

Officers Elected As 3-Day C.W.L. Convention Ends

Rounding off the three-day Provincial Diocesan Convention of the Catholic Women's League yesterday morning the ladies elected the officers for 1957-58 with Mrs. Joseph A. MacDonald of Tignish as President.

Prior to the business sessions in the Community Centre, the delegate attended Mass in the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer and received Holy Communion as a corporate body, their Director, Rev. J.G. MacCormac, being celebrant.

OFFICERS
Officers of the Provincial Diocese C.W.L. for 1958-59 are: Honorary Director, Most Rev. M.A. MacEachern, D.D. Bishop of Charlottetown; Provincial Director, Rev. J.G. MacCormac, St. Andrews; President, Mrs. Joseph A. MacDonald, Tignish; Past President, Mrs. B.W. DesRoches, Miscouche; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Fred J. Steele, Charlottetown; 2nd Vice President, Miss I. Arsenault, Charlottetown; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. J.E. Rossiter, Morell; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Fred MacMillan, Charlottetown; Correspondence Secretary, Mrs. Basil MacDonald, Tracadie; Treasurer, Mrs. Allan J. MacDonald, Charlottetown.

Following the election of officers, Rev. Father MacCormac congratulated the members on the choice which had been made with due regard to the three Provincial Councils.

"It is my earnest wish that you conduct a survey in your respective sub-divisions with a view to consolidating the position you hold with a per-capita membership far exceeding that of Canada in general. Women dedicated to prayer and sacrifice can accomplish much "For God and Country," he said.

The retiring president, Mrs. B.W. DesRoches of Miscouche was presented with a Rosary by Mrs. Basil MacDonald of Tracadie on behalf of the League members in appreciation of her splendid leadership during the year.

The highlight of the session was a forceful and thought-provoking address by Dr. J. A. McMillan on "The Power of Catholic Women in their role as Leaders".

In developing his theme, he referred to the "power development" in all phases of present living, and to the fact that all fields of endeavour are open to women today in Christianized countries. He admonished his listeners to play their parts in other community organizations as well as in the Catholic Women's League.

"One of the most important roles for women is in the proper education of their children, before they attain the use of reason since that is not only the most impressionable age but the time when the mother is the sole teacher," Dr. McMillan said.

He stressed the fact that education in general must be given prestige in the home in order to encourage in the children a desire for higher education and thereby become more capable leaders.

Dr. McMillan gave concrete examples of the leadership and power which women have of inculcating within their own homes, high principles with regard to health, politics and economics.

He recommended that each sub-division subscribe for a pamphlet entitled "The Pope Speaks" which contains translations of addresses given by the Pope to hundreds of organizations he speaks to annually. This would be excellent "study group" material.

In conclusion Dr. McMillan referred to the necessity of sowing the seeds of tolerance in the home, "for on this depends the kind of nation we are going to make Canada."

Mrs. Joseph MacDonald of Tignish extended the thanks of the meeting to Dr. McMillan for his brilliant and practical address.

During the day Art drawing prizes were awarded: 1st, Mrs. Percy McCarville, Kensington; 2nd, Lorne Gallant, Miscouche, (electric kettle); 3rd, Mrs. A. McIvor, Kinkora, (bread spread); 4th, Mrs. Martin Foley, Alberton, (pair sheets); 5th, Donald MacEachern, Morell, ($5.00). All prizes were donated by the C.W.L.

Legislature In Nfld. To Resume Session Today

By IAN MACDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The Newfoundland legislature reopens today after a six-month recess. The only major business expected is the presentation of the estimates and budget by Finance Minister E. S. Spencer.

Premier Smallwood said Tuesday the session will not be lengthy. The House will remain open only as long as members wish to debate the budget and estimates.

The budget was delayed pending the outcome of the McNair royal commission, which last July examined the financial consequences to Newfoundland of confederation with Canada.

There are four Progressive Conservatives to fire questions at 32 Liberals in the 36-seat House.

BLIND TOTS are helped like Marcelle Dionne, who is in charge of the pre-school program organized by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The program which is in its second year is designed to help children like this boy to reach a normal stage of development by the time he reaches school age.

Teacher In Home Readies Blind Children For School

About half the blind children in the Maritime Provinces including six in Prince Edward Island, who are of school age will not be starting school this fall. The reason: they have not reached the necessary stage of development, a situation which motivates a pre-school training program, organized by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Maritime division. The program was one year old this May.

The training is all done by one person, a 29-year-old school teacher from Edmundston, N. B., Marcelle Dionne. Miss Dionne, who joined the institute last year to take over the program makes periodical visits to the 75 known pre-school blind children in the Maritimes. At the time the program was begun, the institute knew of only 27 children in this category, but since then parents, realizing that some assistance could be had, have contacted the institute, almost tripling this figure. Seventeen of the children are of school age this year; some eight or nine will be ready AT PARENTS

Miss Dionne's work is directed essentially at the parents, rather than the children themselves. Obstacles such as shame, fear and confusion must be overcome.

