February 7, 1867.

To the Independent Electors of the Second District of Prince County:

GENTLEMEN:—

The period has again nearly arrived when you will be called upon to exercise your Elective Franchise, in returning Candidates to represent you in the Lower House of Assembly.

Upon the three last occasions, you did me the honor to place me in that position.

I have invariably endeavored heretofore, consistently to support and advocate all matters brought before the Legislature, when your best interests were concerned, more particularly your local interests.

Therefore, I am inclined to comply with the request of many of my late friends in the district, again to offer myself as one of your Candidates—and should you, for the fourth time, honor me with a continuance of your confidence, rest assured, Gentlemen, that I shall exert my humble abilities to promote the general interests, of this my native Island, and our common Country—and especially the local interests of this District.

Believe me to remain, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
DAVID RAMSAY.
