C. W. A.—Meeting at club room at 8 o'clock sharp to-night.

THE CURFEW BELL.—The Pioneer says that some persons in Summerside are agitating for a curfew bell law for that town.

FIRST OF THE SEASON. — Sleighing is being indulged in to-day after the snow fall of Saturday night and Sunday morning.

THE STANLEY.—It is announced that the Stanley will begin work on the Charlottetown-Pictou route on or about the 1st December.

FIRE BRIGADE.—Montague is to have a fire brigade for service in the village. This was decided upon at a public meeting held in the village a few nights ago.

A SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR.—The bazaar, tea and fancy sale held in Market Hall, Summerside, on Tuesday and Wednesday last, by the ladies of St. Mary's Academy, was well attended and was a most pleasant and attractive affair. The handsome sum of $205 net was realized, the tea table alone clearing about $35.

THE CAMPANA AGROUND.—The Campana arrived at Summerside on Saturday morning at three with a general cargo. She grounded on approaching the wharf and did not moor till 9 o'clock. The steamer left for Pictou about 11, and will make a return trip to day—the last of the season. Cor. Guardian.

INTERESTING TO LADIES.—In to-day's paper will be found an announcement which many ladies in Charlottetown will read with pleasure. Miss Shaw and Miss Samuel of the Decorative Art Society of Montreal have opened Embroidery Classes at the Queen Hotel, where a few lessons will be given to all who desire them. Particulars in advt.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.—The W. M. S. of Zion Church will hold a Thanksgiving Service on Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, in the lecture room. Mrs. (Dr.) Dodge, of Halifax, President of the Presbyterian W. M. S. of the Maritime Provinces, will address the meeting. Everybody welcome. Come and bring an offering.

SCOTT ACT.—James Cummings, recently convicted of two third infractions of the Scott Act, was on Saturday evening committed to jail for four months.

Three Scott Act summonses were served on Saturday night, all returnable on Monday next. The recipients were Henry Josey, Michael Sweeney and Peter Kelly. Josey's summons charges a first offence, Sweeney's a second and Kelly's a third.

THE F. C. BATT.—The Summerside Agriculturist says: The steamer Frank C. Batt will probably be laid up for a week or so, until a new shaft can be procured for her. Two or three days ago, just as she was leaving Bedeque wharf for Summerside, her shaft broke where it projects from the hull, and the propeller was lost. It will take some days to repair the damage. It is thought that the propellor can be recovered without any serious difficulty.

IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH yesterday evening the rector preached on the Church of Armenia and the Armenian Question. The text chosen was the first six verses of the ninety-fourth psalm. After speaking of the martyrs of that ancient church he showed that like all the apostolic churches it was episcopal and liturgical. The responsibilities of the Christian Church were then dwelt upon and the different theories of the diplomats as to England's duty clearly set forth. From the beginning of the persecutions nearly a year and a half ago the Church of England in Canada at the request of the Archbishop of Ontario had been offering prayer in behalf of the Armenians and large collections had been taken in most of the Episcopal Churches in Canada.

THE OLD ST. LAWRENCE.—The steamer St. Lawrence, which has been sold to parties in St. John, left here to-day in charge of Captain Angrove. It is understood that the steamer is to be broken up and her machinery will be used in a new steamer to be built for the river service. The Sun points out that the St. Lawrence is not unknown in St. John by those citizens who can remember the fitting out of blockade runners at that port during the American war. In the closing years of the war the steamer Gen. Whiting arrived in St. John to be fitted out as a blockade runner, but the cessation of hostilities rendered the speculation an unnecessary one. The steamer laid for some two or three years at the South Rodney wharf, and was ultimately purchased by the P. E. Island Steam Navigation Company and her name changed to the St. Lawrence.

THE LOST TEN TRIBES OF ISRAEL is becoming a household word among those who have been attending the lecture on that subject by Mr. John Ross. He will, on Wednesday evening of this week, deliver his lecture in Little York Hall, and prove from the history of our nation that the promises and prophesies of the Bible are being fulfilled in the experience of the British people. At the close of the lecture an opportunity will be given for remarks bearing on the question. Mr. Ross intends delivering another lecture on the 'Wandering of the Israelites from the Assyrian captivity until they arrived in the British Islands as Anglo-Saxons," due notice of which will be given. Parties in the various parts of the Island, wishing to communicate with him regarding terms, etc., for a lecture, will address P. O. box 457, Charlottetown.

This Floral Cantata which is to be performed on Thanksgiving evening has been got up by some of the enterprising ladies of St. Paul's congregation, assisted by several kind friends, and from all that we can gather promises to be as pretty and artistic a thing of its kind as has ever been produced in this city. ### A WORD OF WARNING.

(From L'Impartial.)

From every side comes the cry that the times are hard and misery at the door. We respectfully ask our readers permission to enter to-day into their intimate confidence while we examine together some at least of the causes which have contributed towards this sad state of affairs.

Every Acadien who wishes to give himself the trouble to cast a glance over the registers of the county must be convinced that the mortgages, judgments, etc, which stand connected with the names of so many of our people contribute very largely to the very unsatisfactory condition of which they complain, and, although it is sad to have to admit it the fact is none the less uncontrovertable that if this deplorable state of things continues we will find ourselves face to face before very long with the complete depopulation of our great French centres.