"Sometimes," says Miss Dionne "a mother doesn't want to believe that her child is blind, even though deep inside her heart she knows.

Other parents, who know and admit it, don't want to publicize it, thinking they can spare their child some suffering," she asserts.

It is Miss Dionne's job to help parents over such "humps" by means of advice and guidance and by special literature put out by CNIB.

ONE YEAR
Although one year is a little soon to notice any significant results in the program's effect on the children, Miss Dionne said that there has been noticeable progress in the co-operation and attitude of parents. On her first trip around the Maritimes, it was "Miss Dionne"; the second time it was "Marcelle" and now on her third time round she finds herself accepted almost as a member of the family.

The idea of a pre-school training program for the blind is relatively new. It was introduced in Canada in 1949, when CNIB's Ontario division put it into effect, and British Columbia was next. The Maritimes last year became the third division to take it up.

NOT READY
Comments R. J. Hill, assistant superintendent for the Maritime division: "We had realized for many years that blind children coming to school were not ready. They had not reached the normal stage of development". But it was not until 1956, when the three provincial governments were approached, that materialization of the program was in sight. Under the financial sponsorship of the three governments, the program was started May 1, 1957.

The program's basic philosophy is stated in a circular prepared by the Halifax office: Home is the best place for the child. And good parents are his greatest blessing.

W. I. Blood Donor Clinic At Canoe Cove Is Successful

Under the leadership of Mrs. John MacCannell, R.N., of Canoe Cove, Women's Institutes of a dozen near-by districts co-operated in soliciting donors, furnishing refreshments and workers for the successful Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic held in Canoe Cove Hall yesterday afternoon where there was an attendance of 90 donors.

While this was ten short of the objective set, it was deemed a splendid response from this area which at last year's clinic held in Afton Hall had only 77 donors.

Of interest in connection with this clinic was the fact that three of the donors present yesterday, were young people from Charlottetown who were out for a drive and, on seeing the Blood Donor Clinic sign displayed, went in to give their donations and so helped to supply the blood required at this clinic, one was a nurse on vacation from the Charlottetown Hospital, the other two were students from St. Dunstan's University.

Members in soliciting donors for this clinic and in providing helpers at the clinic.

The 90 donors registered at Canoe Cove, plus the 152 at Eldon last night, added to Monday's total of 217 makes the number to date just 459 on the objective of 525 for the first two days - 66 below the quota established for the period. This shortage could be overcome by having an all-time high attendance at the Clinics to be held today and tomorrow at Cardigan and Souris, and at Murray River and Montague.

try hard to train their children to be right-handed.

"If, however, the fathers are right-handed by nature, they are not so concerned with the problem and leave it to the mother to decide whether the child shall be right or left-handed," Dr. Falek said.

Most children could be trained for major use of either hand, yet some were by birth "so left-handed" that no parental effort could change them.

Steel Strike Is Still Deadlocked

HAMILTON (CP)—A strike of 7,500 Steel Company of Canada workers was still deadlocked Tuesday as the cost in lost wages and sales neared $4,000,000.

The walkout entered its third week with no word from either side on renewed negotiations which could lead to a settlement.

An estimated $2,500,000 in steel sales and $1,500,000 in wages have already been lost. Steelco spokesmen say they fear many customers will be forced to turn to United States mills for supplies.

That trend has apparently started. A Hamilton rope and wire cloth firm said it has placed orders for U.S. steel "to keep our customers satisfied." Other firms say they may soon have to follow suit, paying $13 to $20 a ton extra for the U.S. product.

MURDER PRICE

In Anglo-Saxon times every man's life had a fixed money value called the wergild, to be paid if he was murdered.

Crown Evidence In Preliminary Case Completed

The evidence for the prosecution was completed last night at the preliminary hearing of Roger Clarence MacLean of Orwell who is charged with the murder of his step-father, Walter Ross, also of Orwell. The hearing was further adjourned until Wednesday morning, September 3, at 9.30 a.m.

The only witnesses heard last evening were Corporal Stephen Wannamaker, N.C.A., RCMP in charge of the Montague Detachment; Mrs. Walter Ross, wife of the deceased and Kenneth Edwin MacLean, brother of the accused, Roger MacLean.

Corporal Wannamaker told of taking a statement from the accused in his own private car and of sending various samples taken from in and around the Ross residence and sending them to the laboratory for examination.

The evidence given by Mrs. Ross and Mr. MacLean was similar to that which they had previously given at the Ross inquest.
