ROBIN HURLS NO-HITTER AGAINST S'SIDE

Local Hurler Realizes Ambition In Exhibition Tilt Against Summerside

Allowing not a single bingle nor run in eight innings Ernie Robin, last night entered baseball's "Hall of Fame" when he hurled the local Dodgers to a 7-0 victory over Summerside All-Stars in an exhibition baseball encounter. It was a brilliant performance by the heady sou'wester and one that came after he had threatened on several previous occasions to pitch the much sought after no hitter. He was always in complete command as he made batters pop up or ground out and although in difficulties several times as his mates wobbled behind him he always came through in the pinches.

Midget Softball League Opens This Evening

The initial game of a midget softball league will take place this evening at 8 o'clock sharp on Holy Redeemer Parish diamond. The league is under the guidance of Mr. Jack McCourt. Two teams have entered to date and it is expected that a third team will hand in its entry shortly.

Dr. Chas. F. Dougan has kindly donated a suitable trophy for this league. No doubt this kind act of Dr. Dougan's will help greatly to stimulate interest among the midgets.

Biggar And Leslie In Training

George Leslie, Island heavyweight boxing champion, puts his crown on the block July 17th when he meets Stan Biggar, local challenger for the title. The bout, to be fought between two big, evenly matched men should provide a stirring spectacle once the heaviest start firing punches at each other.

Biggar, living up to his name in every respect, has been in training the past six weeks and is rapidly nearing the peak of condition. Daily workouts combined with tough roadwork prepares him for a long, hard fight and his sparring mates claim there is plenty sting to his punches.

Leslie, a boy who always keeps in condition, is also in training. He regards Biggar as a very serious challenger and with this in mind is aiming to be in the best shape of his career. If he is, Biggar is going to have a very tough time in dislodging his crown.

Bakery Defeat Superiors 11-9

Stewart's Bakery softball team are still undefeated in City League softball circles but only by the narrowest of margins. Last night the battling Superiors threw a big scare into their ranks when they led the Doughboys right up to the ninth only to fall with victory in their grasp by an 11-9 count. Stewart trailed 9-8 going in for their last turn at bat but their fighting spirit wasn't to be denied and they pushed across three big runs with Murley and Whalen providing the all-important punch. It was a tough loss for the Superiors but in losing they clearly showed they are to be reckoned with before league champions are decided.

By Guardian's Special Wire) AMHERST, N.S., July 7. — Roy Oliver of New Glasgow, N.S., who ran for Canada in the last British Empire Games, has been added to the Maritime team journeying to Montreal for the Canadian Olympic trials, officials of the Maritime Provinces branch of the Amateur Athletic Union said here today.

Vancouver Mermaid Breaks Own Canadian Record In Qualifying For Trials Final

(By Elmer Dulmage, Canadian Press Staff Writer) MONTREAL, July 7. — Queen of the Empire's women swimmers, Phyllis Dewar of Vancouver signalled her return to the eastern waters here tonight by breaking her own Canadian record for 100 yards to reach the Olympic trials final in the event.

The former Moose Jaw speedster trounced her old rival, Irene Pirie Milton, with surprising ease in the first semi-final heat of the sprint event and the clocks caught her in seconds, a full second under the record.

She led Mrs. Milton, veteran of two Olympiads, by three yards and seemed to take the business at hand only casually after racing furiously into a big lead at one half way mark.

Against the scorching pace set by Miss Dewar, Noel Oxenbury of New Westminster, B.C. faded early and was beaten out in a close race for third place by Miss Stone. Roberta McDonald of Fort William, third entry in the other heat, was well back.

Miss McDonald surprised critics by placing second to Miss McConkey in an afternoon heat. But one flashy Edmonton swimmer and Miss Fulton battled it out in the semi-final, leaving the Fort William swimmer far behind. The time was 64.4 and only the third finisher in the faster heat reached the final.

Easy Victory For Pirie Leslie, Toronto's champion of champions, equalled his own Canadian record of 54.2 in the 100 yards free style final. He was not over-pressed by George Larsen of Hamilton, who came from behind to place second, and big Ben Gazelle of Toronto, third.

It seemed likely that veteran Munroe Bourne of Montreal, a big home favorite, might make it interesting for Pirie but the former McGill and Oxford student fatigued completely.

