James' Hall last night was an unqualified success. The hall was completely filled with a most attentive audience.

The programme consisted of dialogues, duets, choruses, and recitations. The spectacular dialogue entitled "The Genius of Christianity," by seven members of the Young Girls' Mission Band, showed evidence of dramatic power, and the costumes were very artistically arranged. But the charm of the evening consisted in the pure sweet voices of the little ones as they blended in song and chorus. When all did so well, it would be invidious to particularize, but we cannot help referring to a duet by the two little daughters of Mr. John Sanders. The lispings attempts of the little ones to pronounce some of the words added to the charm of their sweet voices, and they had to respond to a well merited encore. St. James' choir rendered a fine chorus, and Miss Blanche McDougall gave a piano solo with her usual brilliant execution. Too much credit cannot be given to Miss Brown, for the careful training of her Mission Band, which resulted in a really first-rate performance, without a hitch of any kind. We trust that we shall have the pleasure of listening to another children's concert in St. James' Hall before the close of the season.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

OPINION OF A SON OF THE HEATHER.

Sir,—One "Don Quixote" has made a bad mistake about kerosene oil. I made up what I paid last year for kerosene oil, duty and all, and find that it was not half what the income tax came to. Why didn't you make fun of that "whopper" about a man not coming here to live because of the oil duties. I always think that you treat the featherhead of the Guardian too seriously. You should remember the injunction of Scripture to "answer a fool according to his folly." Yours, SCOTTY.

LITTLE TO CHOOSE.

Sir,—The Guardian tells an untruth when he says that Canadian oil is "crude and filthy." I have used both kinds in my house and find one about as good as the other. Between them there is little to choose—except the price. RED AX.

HOUSEKEEPER.

WE are pleased to learn that the complimentary banquet to be tendered to the Dominion representatives, Messrs. Macdonald and Maclean, will be well attended, as the secretary informs us that over fifty tickets have already been called for. The speeches of the evening will no doubt be of the highest order, as we are informed that Senator Ferguson (our lately-appointed Cabinet Minister), Senator Macdonald, Richard Hunt, Esq., and C. Shaw, M.P., have secured tickets. These, with the guests of the evening, who are both able and pleasing speakers, will make the banquet something long to be remembered.

We trust that Senator Ferguson will be able to give us a promise of his support in the Cabinet for the building of a branch line of railroad from Harroway Station to North Lake, a distance of about twelve miles.

The Queen vs. William Macdonald.—Indictment for attempting to obtain money by false pretences. Stewart, Q. C., opened the case for the prisoner this forenoon. Macdonald will give evidence this afternoon.

The Queen vs. William Taylor.—Indicted for assault. The prisoner was called yesterday, but made default, and his bail was forfeited.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—There will be a meeting of the Teacher's Institute in the Y. M. C. A. this (Saturday) evening at 7.30, at which meeting the regular lessons in Music (solf-ge) and drawing will be given, after which a discussion on the best method of teaching Arithmetic will be taken up. All the teachers are requested to attend.

ALICE SAMER MELICAN MAN.—Miss Grace French, Sunday School teacher and social favorite, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who married a Chinese laundryman two years ago, against the wishes of her parents, has returned to the latter, and her husband, Mr. Lee, advises that he will not be responsible for her debts, etc.
