McGowan - Nickerson Wedding

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Saint John, N.B., on July 27, 1951, when Monsignor Cronin united in marriage Mary Stella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Nickerson of Saint John, N.B., formerly of Charlottetown, P.E.I., to Dennis Frederick McGowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis C. McGowan of Saint John, N.B. Monsignor Cronin also celebrated Nuptial Mass. The church was beautifully decorated with summer flowers, and the guests were treated with miniature nosegays. Mr. Albert Vaiculenka presided at the organ while Mrs. Owen Flood was guest soloist.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white tulle and tulle illusion with a lace cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a nosegay of pansies and lilies of the valley. Miss Shirley Nickerson was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown was of lavender hand painted organza and net with cap and gloves to match her gown. She carried a nosegay of pansies and lilies of the valley.

Miss Barbara Ann Nickerson and Jo Ann McGowan, sisters of the bride and groom respectively, were flower girls. Their gowns were fashioned alike in blue and pink taffeta. They wore poke bonnets of the same material, tied with bows of net. Their mitts were also of net to match their gowns, and their flowers were nosegays of forget-me-nots and roses.

Mr. Robert Steele, cousin of the groom, was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Connell and Mr. Walter McCarthy Jr. Mrs. Nickerson, mother of the bride, was attired in a Queen's blue dress, with eggshell accessories; her corsage was of yellow gladioli.

Mrs. McGowan, mother of the groom, was attired in a navy blue, crepe dress, with navy blue accessories, and pink carnations. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to New York. For travelling the bride wore a suit of beige wool crepe, with beige and yellow accessories. Her corsage was of yellow gladioli. On their return, they will reside in Saint John, N.B.

Nucklows said the "area of disagreement has neither broadened nor narrowed," since last Thursday when the buffer zone issue was first considered.

Now that both sides fully understand the views of each other it appeared one or the other would have to back up somewhat or else admit they were at an impasse.

Compromise Possibilities
Two compromise possibilities have been speculated upon at advance headquarters. One was for Communist acceptance of the Allied position provided there was an immediate cease-fire ahead of agreement on all terms of an armistice.

The other was that the Allies could draw back to a defensible line which would run two to ten miles south of the 38th parallel in the west but six to eight miles north of that old political boundary in Central and Eastern Europe.

Even if an agreement should be finally worked out on the buffer zone, tough bargaining still lay ahead for the negotiators.

Further Seasonal Decline In Eggs

Egg production on P. E. I. shows a further seasonal decline, reports Mr. F. M. Nash, District Inspector, Poultry Products. Registered stations report receipts are erratic. This is probably brought about by the excellent hay crop and the continued fine weather for harvesting it. It would seem advisable to point out at this time, if quality is to be preserved, careful management, feeding and regular deliveries should be maintained. The spread between the price of Grade "A" and Grade "B" eggs alone should justify careful consideration. Egg quality can be reasonably well retained under proper conditions but not improved.

Station operators are quoting producers for ungraded eggs delivered AL 62, AM 60, AS 48, B 45, C 33. Dealers quoting station operators for graded pack delivered AL 70, AM 68, AS 56, B 53, C 45 and quoting this same pack to retailers AL 78, AM 71, AS 59, B 56, C 48. Eggs retailing to consumers at AL 78-80, AM 75-8, AS 66, B 67-9, C 55.

Poultry receipts are increasing. Processors report chickens for grading B. Dealers quoting producers for chicken, live, under 4 lbs. 29, 4-5 lbs. 37, over 5 lbs. 40. Fowl, live under 4 lbs. 28, 4-5 lbs. 33, over 5 lbs. 35.

Human Bomb Kills French General, Governor

SAIGON, Indo-China, July 31 (AP) — A "human bomb" killed a French general, an Annamite provincial governor and himself with a grenade attack today in a crowded main street of Sadek village 70 miles south of Saigon.

The assassin was identified as a 26-year-old member of a suicide battalion of the Communist-led Vietminh rebel forces. He sprang at the officials and carried out his attack with paralyzing surprise at a public reception on their inspection trip in the area today.

The killer acted so quickly the general's aides were unable to intervene. Two French officers were wounded. The officials killed were: Brig-Gen. Charles Marie Chanson, 49, French commissioner for South Viet Nam, commander of ground forces in Southern Indo-China, and a right-hand man of the French High Commissioner for Indo-China, Gen. Jean De Lattre de Tassigny.

Governor Thi Lap Thanh of South Vietnam (the former French colony of Cochinchina). Vietnam is a Federal combination of the Indo-China eastern coastal states of Tonkin, Annam and Cochinchina. It is under the nominal rule of ex-Emperor Bao Dai of Annam, but has been ruled actually by the French military forces during the long civil war with the Vietminh forces of Communist-trained Ho Chi Minh.

The Vietnam press relations director, Nguyen Phuoc Hau, who was with the party, reported the governor and general were "driving down the main street of Sadek when the blast stopped them. Hau said he saw a man in military uniform run at the officials and grasp at the weapon concealed in his clothing. After the blast, the terrorist died without a word.

Vietnam police said the man was a member of the Vietminh suicide forces pledged to die if necessary in carrying out terrorist exploits.

Reiterated Prave:

Prave is true, why did the initiators of the (Atlantic) pact not invite the Soviet Union to take part in it? Why did they force themselves off from the Soviet Union? Why did they conclude it behind the U.S.S.R.'s back and in secrecy from it?"

