

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 9, 1888.

The Situation in the States.

LATER advices from the States confirm the news that the Republicans were signal-ly victorious in the Presidential fight. There is but one change to be made in the returns obtained on the night of the elections. Connecticut will be counted for the Democrats in the Electoral College; and the vote will be, for Harrison, 233; for Cleveland, 168.

The fact that no one has been found to charge that Mr. Harrison is a thief, liar, debauchee, or anything worse than a "weak kneed, second-rate man" may be taken as an indication that his personal character is as nearly spotless as it can be; and, if he does not fall under the malign influence of Blaine, it is possible that the President-elect will make for himself a very creditable record. His administration will, however, labor under a disadvantage similar to that which hampered the movements of his predecessor, the only difference being that it was the Senate which opposed Cleveland's policy, and it is the House of Representatives which will oppose that of Harrison.

The Democratic majority in the House of Representatives will—unless it can be "bought over" or "forced into line"—prevent the Republicans from carrying out a vigorous, radical or particularly brilliant policy. As the Senate disposed of the Mills Bill, so we may be sure the House of Representatives will dispose of a bill to make whiskey free of duty, or a bill to add materially to the protective or prohibitive tendencies of the tariff; and as the Senate refused its assent to the Fisheries Treaty, so, it may be taken for granted, the House of Representatives will find means to defeat any arrangement for the settlement of the fishery dispute which will reflect credit upon the administration on account of the good sense, good feeling and fair play displayed in it. It is but just to Mr. Harrison to say that the conditions in which he will labor are such that a striking or splendid course of policy will be for him impossible—unless the conditions be changed—and that he cannot be relied upon or expected to enforce the opinions of his administration as to the will of the nation respecting any question of public policy.

The will of the nation concerning the question of Protection has, however, been expressed so emphatically that neither party in the United States will dare attempt to lower the wall which divides American labor and foreign competition. At the opening of the campaign, we hoped that evidence might be found, in the election, of a disposition to reciprocate trade with Canada. We did not hope for Commercial Union or Unrestricted Reciprocity—Canada wants neither. But we hoped that the Mills Bill might again be taken up; and that, mayhap, a few additional articles—particularly potatoes—might be added to the free list embodied in it. But, no! The fiat has gone forth. Nothing shall interfere with the working out of the principle of Protection to all the industries in the United States.

What a rude awakening of the oppositionist politicians of Canada who went through the land, previous to the general election, spouting volumes of wrath upon Sir John Macdonald because he had not placed Canada in the position of a beggar at the gates of Washington, because he had not gone down on his knees and asked and obtained the boon of Reciprocity from the magistrates of the United States! The electors of Prince Edward Island who were deluded by the vapor and vituperation of Mr. L. H. Davies and his followers will now know who was rightly informed as to the policy of the United States, and whose course, in respect to Reciprocity, was the wisest: that followed by the Government, or that proposed by the Opposition.

Supreme Court.

FRIDAY, Nov. 6. Duncan McEwen vs. John Robertson.—The court this morning gave judgment in this matter, discharging the rule nisi for a non-suit with costs. Stephen Ayer vs. George B. Sims.—Tried at Summerside October Term. Verdict for defendant. On motion of Mr. N. McLeod for plaintiff, the Court grants a rule nisi for a new trial, returnable Hilary Term next. Francis Finnigan and another vs. Francis Bradley and others.—Tried Trinity Term last. Verdict for plaintiff for $72.55. Mr. Hodgson, Q. C., is now showing cause against a rule nisi for new trial. The combination of ingredients found in Ayer's Pills renders them tonic and curative as well as cathartic. For this reason they are the best medicine for people of costive habit, as they restore the natural action of the bowels, without debilitating.

The Presidential Election.

NO INTEREST IN ENGLAND. A London despatch says that General Harrison's victory caused no excitement in diplomatic circles. As was expected the public has shown no interest in the election. Salisbury, Gladstone and Balfour had made arrangements to obtain at the earliest moment bulletins of the result of the elections. Mr. Phelps, American minister, says he hopes the returns from Michigan and Ohio will turn the tide.

SORRY FOR ONE THING.

