A TRUE STATEMENT.

By Foreman White, of the Hamilton Screw Works.

Hamilton, Aug. 13.—If a vote of the people were to be taken to ascertain which is the most popular medicine on the market, Dodd's Kidney Pill would lead by a large majority.

One of the latest cures of that grand remedy is that of Foreman T. H. White, of the Screw Works here, who testifies that he was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills of Kidney Disease of eight years standing, after other medicines had failed.

Mr. White says „One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved me, four boxes cured me. Publish this statement if you wish. It is true in every particular."

What Is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?

In appearance Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is an oval; chocolate coated pill. In the condensed form it contains all of natures most strengthening and invigorating tonic and restoratives and for this reason it is unapproached as a blood builder and nerve restorative. It cures all diseases caused by thin blood and exhausted nerves and makes pale, weak nervous men, women and chilpren strong and healthy 50 cents a box.

A Good Stomach

Is essential to health and happiness, but don't blame the stomach for biliousness. It is deranged, and causes poisonous bile to remain in the blood causing indigestion, headache and irregular action of the bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the liver kidneys and bowels and by their direct action on these organs effect prompt and lasting cures of biliousness, dyspepsia headache and all kidney ailments. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers.

When It Hurts to Cough

The cough that hurts, the cough that gets tight in the chest, is daily getting deeper and deeper into the bronchial tubes and is making directly for the lungs, to become pneumonia, inflammation of the lungs or consumption. Such coughs yield only to the wonderful efficiency of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine which loosens the tightness and cures cough and cold together. 25 cents a bottle. Family size 60 cents, sold everywhere.

FOR THE FARMERS.

COLD STORAGE.

"The Government could not have wished for a more splendid justification of its action than the results which have followed. Our butter was introduced on the English market and its superior quality became known. The Old Country buyers soon learned that Canada could supply the finest quality of creamery butter demanded—and on the English market it is the very best they want and are willing to pay for. Professor Robertson managed the whole business very skillfully, and last year's venture ended by costing the country very little—a small outlay, indeed, for the opening up of such a magnificent new market."

The Montreal Gazette remarks that the above words, of Mr. Dan. Derbyshire, of Brockville, one of the dairy trade authorities of Eastern Ontaria, refer to the inauguration of the plan of shipping butter to Great Britain in refrigerated chambers. Thye are a correct statement of the revival of a trade that in 1899 gave three and a half millions of dollars of British money to Canadian dairymen. They were spoken in October, 1895, at the meeting of the Ontario Dairymen's Association, nine months before Mr. Sydney Fisher became minister of agriculture. Moreover, though Mr. Derbyshire is generally counted a Liberal, they were spoken in defence of the Conservative Government of the day against Liberal attacks in connection with the cold storage and refrigerated freight systen for the shipment of export butter. The system needed defence them, though it does not now. The Conservative Government had asked for a grant of $20,000 to test the practicability of an idea that today everyone commends. Mr. McMullen, then one of the Liberal chiefs, with better lungs than intelligent foresight, opposed the vote. The Montreal Herald jeered at the idea of a befogged Tory Government going into the general store business. The Toronto Globe joined in the chorus of ridicule and said that the best service the Government could do the farmer was to leave him alone. The Government had gone ahead, had spent the $20,000 and incurred a loss. But the ice had been broken. The shipment of butter from Montreal to Great Britain, which in 1894, was 32,000 packages, jumped in 1895 to 70,000 packages, and this year, with only half the season gone, is 115,000 packages. Mr. Derbyshire, a dairyman before he is a partyman, was defending a Government he opposed against the attacks of his political friends, because it had done a wise and profitable thing for an important industry, which, before the action was taken, was in a decline.

The quotation above bears directly on Mr. Fisher's theory, that he is the inaugurator of the cold storage and refrigerated freight system. It shows that the system was in profitable operation and had appoved itself a year before Mr. Fisher became a minister, and when he was not even a member of Parliament. Mr. Fisher is entitled to credit in connection with this system, for having recorganized and carried on a good thing. He was not the originator; he has not been an originator in anything.

NEW BOOK.

The Life of D. F. Moody" by his son, W. R. Moody, is before us The book though, admitted to have been hurriedly compiled, bears evidence of careful use of a large collection of incidents in the life of the great Evangelist, of a clear insight into his stirring simple character, and of a loving delicacy, yet withal of a natural pride in opening up to the world the inner life of a father so widely beloved. The story of Mr. Moody's youth, of his boyish pranks and experiences, is told as out of his own mouth. The account of his great life's work, of his tremendous activity, his perseverance and fortitude, is given in a series of facts, incidents and anecdotes which show more than anything else what the man really was. We would recommend this book to all, whatever be their creed, and however they may differ from Mr Moody in religious views, as the true chronicle of a man who long labored manfully and zealously for what is right and good, and who died leaving thousands to thank God that he had lived.

The book is nicely bound in cloth, blue and gold, the printing is good and the illustrations, of which there are over a hundred, are well chosen and clear.

The Skylark.

I heard a song as the morning star
Died in a dawn of June ;
No cloud the blue of the east did mar ;
Over the earth the tune

Fell from the heights where the lonely bird
Sang unto Israel :
I all alone in the silence heard
All that her heart did tell,

O wild song from the blue and far,
Youth and the world may boast
Songs that are sweet, but the sweetest are
Songs that the earth has lost.

—Harry de Vere Stacpoole, in the London Outlook.

A Russian Opinion.

LONDON, August 14.—General Grodekoff reports to the Russian war office the occupation of San Chau and the passes across the Chingtau mountains. Orders have been issued for the formation of two additional Siberian army corps. A semi-official Shanghai telegram published in St. Petersburg describes the sending of British troops to Shanghai, as "without the least necessity."

Trade of the Yukon.

VICTORIA, B. C., August 14.—According to advices brought by the steamer Danube, Canadians are doing the chief trade of the Lower Yukon. It is reported that they are shipping goods freely from Dawson, and as there are no United States officers on the boundary they do not have to pay duty.

—The only member of the Cabinet who has lately referred publicly to the Chinese question is Lord Londonderry, Postmaster-General. In a speech at a political meeting he urged that the powers should seek no indiscriminate vengeance, but should insist on the punishment of the Mandarins and other high personages who were really responsible for the outrages committed, instead of allowing themselves to be put off by the execution of a miscellaneous selection of less guilty subordinates. Great Britain, said the speaker, must do what it could to preserve order in the Yangtse valley, and be maintained that Her Majesty's Government considered it was under a special obligation to protect Shanghai.

A Victim of Piles

For 20 Years—A Constant Sufferer From Bleeding and Protruding Piles—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

In vain did Mrs. Jas. Brown, of Hintonburgh, near Ottawa, search for a cure for piles. In Europe and America she tried every remedy available, but it remained for Dr. Chase's Ointment to effect a cure.

Mrs. Brown writes:—"I have been a constant sufferer from nearly every form of piles for the last twenty years, and during that time both here and in the Old Country have tried most every remedy.

"I am only doing justice to Dr. Chase's Ointment when I say that I believe it to be the best remedy obtainable for bleeding and protruding piles. I strongly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to mothers, or indeed to any person suffering from that dread torment—piles."

Physicians and druggists recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the one preparation that will never fail to cure piles. It is guaranteed to positively cure piles, whether itching, bleeding, or protruding. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.
