THE DAILY EXAMINER.

SEPTEMBER 4, 1884.

Editorial Notes.

—McGill University has determined to confer the honorary degree of LL. D. on the following prominen members of the British Association in commemoration of the meeting in Montreal: Lord Rayleigh, the Governor-General, Sirs John A. Macdonald, Lyon Playfair, Richard Temple, William Thomson, Henry Roscoe, F. Bramwell, Professors Bonney, Frankland, Blandford, Moseley, Captain Douglas Galton, A. G., Vernon Harcourt, General Lefroy, E. B. Tyler, Prof. Daniel Wilson, (Toronto University), Prof. Asa Gray, (Harvard), Prof. James Hall, New York State Geologist.

—The Presidential contest is becoming warm. The New York World, just to hand, has an article the contents of which may be inferred from the following head lines which are printed in large letters:—"Barabbas Butler." "The Black Record of his Piratical Career in New Orleans." "A Fortune of $2,000,000 Amassed in Eight Months." "Military Power Used Solely to Secure Plunder" "How a Brother of a Great Anti-Monopolist Monopolized Trade." "Money Coined by Circulating False War News." "The Robbery of the Smith Brothers and Subsequent Restitution." "A Disgraceful Story of Greed, Cowardice, Corruption and Thievery." From all of which we conclude that Butler is regarded by the World as a pretty strong card, with a good chance of being elected.

—It does not appear that the Ontario Bribery commission have been greatly enlightened by Sir David Macpherson, and other Conservatives,—as it was, indeed, quite impossible that they could give information on a subject about which they knew nothing. A telegram of the 2nd inst., to the St John Telegraph says: "The Ontario Bribery commission to-day, examined Sir David Macpherson, Deputy Minister Burgess and Auditor General MacDougall as to payments made to Wilkinson. Several Tory representatives were examined, but they threw no particular light upon the case. Mr. Meredith, the leader of the Tory opposition, rose in court and coolly charged the Ontario government with conspiring to induce persons to commit criminal acts by bribery of members. After the ordinary call of numbers of witnesses the commission adjourned till October."

—The Herald reports that Dr. Jenkins has been in correspondence with the Postmaster-General respecting the erection in Charlottetown of a new Dominion Building; and we are pleased to learn that "the plans and estimates are being prepared with a view to having the work pushed on as rapidly as possible." We trust, however, that the words, "as rapidly as possible," do not imply such haste as will prevent the erection of a building in every way suitable to the requirements of the Province and consistent with the dignity of the Dominion Government. We hope to see erected a very fine stone building, larger and better in every way than the old one; and, in our opinion, it would be more advisable to have the work on such a building proceed slowly than to have an ugly, ill-arranged erection put up in a few months,—to be an eye-sore and inconvenience for all time. St. James' Church and the building now being erected for Mr. Newson, show the good effects which may be obtained by a judicious use of Island building stone; and we hope the architects will consider well the propriety of using largely our excellent home-made material in the construction of the New Dominion Building.

—The exhibition of the Canadian Academy of Art, in St. John, closed on Tuesday evening. The St. John Telegraph says:—

"The enterprise was patronized as well, perhaps, as could have been expected. Many of our people who did not attend will doubtless never realize what they have neglected to see. Those who did attend were both surprised and delighted at the fine collection of pictures exhibited. Many of the paintings possess unmistakable marks of genius; very few specimens of really inferior work were shown; and the general display was full of promise for the future of art in our Dominion and Provinces. Several of the older artists, it is true, showed a lack of thorough knowledge in the fundamental principles of their profession. They are strong in some points, notably coloring; weak in others, especially drawing, grouping and light and shade effects. These defects are the result of incomplete education. Very few of the pioneers of the profession had, at the outset, aught but their unaided intellects and what little they could glean from the American schools to teach them these principles. They had no opportunity to begin at the beginning. Many of them also had what glimmering of genius and originality they possessed obliterated by the stern necessity of catering to an uneducated public, and painting only such pictures as would take the popular fancy. To-day, art is emerging from the list of neglected professions in Canada, though it by no means occupies the position in public estimation, nor, which is the practical point, commands that remuneration which would stimulate its struggling votaries to the highest exercise of their powers. But the outlook is unquestionably brighter than ever before, both from an artistic and pecuniary point of view. The rising generation of artists in Canada are availing themselves of opportunities to study the fundamental truths which their predecessors lacked, and of carefully noting the latest developments in the most approved schools in England, France and Germany. Before establishing a studio in this country many students go abroad, remain several years in Europe, and thus secure the most finished education in any line of art that can anywhere be obtained."

