Mr. MacDonald is visiting with his brother, R. Harry MacRae and family in Moncton, N.B. on his return to Port Albert.

St. Dunstan's High Has 149 Registered

Registration at St. Dunstan's High school is up from 141 last year, and classroom space is relatively crowded at present. Rev. F. J. Cameron, principal of SDHS, said yesterday.

Total students in grade 11 number 86, while the grade 12 registration stands at 63. This is an increase of 20 students over last year's total for the two grades, he said.

Space is only "fair" but it may level off when university classes begin. Father Cameron said.

High school classes started yesterday.

Draw Made For Big Race

Armond's Buddy, owned by Les Taylor and driven by Don MacNeill, has drawn the fall position for Thursday's Evening "Patrol Island" owned trotting race which will be staged at the Charlottetown Driving Park.

There are five other starters in this $1,000 feature, which is expected to attract hundreds of spectators to the popular racing centre.

Sailor is Injured In Highway Crash

A car-truck collision on the Peters Highway near the Traffic Circle at about 9:30 last night, resulted in Lorne MacCulloch, a member of the Royal Canadian Navy, being taken to hospital with undetermined injuries.

Reports indicate that quick driving was the cause of the crash, Leslie Burton Kelly, 50, who was driving the big 10-ton tractor-trailer coming toward Charlottetown, in all probability prevented a sure fatal accident.

Coming into a long curve on the Peters Highway, the Kelly Hillman car travelling east, headed toward the truck.

Knowing that the small car was headed on a direct head-on collision course, Mr. Kelly slowed his huge vehicle and attempted to swerve to the left and avoid a collision.

He was unable to pull his truck over in time and the Hillman struck the truck on the right front corner. Careening off the bigger vehicle the car finally rolled over the crest of the north ditch about 100 feet east of the point of impact.

The Hillman, who is reported to be a crewman of HMCS Buckingham now in St. John's, N.B., was reported to have been in the north ditch about 100 feet east of the point of impact.

Columnist Likes Ch'town

Charlottetown's charm has won the admiration of another visitor.

He is newspaper columnist Frank Tumpance of the Toronto Telegram who visited the province in early August with the Trans-Canada motorcade that marked the opening of the new highway bridge and the Trans-Canada Highway on the Island.

Mr. Tumpance, in a recent column, described the Island as having "restrained charm, orderliness and style" and also picked Charlottetown as the most charming city he visited on the trip.

He said Vancouver was the most beautiful, Montreal had the most character and Regina was the most improved over natural surroundings.

Fifth Queens Poll Chairmen's Organization Praised By MP

Stressing the value of the continuous organization carried on by the district poll chairmen, Heath Macquarrie, MP for Queens and parliamentary secretary to the minister of external affairs, said "although the political tide has ebbed a bit since the last election, the Conservative party has been a victorious group in the last three Dominion elections."

"The men in opposition party may have picked up seats in the heavily populated areas but I have gained only a mere three seats for those subjects, may see a slight increase or higher figure than in 1961. He said that there are always a number who are late in registering."

On Monday and Tuesday of next week, the registration of students for the third and fourth year academic and the teacher training course is scheduled to take place. The registrar fully anticipates that the enrolment in these classes will be equally as heavy as previous years.

Don W. Macdonald of Port Albert-Vancouver Island has been visiting in the province for the past month after a absence of 27 years.

During his stay in Charlottetown he visited his sister-in-law, Mrs. Alex A. Macdonald, and expected.

Liberals Have Three Possible Candidates For First Queens

BY NEIL A. MATHESON
Provincial and Farm Editor

Liberals in the first district of Queens are speculating tonight on the choice of candidates that may be made at Broadbent's meeting, which is a meeting convention will select candidates to represent the district in the next provincial election.

The names of Stephen MacLeod, Bonshaw, and Crawford Summerfield, and Ken Mayne, were those that were mentioned as definite possibilities, and Mr. Mayne's candidacy, it was said, would probably depend on whether Mr. Sinclair, who gave a Premier Walter Shaw a stiff battle in 1959, would offer again. Mr. MacLeod also was a candidate in 1959.

The Guardian-Patriot has learned that the names of the three candidates were linked with the district as possibilities will not be official until the next provincial election.

Frederic A. Large, Q.C., of Charlottetown said that these delegations from the district had asked him to offer for nomination, but that he had regrettably turned down the invitation because of pressure of his law office business here.

Mr. Large was named attorney-in-general while he was an officer in the Royal Canadian Navy back in 1944, by then premier, J. Walter Jones. He was later minister of education. He served two terms in the legislature, from 1947 to 1951, and from 1953 to 1959.

The other man who has been suggested as a possibility this time is Edwin Johnstone, former mayor of Charlottetown, who lives now in New Haven. Mr. Johnstone, who once expressed interest in the district, said Tuesday he is not now interested, as he and Mrs. Johnstone plan to leave September 30 for England, and he said they may stay in Europe through the winter, if they like it well enough.

The tentative plan is to return to this country next April. Mr. Johnstone said Tuesday.

Site Being Cleared For Legion Home

The work of demolishing the three large wooden buildings on the west side of Fowling Street, between Gratton and Richmond, to make way for the new Royal Canadian Legion Home here, is well underway.

Under the supervision of president Edward Brown, all plumbing, heating and electrical fixtures have been removed, along with all wooden fittings, such as doors, windows and cupboards.

A list had been made by last night on tearing down the main structures and Mr. Brown expected to be in full swing early this forenoon. He estimated that the new site will be completely cleared by Sept. 14.

Making reference to the call for tenders for the construction of the new home, Mr. Brown stated that so far five bids have been received, and he will publish the date for the opening of tenders and the names of the bidders. He was confident that this number say will be at least doubled before that date rolled around.

PWC Enrolls 379 To Date

Gordon Bennet, registrar at Prince of Wales College, is a bit surprised to find that 379 students have registered for first and second years academic and first and second year commerce at the college.

This compares to the 391 who were enrolled by the same time last year. Mr. Bennet pointed out that the number of students who will be en-
