Lead a Hand.

Life is full of hidden perils. And the traveller never thinks Of the dangers that surround him. Till the ground beneath him sinks. Can you calmly stand and watch him Sinking in the treacherous sand? Heed not his cry of anguish? Shame upon you! Lead a hand.

When you see a young beginner Struggling up the steep of fame, And in spite of opposition, Trying hard to win a name, Ye who've gained the heights before him And upon the summit stand, Do not idly watch his struggles, Rouse yourselves and lend a hand.

When you see a wounded brother On the battlefield of life, Who, after fighting brave and nobly, Falls a loser in the strife, Pause a moment, oh! ye conquerors! When, in answer to the summons, Brave as ye fought, though vainly, He is wounded; lend a hand.

Should you meet a fallen sister, In your rush to victory grand, None to give her kindly counsel, None to guide her wayward feet; In God's eyes she is just as precious As the purest in the land, Speak no word of scorn or censure, Try to save her; lend a hand.

And perhaps in that great hour When all secrets are made known, When, at last, both saint and sinner, Stand before the judgment throne, When, in answer to the summons, At the bar of God you stand, Waiting for the eternal sentence, You'll be glad you lent a hand.

—Marie Joussaye.

News Notes.

Carl Goldschmidt, a New York forger, has been arrested in Montreal and will be extradited.

Natural gas has been discovered in Conway County, Ark.

In Astrakhan 225 persons were attacked with cholera in one day, and 102 died from the disease.

President Van Horne denies that the Canadian Pacific Company intends to build a bridge across the Niagara gorge.

At Nebraska City, Neb., the Missouri River rose four inches on the night of the 16th inst. Hundreds of acres of corn are submerged and ruined, and many families are deserting their homes and seeking higher ground.

Very appropriate for summer reading will be Dr. T. Mitchell Prudden's article on "Ice-making and Ice-making," appearing in the August number of Harper's Magazine. The production of ice both in nature and by artificial processes will be lucidly described by Dr. Prudden, and his very interesting paper will be especially valuable on account of its information concerning the sanitary qualities of the different kinds of ice. Several illustrations will help to make the article still more attractive.

A suit of considerable commercial interest to Canadian commerce was begun at Toronto on the 8th inst. A year ago or more all the big Canadian salt factories formed a combine, fixed prices and agreed to limit the output. Recently the Ontario Salt Works, at Kinross, gave the combine notice of withdrawal. On July 8 the combine began proceedings to obtain an injunction to prevent the Ontario Salt Works from leaving the combine. The defence is that the combine is clearly illegal under the Combines Act, that its object is to limit the production and sale, fix prices and prevent competition.

The storage battery system of propelling street cars is growing in favor. An instance in proof is the application of the Second Avenue road of New York for permission to substitute storage battery cars for horses as a means of locomotion. The King's County elevated road has also resolved on making an experiment storage batteries. In each of these cases the managers object to the trolley system, which has been generally adopted not so much because it is the ideal as because it was the best available system. Recent improvements have lightened the weight of the storage batteries, and thus removed one of the greatest objections to them. This also tends to cheapen the cost and put them more nearly on a level in this respect with the trolley cars, whose death charges, wires and poles, are a public danger. It does not seem unreasonable to expect that before long rapid electric transit will be had without the objectionable trolley and frequent street poles.

Tobacco Chewers Among Women.

A well-known physician, while walking down the street with a friend, remarked, a patient of mine lives in that house who is dying—an idolized wife—beyond all help, and tobacco chewing has killed her. Why, Doctor, what do you mean? I mean this: her husband is literally steeped in tobacco juice, and his death course is a result of his habit. If he were saturated with nicotine as to be a deadly poison. His wife, before I was called, had absorbed enough of the poison so that no human power could save her; and even he will, I believe, end his days in torture from some form of cancer. The skin is really the most wonderful and important organ of the human body. Night and day, every hour of our lives, it is filtering out from the blood useless or poisonous debris. If it stopped work even for twenty-four hours in this or any case, death would ensue. You can imagine, then, what it means for a delicate, sensitive-skinned woman to sleep in a warm bed night after night with an inveterate tobacco chewer. The skin and mucous membrane of some persons is much more sensitive than others. A person who in summer is subject to hay fever, tanned or burned skin, in winter to colds, bronchitis, chapped hands or chilblains, ought always (whether at home or traveling) to keep a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Lintment near at hand. Dilute the lintment with water and gently bathe or moisten a cloth with it and lay upon the irritated skin if very sensitive; then wash it clean in the morning with Castile soap and water. If a person who takes cold quickly, or is predisposed to bronchitis or catarrh, or exposed to any poison, irritating to the skin or mucous surfaces, which might tend to cause consumption, will every night, before retiring, bathe or moisten a cloth with Johnson's Anodyne Lintment and, before dressing in the morning, rub the whole body smartly with a coarse towel, slightly dampened, and then wipe dry, we believe they never would have pulmonary troubles or disease from defective working of the skin. I. E. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send a pamphlet free, describing other uses for this old household remedy, now eighty years old. jy20 dy 61 wj 11

The Chignecto Marine Railway.

Active preparations are now being made on the Chignecto Marine Railway so as to facilitate the resumption of work at as short a notice as possible. The lifting dock and of the line is now clear of water, and the work done there is in as good a condition as it was at the time work was suspended, no damage having been caused by the water to the masonry in the dock or to the sides of the basin. The walls of the dock are three-fourths finished, and an excellent opportunity is now afforded the many visitors to the works to obtain a good idea of the manner in which the transportation will be done. Mr. Ketchum says that it is a matter of a few weeks before the undertaking will again be in full swing, and when once begun, a very few months, probably by next spring, will see the railroad from end to end completed and in working order.

Paralysis Defeated!

BLEEDING PILES, Headache and Dyspepsia CURED BY SKODA.

Mrs. CAPT. J. E. MELVIN. GENTLEMEN—For years I had a terrible trouble with my stomach—my food scoured immediately after eating, to gether with a severe headache. I would have a prickly, numb sensation in my arms, and down my sides, with strong tendency towards Paralysis. For thirteen years I have been troubled with extreme constipation, combined with that most terrible tormentor, BLOODING PILES. At times they bled profusely, and pain me severely, so that I could neither sit, stand, sleep or eat. I became very much reduced in flesh and strength, and felt completely worn out. I have tried nearly all the Physicians in this vicinity, and have taken patent medicines in large quantities, but received no permanent benefit. Through the merits of SKODA'S REMEDIES, I consented to try them, and have gained such efficiency, that I feel as if I were a new man.

THAN faith in their little effect, but persisted in their use. I have now taken four bottles of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, and two boxes of SKODA'S PILE CURE, and four boxes SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS. My Dyspepsia is all gone, bowels regular, Appetite good, and have gained much in flesh. In fact, AM PERFECTLY WELL.

All credit is due to your Wonderful Remedies, COLD and I cannot say too much in their praise.

Truly yours,
 MRS. CAPT. J. E. MELVIN,
 No. 28 Warren St.,
 ROCKLAND, ME.