Prave also said that Britain and the United States have refused to discuss the Atlantic Pact at a Big Four Foreign Minister's meeting.

Morrison asked why the West felt it needed to build up its armed forces and then answered his own question.

"To be frank with you, it is because of the policy which has been pursued by the Soviet Government since the end of the war. . . . We expected and strove for co-operation with you in the United Nations. But, alas, our hopes were disappointed. They were changed to doubts by your Government's refusal to co-operate in Germany and in the economic rehabilitation of Europe. These doubts were confirmed as we watched the imposition of Communist regimes in Eastern Europe and the establishment of the Cominform."

Morrison said the West demobilized after the war, Russia did not.

"Would Mr. Morrison like the U.S.S.R. not to have an army sufficient for defence?" said Prave.

There is no instance in history of the Russians attacking the territory of Britain, but history has witnessed a whole series of instances of the British attacking the territory of the Russians and seizing it."

Prave asked Morrison to "point to a single Soviet soldier who has discharged his gun at any peaceful people," adding:

"There is no such soldier. They let Mr. Morrison explain properly why British soldiers are killing peaceful citizens in Korea?"

Barrister's Suspension Case To Be Appealed To Supreme Court Of Canada

A decision of the Law Society suspending for one year a member of the Bar of this Province was upheld by the full bench of the Supreme Court of the Province yesterday, but according to counsel for the appellant an appeal from the Court's decision will be made to the Supreme Court of Canada.

In its decision yesterday the full bench of the Supreme Court stated there was no reason to disturb the findings of the Law Society. The suspension of the appellant, whose name did not appear in the Court proceedings, dates from May 21 last and applies to his practices as barrister and solicitor. The case had been adjourned from last Friday.

Yesterday Mr. W. E. Bentley, K. C., on behalf of the appellant, outlined the case and pointed out the circumstances in which a co-ordinator of an estate misunderstood the use of certain cheques. He also went into the matter of trusteeship at length and maintained that in this case there was no question of the barrister being a trustee and since no relationship of trusteeship existed no prosecution should have followed.

During a day-long argument there were several sharp verbal exchanges between Mr. Bentley and Chief Justice, T. A. Campbell. Mr. Bentley stated the barrister in question was never an express trustee under the terms of his employment. He said there was no conflict between the parties involved and the whole matter in court was the result of action taken by the Attorney General. He said the complaint of the latter to the Law Society regarding a fraudulent cheque was not supported.

On the completion of Mr. Bentley's presentation the court took a late afternoon recess. On its return to the Bench Chief Justice Campbell stated that the Court felt it would be unnecessary for the representative of the Attorney General to present evidence or enter argument. The court then stated it would proceed with its judgement.

Counsel for the appellant were Messrs. D. Mathieson, K. C., and W. E. Bentley, K. C. Appearing for the Attorney General's department was Mr. J. O. C. Campbell, K. C. Announcement that there would be an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada was made to the press last evening by Mr. Mathieson.

The case was entered in the Court records under the title: "In re Barrister."

Minutes of June meeting were read and adopted. Six calls were made during the month and five boxes and ten cards sent. The Treasurer's Report showed $4500 sent in to the end of June. Seven members and two visitors answered roll call, the visitors later becoming members. Collection amounted to $120.

Collection taken 70 cts. Mrs. Elmer Francis invited the members to meet at her home or the next meeting; roll call to be answered with an article for a grab bag.

Meeting closed with the "King". Lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by the committee in charge.

CANCER TRACERS USED
Radioactive chemicals are now being used in certain cases of cancer in diagnosis and treatment. Radiodiagnosis is employed in treating some types of thyroid cancer. Radioactive phosphorus will concentrate in a brain tumor and it can be located with a Geiger counter probe. Radioactive cobalt needles sometimes are inserted in cancers. Developing new techniques of treatment and improvement of old ones are important goals of clinical research supported by the Cancer Society. Give to the 1951 Cancer Campaign.

Escort Borrows Uniforms Worth 2,600 Pounds
LONDON, July 31—(Reuters)—Officers of the King's personal escort—the glittering Household Cavalry—are getting a little thread-bare.

Reason: full-dress uniforms are so expensive that many officers have to wear hand-me-downs, borrowed from the quartermaster's stores.

This is a sharp cut at the pride of the men who command the exclusive Horse Guards and Life Guards of the Household Cavalry.

With their vivid scarlet-and-blue tunics, flashing silver breastplates and fluttering helmet plumes, they're used to stealing the show at every state pageant.

Before the Second World War, a newly-commissioned lieutenant could buy a 60-piece dress uniform, including a made-to-measure breastplate for £900.

But now even the average high-ranking officer can't afford full dress. Soaring living and production costs have boosted the outfit's price up to £2,600.

Now household cavalry men who need uniforms borrow second-hand ones from a pool at London's Knightsbridge Barracks. The quartermaster explained that officers get uniforms free simply by signing a form.

"I've got 30 uniforms here for officers to choose from," he said. "They were sent in by retired officers after the War Office announced we needed them."

"Often a junior officer will wear the boots his colonel had worn at a parade only a few hours before," the quartermaster said.

Sunday the quartermaster hung two bright new Life Guard tunics alongside his second-hand ones.

"They're the first made since 1939," he said proudly. Then he added quickly: "But they're not for sale. They'll go on loan like all the rest."
