B.; North British Society of Halifax; and the Antigonish Highland Society.

The Honorary Chief, Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E., expressed his pleasure at being one of those gathered to pay tribute to their Scottish ancestors, and this was followed by a brief informal sing-song in Gaelic, led by Clansman John Goodwill MacPadyen.

BRITISH PRIME Continued from page 1 Atlee made his plans known in a speech in Commons tonight. His announcement was greeted with cheers. Truman's press secretary, Charles Ross, said later at the White House:

"The Prime Minister is coming over. He got in touch with the President through the State Department and indicated he would like to come over soon to talk about Korean and other problems. The President set back word through the State Department that he would be very happy for Mr. Atlee to come over at his convenience."

Atlee told the Commons he considered it essential in matters of such great importance as those now confronting the two nations "that the written word shall be reinforced as far as possible with personal contact."

Last Met in 1945 The two men last met in November, 1945, when Atlee visited Washington along with the then Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada. They worked out with Truman the basic proposals for seeking a United Nations agreement on atomic energy controls—an issue still deadlocked in the U. N. by the split between Russia and the Western powers.

There was no comment in Ottawa on the projected meeting. However, it was considered likely in unofficial circles that Prime Minister St. Laurent will be invited to sit in on the talks if they take place in or near Washington. The Dominion of India has an area of 1,246,880 square miles, Pakistan only 350,000.

New Facilities Provided At St. Dunstan's College

Completion of the new chapel building at St. Dunstan's College has provided the faculty and students with new dining room facilities and will soon provide them with the privilege of attending religious services in the new chapel. The chapel, which is to be blessed tomorrow morning has three altars where masses will be offered. The sixty-six pews which have just been installed provide accommodation for about 375 people.

Directly below the chapel in the almost T shaped brick building is the boys dining room. It has been in use since September and the large room has proved very satisfactory and comfortable for the students. East of the boy's dining room and also on basement floor is the new, commodious kitchen. Equipped with modern kitchen facilities it provides for efficient work and moderate cost.

The chapel wing is 119 x 45 feet in dimension and the convent building running at right angles to but adjoining the wing is 100 x 43 feet. The convent also contains the sisters chapel.

Central Heating Plant The central heating plant is in operation this year for the first time. Powered by two steam 100 h.p. units the steam is taken at high pressure to underground pipes to the five buildings on the campus. Only fires burning in the campus buildings are those in the cooking ranges.

Adjoining the heating plant is the well equipped, newly built laundry. A water tank in the corner of the laundry provides hot water for both the chapel and the laundry. All equipment is completely new.

Construction of the gymnasium on the west side of the main building is proceeding rapidly. Completion of the work will depend upon weather conditions. The steel framework on the $100,000 building has been erected and well over one third of the brick walls have been laid. Workmen yesterday were preparing to pour cement for a portion of the first floor. The rest of the first floor will be laid in hardwood and will be used as a basketball court.

A new barn replacing the one lost in the disastrous fire during July, 1949, will soon be completed. All work on the outside of the 130 x 38 foot structure has been finished and the carpenters are now busy on the interior.

The new piggery, which also replaced the one lost in the first has been in use for some time.

Potatoes For Salt, Is Suggestion

The Provincial Department of Industry and Natural Resources are negotiating to exchange approximately 30,000 bags of potatoes for a quantity of salt with Spain, it was learned from Hon. Eugene Cullen, Minister of Industry and Natural Resources last night.

Just how much salt might be involved in the deal was not disclosed, but the Minister intimated that it might be quite a sizable amount.

Coming on the heels of the report that the Spanish Government has been inquiring here for prices on a 700,000 bushel order, the barter deal indicates that Spain has large domestic requirements for table stock.

Poison Bait Recommended As Only Remedy Against Tropical Ants' Invasion

A growing invasion of small red tropical ants into restaurants, hotels, residences and business establishments in Charlottetown and vicinity is proving a source of trouble and discomfort to business operators and others, it was learned yesterday. Contrary to rumor however, The Guardian has been assured by Dr. Wendell MacDonald, medical officer for the city, that the insects do not carry disease.

The ants are believed to have been brought here three or four years ago on some tropical food, such as bananas. Their presence was hardly detected at that time but since then they have yearly increased into tremendous numbers.

It is thought that they are carried from one place to another by food, stated Mr. F. M. Cannon, officer in charge of the Entomological Laboratory here. Mr. Cannon has been receiving numerous complaints of the source during the past few weeks.

Mr. Cannon reported that the ants live in nests deeply burrowed into walls or under floors which are difficult to find. Their presence is more noticeable during the cold weather as they are a tropical species and swing into action when the fall and winter heat is turned on.

The only way in which they can be exterminated is by the use of poison bait, states Mr. Cannon. The poison is carried to the nests by the "worker ants" where it is eaten and the insects killed. This bait is available at the Science Service laboratories.

"They cannot be killed out by fumigation," Mr. Cannon stated. "After fumigation they appear to die out but they soon return as it is only the ants moving around who are killed while those in the nest are safe."

Mr. Cannon and Dr. MacDonald have been visiting several buildings into which the ants have infiltrated. "In some instances the people will not fully co-operate and sit where these insects are," Mr. Cannon reports. "If they would then we could very likely stamp this scourge out."

The tropical ants are very small, no bigger than one-fifth the size of the red ant commonly found here. They are botanically referred to as Pharaoh's ant.

While nearly all of the complaints have come from the City, a few have also been received from Souris.

Local Cooking School Concludes

The Prince of Wales College Auditorium was filled again last evening for the third and last time as women from all over the Province gathered for the final session of the Robin Hood Cooking School sponsored by the Earl of Hillsboro chapter of the L. O. D. E.

In her opening remarks, the Regent, Mrs. A. H. Roper thanked the demonstrator, Mrs. Ballantyne, and her assistant, Miss Mildred Hume, for the excellent help they had given, and for their untiring efforts in making the "School" such an outstanding success.

Thanks of the chapter were also expressed to the firms who so generously donated groceries and special prizes.

During her demonstrations last evening, Mrs. Ballantyne gave in detail her method of making breads, rolls and fancy breads. Her interesting demonstrations also included the making of a different supper dish—salmon ring.

Lt.-Col. A. W. Rogers again acted as master of ceremonies, and having had three lessons in the art of cooking proceeded to show his ability as a cake maker to the amusement, and later, amazement of the audience.

Lucky tickets were drawn by Mrs. R. W. Stewart, Honorary Regent of the chapter. Winner of the grand prize for the evening had left the auditorium before her number was drawn. This prize was a round trip to Moncton, donated by the Maritime Central Airways.

Grand prize for the three demonstrations is to be given to the holder of Wednesday night ticket number 90. This prize is a baby chamois rug, donated by the Rob-in Hood Flour Mills.