Says the London Times: "Though we believe President Cleveland's internal policy and his administration more remarkable for capacity and uprightness than anything to which the Republicans can point in recent years, we cannot profess regret at the event which may be regarded as an appropriate penalty for his discreditable subservience to the meanest influences of American politics and his culpable neglect of the doctrines of international intercourse. We are sincerely sorry a change of government involves the retirement of Minister Phelps, who has performed his duties with marked ability and adroitness and won over our esteem and friendship."

JUDGE THURMAN SUMS UP.

Judge Thurman, the Democratic candidate for the Vice-Presidency, said, after the result was known: "In fact, it looks as if the people of the United States have decided that the tariff is not a tax, and they are the arbiters in the case. If they have decided so, nobody will acquiesce in their decision more quickly than I."

Personal.

Curious though it be, it is not uncommon to see a cold water man boil with rage. W. S. Gilbert, the English librettist, has dramatised George Eliot's "Romola." It will cost the Emperor of China nearly $10,000,000 to learn how to be happy, though married. Judge Armstrong, of Sorel, has taken action for $20,000 damages for false arrest against the Hochelaga Cotton Company. Mr. J. T. Hawke, of the Transcript, is in a critical condition at his home in Moncton. He is suffering from typhoid fever. Gen. Boulanger dresses with extreme elegance. When in a civilian's attire he is one of the most fashionable men in Paris. So Professor Goldwin Smith is to try and revive that dead duck the Commercial Union on Chib. Friends with galvanic batteries are requested to be on hand. Rev. Mr. Carruthers lectured in McGregor's Hall, New Glasgow, N. S., on Thursday evening. His subject was "Shakespeare's Macbeth." The lecture is highly spoken of. Premier Greenway says the Government will take other steps to vindicate themselves from the charges made by the Call and Free Press, now that the libel suits have fallen through. Mrs. Catherine Aspel, of Philadelphia, has just recovered $872.75 from Job Smith, of the same city, for calling her "a daisy." There is a warning in this for some Charlottetown young men. W. P. Colwill and two daughters left here in the Boston boat yesterday on their way to Seattle, W. T., where Mr. Colwill has started a branch business, and where he thinks of settling. The business will be carried on here as usual until spring to clear out balance of stock. The fact of Mr. Chamberlain's departure for the United States on board of the Cunard Line steamer Aurania, which sailed from Queenstown on Sunday last, was guarded with the utmost secrecy, in fear that it would influence voting in the American elections on Tuesday. A special stateroom had been engaged for him on the steamer, and he rigidly secluded himself until the vessel left Queenstown. His name does not appear on the list of passengers. The Queen, who is still at Balmoral, attended Catholic parish church on Sunday, October 21, and partook of the sacrament as administered in the Church of Scotland. Her Majesty was accompanied by Prince and Princess Henry of Battenberg, Princess Frederica, and Lady Errol, all of whom joined in communion. Rev. A. A. Campbell, the parish minister officiating. It is the Queen's custom to thus signify her regard for the church of her northern subjects as well as her official connection with it.

What to Wear.

(Selected from Weldon's Popular Fashion Publications by permission.) Red is very prominent again in dress goods, and is much used as a relief to darker colors—grey, navy dark green, and some of the fancy patterns for collars, cuffs, plastrons, &c. Some materials are shown with a fringe border in the style of Scotch shawls. Bordered dresses promise to be very fashionable. An effective border seen a few days since had the border woven of tinsel and silk in quite an Oriental effect. The most fashionable draperies are deep, and not too fully draped—many of them caught up on the hip with an immense buckle. Both long mantles and short jackets are worn, tweeds and smooth cloths being mostly used, and checks, stripes and plain equally correct. Hats with low crowns and brims which shoot out wide in front are to be worn, whilst bonnets remain small, and both are trimmed high in front. Long feathers are decidedly returning to favor for the large hats. Satin-edged fallie ribbon is fashionable, but the greatest novelties are the bordered and watered ribbons. The latest novelty in dresses for children is the director's style. Beer Bros. are receiving new goods from Great Britain every week, and therefore are in a position to supply the latest novelties in every department. Two SUDDEN DEATHS.—Says the Farmer: Two very sudden deaths occurred in the neighborhood of Long River a few days ago. On last Thursday evening after tea Mr. William McKay, of Stanley, went out to the field to do some work, and his not coming home soon caused the family to go and see if anything was the matter, when they found him on the ground speechless. He was taken home only to linger till Saturday when life became extinct. The funeral took place on last Monday. Mr. Richard Found, miller, of Long River, was present. That evening Mr. Found went to the mill, after he had returned from the interment, to take in a grist, and while standing by the cart he suddenly dropped to the ground. He lingered till next morning in much the same state as Mr. McKay, not being able to speak to any one, when he expired.

