The Waterworks Incorporation Bill.

(Concluded.)

22. Immediately upon payment or deposit of the sum awarded and the costs being made as aforesaid for any lands, lot or parcel of land referred to in any such petition, the said company shall be and be deemed the rightful purchasers and owners of the fee simple and inheritance of such lot or parcel of land with the appurtenances thereof or otherwise the tenants thereof for such term as in their petition on the award may be set forth, so far as the true and right ownership of the said lot or parcel of land may have been correctly set forth in such petition, or have the use of the lands set forth in said petition for the purposes as prayed therein, and thereupon upon application of the said company it shall and may be lawful for the said court, or any judge thereof, on proof made of such payment or deposit, as the case may be, by any order or orders to be made in the matter of the said petition to require the party or parties in possession of or claiming title to any lot or parcel of land for which such payment has been made or deposit made, as aforesaid, to deliver up possession of the same to the said company, or to authorize the said company to enter into such lot by any of the officers or servants of the said company, and to retain such possession or to use the same for the purposes aforesaid, and further, if need be, by an order or orders of the said Court or a Judge thereof, to empower the Sheriff or his deputy to put the said company, by its officers or servants, into quiet possession of such lands and premises, and likewise, by an order or order of said Court or a Judge thereof, to require and direct any such persons so interested in any such lands, parcel or lot so valued and paid for as aforesaid, or in case of their absence from the Island, then the person in charge thereof, as aforesaid, to make, sign, seal and execute all such deeds, grants, conveyances or demises as may be necessary for the purpose of conveying or demising the same to the said company, and in case of neglect or refusal on the part of any person or persons to comply with any such orders, then, as the case may be, require obedience to, and compliance with the same shall be enforced by the usual process thereof to be issued by the said Court or a Judge thereof, or other court of competent jurisdiction: Provided always that should the first award be contested or sought to be reviewed or set aside by any of the parties thereto, or by others claiming interest in the lands and premises mentioned in said petition, that then the said company upon paying into said Supreme Court the full sum awarded under such first award and the probable cost thereof shall notwithstanding such contestation or other proceedings to review or set aside, be entitled to the possession or use of the lands and premises mentioned in said petition and as prayed therein, and have the same right to the process of the Court or a Judge thereof to enforce such possession or use, as if such first award was not being contested, opened up, or sought to be altered, reviewed, or set aside.

23. The surveyor, or other person acting under the authority of the company, may between the hours of nine of the clock in the forenoon, and four o'clock in the afternoon, enter into any house or premises supplied with water, in order to inspect the meters, instruments, pipes, and apparatus, for the measuring, conveyance, or reception of water, and for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of water supplied or consumed, and to remove any meter, instrument, pipe or apparatus, the property of the company, to examine if there be any waste or misuse of such water.

24. Every person who shall bathe in any reservoir or aqueduct, or in any spring brook, stream, river, or other running water, flowing into any reservoir, aqueduct, or other waterworks belonging to the company, or shall wash, throw, or cause to enter therein, any dog or other animal, or who shall throw any rubbish, dirt, filth, or other noisome thing therein, or wash, or cleanse therein any cloth, wool, leather, or skin of any animal or other thing, or which shall cause the water of any sink, sewer, or drain, steam engine, boiler, or other filthy matter belonging to him, or under his control to run or be brought therein, or shall do any other act, whereby the water of the company shall be fouled, shall forfeit to the said company for every such offence the sum of one hundred dollars, and such penalty shall be recovered, with full costs of suit, in the Supreme Court of this Province, together with the further sum of five dollars for each day (if more than one) that any of such offences be continued; but such penalty shall not be recoverable unless it be sued for during the continuance of the offence, or within three months after it has ceased.

25. And with respect to the water required by such company, it is hereby enacted that, when the said company shall require to take or use any spring, brook, stream, or other running water, they shall make to the owners of and all parties interested in such spring, brook, stream or running water, taken or used for the purpose of this Act, or injuriously affected by the construction or maintenance of the works thereby authorized or otherwise by the execution of the powers hereby conferred full compensation for the water of the spring, brook, stream or running water so taken or used, and for all damage sustained by such owners, occupiers and other persons by reason of the exercise in relation thereto of the powers vested in the said company by virtue of this Act.
The amounts of such compensation, in case the company cannot agree thereto with such owner, occupier or other person, shall be determined in the manner hereinafter provided for by this Act, in relation to the lands and premises taken by said company, which shall settle, include and satisfy determine all present, current, or future compensation and damages of every kind and nature whatsoever.