P. E. ISLAND FINANCIAL DISTRICT MEETING.

On Wednesday morning, September 3rd., the members of this meeting assembled in the basement of the Brick Church, under the chairmanship of Rev. S. T. Teed, District Superintendent. There were present, Revs. H. P. Cowperthwaite, A. M., Financial Secretary, J. Burwash, A. M., S. H. Rice, J. S. Phinney, W. H. Spargo, J. Pascoe, Geo. Steel, W. H. Baker, E. C. Turner, M. R. Knight, B. A., G. Harrison, J. S. Allen, E. Bell, D. H. Lodge, W. E. Reynolds, J. J. Colter, and Messrs. Thos. Tweedy, Jas. Essory, J. M. Hood, W. T. Seaman, G. M. Laird, H. Drake.

After singing, prayer was offered by Revs. J. Pascoe and W. H. Spargo. Then the Financial Secretary read the Scriptures, after which the Chairman made some remarks expressive of his pleasure on meeting under the present circumstances. He trusted that the blessing of God would rest upon us, and that the spirit of brotherly love would rest upon us as in the past. He felt confident that we would all labor to make the united church a great success. No one branch of Methodism could be fairly called a failure, and he felt convinced, now that we are a united church, we will go and present a united front to the enemy. He trusted that the God of our fathers will be our God, and will lead us from victory to victory.

On motion of Prof. Burwash the hours of session were fixed.

On motion of Rev. G. Steel, it was resolved to hear a deputation from the Hospital Committee this afternoon.

The meeting then proceeded to consider the estimates of expenditure and receipts for the missions in the district. The necessities of each mission were considered and voted upon. On motion of Rev. G. Steel it was resolved to raise a scholarship in the district of the value of $25 for the minister's son from the Island making the best record during the year at Mount Allison College. The morning session adjourned after the Benediction.

Afternoon Session.

After devotional exercises, C. Palmer and L. P. Beer, Esquires, representative trustees from the General Hospital, were introduced. Mr. Palmer asked the Board to remember the Hospital in their circuits and missions. He requested a Sabbath to be set apart yearly, when collections could be taken up for the Institution. He stated that their work was entirely undenominational. It was open to pay patients as well as to those who were without means. Donations in kind as well as cash were required As all the wards were full, there is a prospect of extension. Mr. Beer said that the patients came from all parts of the Island. He hoped that the same day would be set apart throughout the Island and concurred generally in Mr. Palmer's remarks.

The following resolutions were unanimously carried,—

Whereas, A General Hospital has been founded on the Island, for the good of all classes without regard to creed; and

Whereas, This Institution is at present without endowment; and

Whereas, It is deserving of the support of the Churches.

Therefore Resolved, That we give to the Hospital our hearty support, and recommend to our quarterly meetings that wherever practical a yearly collection be taken on the Sabbath day on behalf of it.

The District meeting then made arrangements for missionary meetings on each circuit and mission. Deputations were arranged for educational meetings at the different points on the Island. The meeting then proceeded to elect a member of the local missionary committee, which resulted in the election of Rev. H. P. Cowperthwaite. The annual district meeting was to be held at Margate on the 2nd Wednesday in June, 1885. S.

France and China.

The moral sympathy of impartial outside observers must be very generally with China in the present crisis. The operations of France in Tonquin, out of which the existing complications grew, were unprovoked, and were prompted by a spirit of aggrandizement. The treaty made with China, after the fighting in Tonquin was over, was wrung from her by undisguised bullying. The episode of the firing of Chinese irregulars upon French troops at Langson was a very inadequate pretext for the demand of an enormous indemnity and the seizure of Chinese territory. France has been the aggressor from the beginning, her demands have been the unreasonable, and she has refused the request of China for arbitration. This was precisely the sort of quarrel in which arbitration might have been resorted to without any loss of dignity, and with a reasonable assurance that justice would be done. To decline arbitration is, in such a case, nearly equivalent to an acknowledgment that one's cause is not just. There is no mistaking the temper of the French press and people. The old thirst for glory, for expansion, for power, seems to control them once more. But if warlike operations should be long continned, it would become a question of great moment how far nations like England and Germany will permit the lives and property of their subjects to be endangered, and their valuable commerce interrupted, to gratify the ambition and caprices of France.—Boston Journal.

FISHERMEN at Tomales Bay have for some time past suffered from the depredations of a marine marauder which had destroyed $1,000 worth of seines, besides playing havoc with the fish. It was captured a few days since, and proves to be a basking shark, 13½ feet long, nearly six feet in girth, and weighing 2,000 pounds. The species sometimes attains a length of 30 feet, but is the least formidable of the shark species. The fish was brought to this city.—San Francisco Call.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

How to Dispose of the Tramp.