Meeting of Presbytery.

THE Presbytery of P. E. Island met in Summerside on the evening of Tuesday, 6th inst., for the purpose of hearing Mr. Henry Dickie's ordination trials. There were present, Revs. Alex. Sterling, J. M. McLeod, Arthur F. Carr, M. A., Wm. P. Archibald, B. A., Alex. Raulston, George McMillan, B. A., E. Gillies, Mal. Campbell, George Fisher, J. R. Coffin, Thomas Corbett, J. M. McLeod, M. A., and Wm. Tuffis, M. A., ministers, and Dr. McKay, James Carruthers and Henry A. Stewart, elders. Mr. Dickie's ordination trials were heard and cordially sustained. On Wednesday morning the Presbytery again met, when reports from Catechists were received and disposed of. The Clerk was authorized to moderate in a call in the congregations of West and Clyde Rivers as soon as he shall find them prepared to proceed. The following committees were appointed, viz:— Augmentation—Rev. Geo. McMillan, James Carruthers, A. McL. Sinclair, A. F. Carr, J. R. Coffin, A. W. Mahon, T. C. James and Dr. McKay. Systematic Benevolence—Rev. George Fisher, J. G. Cameron and T. C. James. State of Religion—Rev. J. R. Coffin, A. F. Carr, Thos. Corbett and Dr. McKay. Sabbath Schools—Rev. A. B. McLeod, Henry Dickie, M. A., and James Carruthers. Book of Forms—Rev. J. M. McLeod, A. McL. Sinclair and Alex. Raulston. Temperance—Rev. A. W. Mahon, John M. McLeod, M. A., Wm. Tuffis, M. A., and James Carruthers, elders. The amount required from the Presbytery of P. E. I., for the Augmentation Fund this year is $975 and the Presbytery agreed to ask the congregations to contribute the same amounts this year as last, with the following changes, viz:—Montague, $30; Georgetown, $20; and Caladonia, $15. Rev. Archibald Brown tendered his resignation of the congregation of Richmond Bay East. The resignation was allowed to lie on the table, and Mr. Corbett appointed to exchange with Mr. Brown, intimate the fact of his resignation and cite the congregation to appear for their interests at a Meeting of Presbytery to be held at Summerside on 11th December, at 11 o'clock a. m. According to notice given, Rev. A. Sterling, in an earnest and eloquent address, introduced his motion, aent the support of a foreign missionary, by the members of this Presbytery. The motion received considerable support from the members present, but on motion it was agreed to allow the motion to lie on the table until next quarterly meeting. Mr. Stephen was appointed to West and Clyde Rivers. On Wednesday evening the Presbytery, according to previous arrangement, proceeded with the ordination and induction of Mr. Henry Dickie, M. A. The edict having been returned duly served, was read a third time in the hearing of the congregation, and no objections having been offered against the life, literature, or doctrine of Mr. Dickie, Rev. J. M. McLeod, M. A., preached an able and appropriate sermon on 2nd Cor., iv:5. Rev. Mr. McMillan narrated the steps already taken. The Moderator put the usual questions, which, being satisfactorily answered, Mr. Dickie was, by prayer and the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery, ordained and set apart to the office of the pastoral charge of the congregation of Summerside. Rev. Mr. Archibald then in well chosen words addressed "the minister, and Rev. J. M. McLeod, of Charlottetown, the congregation. Rev. Mr. Carr closed the interesting service by invoking the Divine blessing on pastor and people. The Rev. Mr. Dickie received the usual welcome from the congregation on their retiring from the church, and was introduced to the session as their future Moderator, and his name, on motion, was added to the roll of Presbytery. The trustees then came forward and gave Mr. Dickie a cheque for the first instalment of his salary. J. M. McLeod, Presby Clerk.