Bourne won his heat impressively in 54.8, beating both Gazelle and Larsen. But in the final he fell steadily behind Pirie, whose time was 55.4 seconds. The time was 2.4 seconds short of the Canadian record held by Phyllis Haslam of Saskatoon who did not compete.

Miss Trump scored decisively over little Joan Langdon of Vancouver, who was second, and Kay Reynolds of Toronto, a good third. Neither forced the Victoria stylist to go after a record.

Also considerably too good for his opposition, Gerald Clawson of Toronto won the 200 breast stroke for men in 2:43.7, far away from the record. But Clawson was far away from his closest challenger, too.

About 30 feet behind the leader, Tom Prentice and Bill Puddy, club mates at West End Y, Toronto, battled away for second place and Prentice won. Puddy, former Empire Games competitor, tired near the finish and lost by inches.

Slow Times The men's quarter-mile heats provided slow times. Pirie won the first in 5:09.2 with Bobby Hamerton of Winnipeg at his shoulder all the way. The slender young Hamerton seemed tireless as he hung to Pirie's moderate crawl.

Roger Ramsay of Toronto was third with Larsen fourth. After his game attempt to beat Pirie in the 100 yard final, Larsen had little left for the longer race. In the second heat, Gordon Devlin of Toronto led a slow parade to win in 5:20. Bobby Hooper of Vancouver was content to trail along and qualify for the final in second place with Archie Byers of Vancouver third eliminated.

Hooper made no attempt to go after Devlin and stayed back with Byers until the last two 25-yard lengths of the tank. Then he sprinted away from Byers and took second without difficulty.

British Marksmen In Lead

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) BISLEY CAMP, Surrey, July 7.—British marksmen led the way in today's events at the National Rifle Association's annual Bisley meet.

Major D. M. Lindsay of the 77th Foresters won the King's medal for the territorial army with a score of 396. This is open to 50 selected competitors, based on performances in the Queen Mary.

The regular and territorial rifles' cup, open to 100 selected competitors, 50 from the regulars and 50 from the territorial army, went to Company Sgt.-Major J. T. Moore of the small arms school.

Both these awards are shot for concurrently, under service conditions. Winner of the Queen Mary, one of the opening day events, was announced today as Gunner H. Swire of the navy, with 180, out of a possible 200. The small arms school with a score of 668 won the Canada shield, given for teams of four making the best showing in the Queen Mary.

In the Kinnaird a shoot-off will be necessary. Four marksmen of the home defence forces scored 34's, one short of perfect marks. The Kinnaird consists of seven shots at the 500-yard range, with service rifles.

The best Canadian score in the Kinnaird was registered by Capt. W. Worsick, a newcomer to the Bisley team. He had 31. Eight Canadians completed in the event.

The B. A. A. requiring seven shots at 600 yards, was won by rifleman F. Gurr of the rifle brigade. In the B. S. A. which like the Kinnaird is fired with service rifles, Company-Sgt.-Major H. Rusk of Ottawa made the best showing for the Canadians with 32.

Rusk won third prize in the B. S. A. of £25. John Fremantle, who belongs to the English Eight Club (for members of the English teams firing in the Eiche challenge cup) won the edge match rifle event, fired at 1,000 and 1,100 yards, with 72 out of 75.

M. J. Nevitt, also of the English Eight Club, won the Wimbledon Cup, a match rifle contest fired at 1,100 yards, with 97 out of a possible 100.

THINKS TRIALS WILL PRODUCE BIG SURPRISES

(By Elmer Dulmage) (Canadian Press Staff Writer) (C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, July 7.—Vancouver's Howie MacPhee husky young claimant to an Olympic sprint title, headed a powerful British Columbia delegation to the scene of the Canadian track and field trials today. The two day trials at Percival Molson Stadium open Friday.

The young man from the West, whose 10.3 seconds for 100 metres topped an otherwise uninspiring preparatory campaign by trackmen across the country, took a bedroom chair beside the track on which he will make his olympic bid later this week.

He and other members of the B. C. Squad were put up in the Molson Stadium field house from where it's only a 30 second walk to the starting mark.

