Ice Costs Reach Quarter-Million
MONTREAL (CP) — The ice crisis in the Lachine Canal has cost about $250,000 so far to ship-owners and the federal government, marine sources estimated Thursday. Their estimate, however, is only a rough idea of the cost of keeping the canal operating past its normal closing deadline. Department of transport officials estimate that about $15,000 more than the normal expenditure for this time of year has been spent on maintaining the nine-mile canal, which was to have closed last Saturday. The canal is being kept open to try to free about 20 freighters still seeking to move through it to Montreal Harbor.

ARE YOU ONE of Canada's best-stressed people — or has the onslaught of automation and a hectic pace of living disturbed your equilibrium? Dr. Hans Selye, renowned expert on medicine of the mind, can help you find the golden mean in an article in tomorrow's Weekend Magazine section of The Evening Patriot when he collaborates with author Nancy Gross to inject you painlessly with a new outlook on life and stress.

MRS. PAT BOONE wants her husband back. No, the wholesome Sir Galahad of the teen team has not been lured by another woman. Success is the Delilah in this affair. Wouldn't most wives be overjoyed if their husbands' salary climbed from a mere pittance to a million dollars a year? Why doesn't pretty Shirley Boone consider this a boon? A feature in Weekend Magazine will give you the answer.