26. After the streams or supplies of water hereby authorized to be taken by the company, shall have been so taken, every person who shall illegally divert or take the waters supplying or flowing into the streams so taken, or any part thereof, or who shall do any unlawful act whereby the said streams or supplies of water may be drawn off or diminished in quantity, and who shall not immediately repair the injury done by him or her on being required so to do by the company, so as to restore the said waters to the state in which they were, shall forfeit to the company any sum which shall be awarded by any court of competent jurisdiction, not exceeding twenty dollars for every day during which the said supply of water shall be diverted or diminished by reason of any act done or by the authority of such person, and any sum so forfeited shall be in addition to the sum which he may be lawfully adjudged liable to pay to the Company for any damage which they may sustain by reason of their supply of water being diminished, and the payment of the sum so forfeited, shall not bar or effect the right of the company to bring or raise an action at law against such person for the damage so committed. Provided always that nothing herein contained shall prevent the owners and occupiers, for the time being, of lands through or by which such streams shall flow from using the waters thereof in such manner and to such extent as they might have done before the passing of this Act, unless they shall have received compensation in respect of their right of using such water.

27. All shares in the said company and in the undertaking for which it is established, and in the profits and advantages thereof, shall be deemed and be taken to be personal estate to all intents and purposes whatsoever, and shall be assign-able and transferable accordingly; but no share shall be divisible or divided, or assigned in parts; and the several shareholders or subscribers to the said undertaking respectively, and their several and respective executors, administrators and assigns shall not except as hereinafter provided, be liable to any debts of or against the said company, beyond the amount of their several and respective subscriptions, or the shares they may severally and respectively hold or possess in the said company; nor under any calls or assessments to be made by the said company or board of directors, nor in any way, nor by any means, nor on any pretence whatsoever, be liable to the payment of any greater sum of money in the whole than the sum of twenty-five dollars, on or for each several share subscribed for, or held by, or standing in the name of such subscriber or shareholder at the time of ordering any call or assessment, and that the said sum of twenty-five dollars shall include all the calls and payments to be made on one share, and that no greater sum than twenty-five dollars in the whole shall be paid on any one share in the said company.

28. The said joint stock and real and personal estate of the said company shall be liable for and subject to the payment of all debts contracted by the said company, and none of the present or future members of the said company shall be liable for the payment of any debt contracted beyond the amount of the calls and assessments due and unpaid on the shares of the stock held by such individual members; provided always that if the directors of the company shall by any contract or engagement incur any responsibility for any sum or sums of money beyond the amount of the shares subscribed for without the sanction of the said company first had or obtained at some general or special meeting of the said company, to be called and summoned agreeably to the by-laws of the said company, the directors of the said company shall be held and deemed personally liable for the amount so by them incurred.

29. It shall and may be lawful for the company to borrow, either in this Province or out of it, and either in sterling money or currency, and at such legal rate of interest as the directors may from time to time agree upon, on mortgage, bond, debenture or other instrument, such sums of money as they shall require for the purposes aforesaid, and for securing the re-payment of the money so borrowed with interest, it shall be lawful for the said company to mortgage, secure, and assign real estate, works, rates, revenues and rents, and the future calls on the shareholders of the company, or to give bonds and debentures in such manner as shall appear most expedient, payable either in currency or sterling money, and either within or without the Province, and such bonds, debentures, or other security to be granted, may be made payable to bearer, or made transferable by simple endorsement or otherwise, as the directors see fit, provided always that no such bond, debenture, or other security, shall be made or granted for a less sum than one hundred dollars.

30. The respective obligees in such bonds or debentures, whereby the rents, revenues, or future calls or payments due the said company, shall be secured, shall proportionally, according to the amount of money secured, thereby, be entitled to be paid out of rents, revenues, or future calls of the company, the respective sums in such bonds or debentures mentioned, and thereby intended to be secured without any preference one above another, by reason of priority of date of any such bond or debenture, or of meeting at which the same was authorized or otherwise howsoever, and no such bonds or debentures, although they should comprise future calls on shareholders, shall preclude the company from receiving and applying such future calls to the purposes of the company, so long as the money due on all such bonds or debentures does not exceed the amount of all the calls still remaining unpaid.

31. Notwithstanding anything in this Act contained, it shall and may be lawful for the directors of the said company, from time to time, and as often and when they see fit, without the formality of passing a by-law to that effect, specially by resolution to that effect, to be entered upon the books of the said company, to authorize the President of the said company, to sign such particular bonds, mortgages, contracts, or instruments as it may, in the opinion of the directors, be necessary or expedient, so to sign and affix the common seal of the company thereto, and it shall also be lawful in like manner for the president to be, from time to time, authorized, as aforesaid, to draw, sign or accept such particular promissory notes or bills of exchange for the purpose of the said company, without seal, as it may, in the opinion of the directors, be necessary or expedient so to sign, and all such bonds, contracts, mortgages, and instruments so signed and sealed by the President authorized, as aforesaid, and all such notes and bills of exchange so signed, drawn or accepted by the President, authorized as aforesaid, shall be binding on the said company, and be held to be the act and deed of the said company, provided that no bond, bill, or other instrument, signed, or sealed and sealed by any such officer or officers of said company, shall be of any force or effect, or binding upon the company unless the same shall have been so signed or signed and sealed under the authority of the directors by a resolution as aforesaid, nor in any action, suit or proceeding to which the said company shall be a party, shall the election of the President of the said company be liable to be questioned by any party except the said company, nor shall it be necessary for the company in any suit to prove the election or appointment, or authority of any President, but the same shall be presumed unless disputed by the said company; and provided also that in any action, suit, or proceeding on any such bond, bill, note, contract, or other instrument, so signed or sealed and sealed as aforesaid, or in which the said company may be engaged, copies of the minutes of proceedings and resolves of the proprietors of shares of the capital stock of the said company at any general or special meeting, or of the directors at their meetings, extracted from their minutes book or books, kept by the secretary of the company, and by him duly certified on oath before a Judge of the Supreme Court, or before a commissioner duly authorized to take affidavits to be used in the court in which such action suit or proceeding is brought, to be true copies extracted from such minute book or books, and bearing the seal of the said company, shall be held as evidence of the action of the corporation or directors in the matter therein referred to, as well as of the election of any president therein named, provided that all bonds, bills, notes, contracts or other instruments so signed or signed and sealed as aforesaid, shall be countersigned by the secretary of the said company.