MacPhee will open his campaign Friday in a preliminary heat against opposition that is expected to prove easy for him. Drawn against the joint holder of the world record are Bill Magee of Ottawa, Earl Deacon of Hamilton, D. Whalley of Valleyfield, Que., and Jack Smith of Toronto.

Big fields were entered in every track event, it was announced by Dr. A. S. Lamb, Olympic committee member in charge of the meet. Dr. Lamb is one official who expects the trials to produce startling surprises.

Like any others, Dr. Lamb believes the 400 metre dash will provide the closest finish in the trials. The race brings together stars like Marshall Limon of Vancouver, Loaring, Joe Addison of Victoria, Lyke Fleming of University of Western Ontario, Bill Fritz of Toronto and Ray Lewis of Toronto.

The Friday program will eliminate dozens of athletes, leaving only the cream for the finals in most events Saturday.

Seven Ft. Of Gauze Allowed Heavyweights

NEW YORK, July 7.—The New York State Athletic Commission today announced that in the future heavyweight and light-heavyweight boxers will be permitted to bandage their hands with seven feet of gauze instead of six. The old limit of six feet still will apply to other weight classes.

The point was raised after Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, insisted that his fighter and Joe Louis be held to six foot bandages on each hand for their recent heavyweight bout. Louis' handlers claimed injury to his hands was due to insufficient bandage.

Grimm Leads Nats To First Triumph In Annual Classic

"Dizzy" Dean Outstanding Player In Game While Yankee's Sensational Rookie Is "Goat".

(By Paul Mickelson, Associated Press Sports Writer) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

BOSTON, July 7.—Over the same historic ground that George Stallings and his miracle Boston Braves of 1914 wrought their greatest wonders, the National League ended its haunting four-year-old nightmare today by finally whipping the American League, 4-3, in the annual all-star game.

Routed in the three previous encounters at Chicago, New York and Cleveland, the stars of the senior circuit returned to ascendancy on the famous stamping ground of the miracle men with their greatest pitching aces muffling the American League siege guns completely at the start and then just lasting under a withering seventh-inning barrage that threatened to send them tumbling once more into defeat.

Dimaggio the "Goat" To give vent to their long pent-up fury in the "dream game," the National Leaguers rubbed salt into their rivals' wounds by making their greatest freshman of the season, sensational Joe Dimaggio of the high riding New York Yankees, the "goat" of the classic.

The smallest crowd ever to watch the all-star classic, there was a disappointing throng of 25,534. Twice Der Mag had fielding lapses and each time they were expensive to the American League cause. In the second inning, with Dean and Lefty Grove locked in a scoreless tie and with Frank Demaree of the Cubs on first base, Joe attempted to make a knee-high catch of Gabby Hartnett's terrific drive to right. He missed, the ball rolled to the wall and slow, plodding Gabby went to third and Demaree trotted home. Pinky Whitney scored Gabby a minute later with a long fly to centre, giving the Nationals a lead they never surrendered.

In the fifth, after Augie Galan of the Cubs had added run number three with a freak homer that caromed off the flag pole on the right field foul line, Der Mag juggled and fumbled a hit by Billy Herman, giving the Cub star two bases instead of one. A slashing single by Ducky Medwick scored Herman.

Five times Di Maggio came up to bat with one or more of his mates on base but not once did he get the ball past the infield.

"Dizzy" Is Superb Dizzy Dean, the tireless, was superb as his whirlash right heralded the doom and defeat of the proud American League shellers. The "great man" from the St. Louis Gas House didn't allow a single hit in the three innings he labored.

The All Stars and Nationals will hook up this evening in a regular scheduled Industrial League game at the Park diamond at 6.15. "Lefty" McQuaid, star portsiider, will tee the slab for the All Stars' pavilion in right field. That was the torch that started the three run parade.

Lanky Lon Warneke came to the rescue and promptly walked Gehring to fill the bases but got out of the hole when Di Maggio lined to Durocher. Warneke allowed two walks in the eighth and Gehring's futile double in the ninth, but bore down like his old world series self in the pinches to shut out the enemy, striking Fox out in the eighth with two out and runners on third and first.

Officials refused to give out the receipts, which were estimated at not much more than $20,000. Inasmuch as expenses amount to about $12,000 the net proceeds represented a meagre contribution to the ball players' benevolent fund, which gets the annual all-star profits.