SIR,—The infernal villain who has for some time past terrorized our citizens with his nocturnal visits, cannot go much longer unpunished. Last night, or rather about one o'clock this morning, he entered the residence of a prominent citizen, residing on King Square, gaining ingress through one of the upper windows which happened to be unfastened. One of the family being awake, heard a noise like a heavy thud, which was succeeded by the falling of some heavy article. An alarm was at once given, and the cowardly tramp made his exit without being identified. It is generally understood that by killing a person under such circumstances it is constituted murder.

Such is not the case. If you find in your dwelling, at an unreasonable hour, any suspicious individual, you would, by shooting him, be guilty only of manslaughter; and in cases similar to the above, we believe it would be justifiable.

A feeling of dread has come over our people, and the sooner summary measures are resorted to in ridding the community of this nuisance the better. The surest medicine would be a few pills made out of the hardest lead.

LYNCH.

Summerside Notes.

Vigilance committees are the order of the day here since the fire-bugs have commenced work.

Mackerel are very plentiful in our harbor. Two gentlemen went out fishing this afternoon, and came in with over 200 fish, being out about two hours.

Mr. R. C. McLeod's horse Dartmouth left here on Tuesday morning for the mainland. He is entered for the trotting circuit which commenced at Chatham on the 4th.

The portly editor of the Herald paid this town a visit last Saturday. He seemed very nervous while in Summerside. Is he scared of the wrath of some leading citizens which he incurred by poking fun at them in the columns of his paper.

The Masonic Picnic at Freetown on Tuesday was a success. Some of the members of the craft feel sore about their defeat at the tug of war by the Kensington boys. Summerside masons want a chance to redeem their good name, and they propose to have it out on Exhibition Day—twelve men on a side—losers to pay for an oyster supper. Brace up Kensington! Don't be bluffed! There were other games participated in during the day. The Summerside band was in attendance. "Donald the Piper," from Hunter River, was there also with his pipes, making the woods resound with Scotch music.

Summerside, Sept. 3rd, 1884.

Western Notes.

(From the Journal.)

Harvesting has commenced in earnest, and the prospects are that the yield of all kinds of grain will be fully up to, if not a little better than, the average.

The oyster season came in on Monday last. The first catch, we understand, was not quite so large as was expected, but the fish taken were very fine. Several large shipments have already been made, and we hope those interested in the business will find this a prosperous season.

The temperance picnic at Kensington, on Thursday last was very largely attended. The beautiful spot prepared by the temperance workers of our place was in every way suitable. Prominent temperance speakers from different parts of the Island occupied the platform during the afternoon, all of whom delivered able and talented speeches.

Mr. Arthur C. Rogers, one of our most popular young men, eldest son of David Roger's, Esq., was joined in the happy bonds of wedlock yesterday afternoon with Miss Ella A. Green, youngest daughter of John Green, Esq, and one of the most charming of Summerside's many fair ladies. The ceremony took place at the New London Episcapal Church, Rev. T. B Reagh, the pastor, officiating. Miss Mary Green, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Ewen McLeod as groomsman. The happy couple have the best wishes of a very large circle of friends and relatives on their new departure. We welcome Mr. Rogers into the grand army of benedicts and wish him and his fair bride a contented and prosperous journey through life.

A Medical Victim.

A Quebec despatch of the 30th inst. says: "It is generally reported, and there seems no reason to doubt the correctness of the report, that Dr Pourtier, jr., who died suddenly yesterday, poisoned himself with an overdose of morphine. He had been drinking very heavily of late.

A set of gifted Oriental jugglers are to treat the Londoners to the most astounding of the series of the "twenty-eight miracles produced before Ichanguire, Emperor of Hindostan, as attested by that monarch and witnessed by Ibu Batula, the Mohammedan Marco Polo." They will cut a citizen in pieces and make him whole again; the Oriental mystic is also prepared to put into a pot on the stage the seed of any plant selected by a committee of the beholders. During the time it will take to repeat ten times a prayer to the Prophet the seed will shoot into stem, branch, and bud, and will burst into leaf and fruit. They also announce "the great mystery." The company will take a chain fifty cubits long and will throw one end towards the sky, where it will remain as if fastened in the air. A dog will be led to the foot of the chain, when the animal will at once run up and disappear at the other end. A hog, a rat, a goat, and a young cow will be then sent up and disappear in the same way, after which the operator will draw down the chain and put it in a bag. It is to be hoped that these mystic Orientals will not return to their native retirement without giving us a taste of their quality and collecting a lot of dollars.

Grant Duff, ex-governor of Madras, has been appointed ambassador to Berlin, vice Lord Odo Russell.