32. All acts done by any meeting of the directors, or by any person acting as a director shall, notwithstanding it shall afterwards be discovered that there was some defect or error in the appointment or qualification of any person attending such meeting as a director or acting as aforesaid, be as valid as if such person had been duly appointed and was qualified to be a director.

33. It shall not be lawful for any stockholder at any meeting to vote on any stock which shall not have been held in his own name or the name of a firm in which he may be partner, or by the party for whom any person shall vote by proxy, for at least one month previous to the time at which such vote may be sought to be given, nor shall it be lawful for any stockholder, who is, or shall become indebted to the company for water, rent, fixtures, or otherwise to transfer any shares of stock held by him until payment be made to the company of all sums of money due by such shareholder.

34. The company shall not make any dividend whereby their capital stock will be in any degree reduced, nor shall any dividend be paid in respect of any share until all calls then due in respect of that or any other share held by the person to whom such dividend may be payable shall have been paid, and it shall be lawful for the company to deduct from the amount of dividend payable to any person who may not have paid the instalments on the day the same were respectively called for on any shares at any time owned by him, such sum as would be equal to interest on the unpaid call or calls, from the time at which the same ought to have been paid until the time when the same was or were actually paid, or to the period of payment of the first dividend from which such interest may be deducted and reserved by the company.

35. If any person or persons, company or companies, or body corporate, supplied with water by this company, shall neglect to pay any rate rent or charge due to the said company, at any of the times fixed for the payments thereof, it shall be lawful for the said company or any person acting under their authority, on giving twenty-four hours previous notice, to stop the water from entering the premises, and service pipes of any such person, company or body, by cutting off the service pipe or pipes, or by such other means as the said company shall see fit, and to recover the said rent, or charge due up to such time together with the expenses of cutting-off the water in any competent court notwithstanding any contract to furnish for a longer time; and in all cases where it shall be lawful for the said company to cut off and take away the supply of water from any house building or premises under the provisions of this Act, it shall be lawful for the company, their agents and workmen, upon giving twenty-four hours previous notice to the occupier or person in charge to enter into any such house, building or premises at any reasonable time in the day making as little disturbance or inconvenience as possible, and to remove, take and carry away any pipe, meter, cock fitting or apparatus, the property of and belonging to the said company, and it shall also be lawful for any servants of the said company duly authorized to enter any house into which water has been or be taken at any reasonable time in the day time for the purpose of inspecting, examining and repairing any meter pipe or apparatus belonging to the said company or used for supplying their water; and if any person or persons refuse to permit or do not permit the servants and officers of the said company to enter and perform the acts aforesaid, any such person so refusing or obstructing shall incur a penalty to the said company for every such refusal or obstructing a sum not to exceed twenty dollars and a further penalty of four dollars for every day during which such neglect, refusal or obstruction shall continue to be recovered with costs at the suit of the said company in any court of competent jurisdiction. Said fines, penalties, and costs may be levied by distress from the goods and chattels of defendant, and in case the defendant has no goods to satisfy the same then he shall be committed to the common jail of such county for such period not exceeding two months as the said court may direct.

36. The fact of the purchase or sale of any lands, hereditaments or premises or any interest therein or in the waters covering the same being compulsory and not voluntary shall not entitle any proprietor or owner thereof to any compensation by reason of such compulsory purchase or sale, the object of this Act being to enable any such proprietor or owner, compelled to sell as aforesaid, to obtain a fair indemnity or equivalent for the value of his interest and no more.

JOHN A. McDONALD,
Speaker.
House of Assembly, April 4, 1884.
JOHN BALDWIN,
President.
Council Chamber, April 10, 1884.

The absurd restrictions placed by the government on the Russian press tend to keep the people in the dark as to the actual amount of the danger from the secret organizations. The police spies proceed in their vexatious inquisitions as if every society, no matter what its object, were formed for some criminal purpose.
Clubs which in England would be looked upon as harmless trades unions are dogged and persecuted as though they were conspiring against the order and peace of society. If the press were allowed to