Long since we have witnessed this misfortune in the village of Cascumpec, once a flourishing Acadian settlement but today entirely passed out of their hands. And we might cite other striking examples in the large French parishes where our Acadians after having cleared the land behold themselves obliged to relinquish the fruits of their labors to strangers and commence again a life of misery and privation on new lands, or expatriate themselves and pass the rest of their days as slaves in the factories of the United States.

What then is the reason of all this? It is due in great part to the imprudence of our people with few exceptions. Acadians are not so well versed in commercial life as their neighbors of other nationalities. They allowed themselves to get into debt and drag on from bad to worse without attempting to find out their real position until credit is stopped and they are out of doors.

Assuredly the aspirations of our people ought to be above this. We have as much intelligence as the others; we are as brave as the English who surround us, we have every quality calculated to enable us to go to the front with our neighbors. One defect there is improvidence as we have said, and want of economy. It is our bounden duty, this admitted, to call a halt in our imprudence and take firm resolutions for the future.

In the commercial world the man who knows his business never misses to inform himself daily on the transactions of his house and keep himself well within his revenue. This makes success. It ought to be the same with the farmer. To keep himself within his means or the possibility of solvency, he must avoid contracting debt for superfluous articles. This is the one important canon to be kept constantly in view.

Another point we ought to consider seriously is the mistake so many of our people commit in trying to live by fishing and farming conjointly. Experience shows us that this class of men are in times like this the greatest sufferers. The fishing is a branch of industry of great value, but it ought to be left to fishermen who understand it, and who alone are capable of making it pay.

Industry on our farms and economy and management—in this is our safety; in this must we trust to keep what we now possess! Do we realize our position? To be fully impressed let us follow in the footsteps of our fathers; let us have recourse to those who have the well being of our population at heart. We have now in our midst our own Acadian priests—the Reverend Fathers Boudrealt, Chaisson, Gallant and Arsenault,—who in an especial manner are interested in us. Those priests have been given to us to guide us by their wise counsels, as well temporal as spiritual. With what sentiments of fear and anxiety do they not see so many of our people lose their farms and go down on the broad road to ruin. Let us then open our eyes to the evident, listen to their wise advice and consult them when difficulty overtakes us.

Moreover, would it not be well to have some sort of organization amongst us whereby those who are in danger of losing their lands might be put in the way of saving themselves by reasonable monetary loans?

We talk about the necessity of conventions; but there is certainly no convention which calls for more immediate attention than that which will have for its object the remedying of the sad state of affairs of which we have been speaking—an evil which menaces our very existence. Let us banish the partisan politics which occupies the attention of too many; let us put an end to our divisions and work with one common accord for the conservation of our homes and firesides, if we would not have the mortification before many decades of seeing our magnificent temples empty and another deportation of our people more cruel than that of 1755. Should this happen, Acadians alone would be their own deporters.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS:

President—The Hon. C. C. McKindsey, Toronto.
Vice-President—W. F. Stuart, M. D., Toronto.
Secretary—F. A. Hall, Esq., Toronto.

The largest Development and Brokerage Company before the public. An investment with the elements essential to dividend-earning corporation.

A DIRECTORATE composed of Canadians of high standing; a MANAGEMENT of practical business men and expert miners. OFFICES in Toronto Victoria, B. C; Spokane, Wash. AGENCIES in London, Eng; Montreal, Rossland, B. C., etc. Of the total capitalization, four-fifths in the Treasury for the purposes of the Company. Actively DEVELOPING four valuable mining claims—the VICTORIA, the ALBERTA, the DAISY, the TORONTO—claims that have been most favourably reported on by our own and other eminent mining experts, and which when developed will, we are satified prove of immense value. Advices received a few days ago are that our expert miner reports that the least valuable of the four is worth more than double what we pay for.

A telegram from the west some days ago stated that no more shares should be disposed of for less than 25 cents, but since it was announced beforehand that the price would be raised from 10c to 15c the Company will keep faith with the public. Therefore for a very short time the price of shares will be 15c, fully paid-up and non-assessable. The Toronto Globe in its issue of the 12th inst., says that those who can buy for 15 cents this week will consider themselves in luck, so rapidly is its stock being bought up. A telegram received here last Monday from the Head Office, Toronto, states that over 100,000 Gold Field Shares were sold on Saturday last and also that the Company had secured THREE MORE VALUABLE PROPERTIES, making in all Seven Fine Properties owned by the Company.

THE BROKERAGE DEPARTMENT

has been equally successful. It paid its running expenses the first week. From this department alone a good profit is being earned. That the Company has won the confidence of the investing public, and of the Rossland mining men in particular, is evidenced from the fact that Mr. D. M. Lunard, one of Rossland's most prominent mining men, placed in its hands for sale the entire stocks of the four well-known mines—the Home-take, the R. E. Lee and Maid of Erin and the Red Mountain View. It also does a large business in general stocks selling as high as 130,000 shares in two days. Please note that this company has only to earn a dividend on the ACTUAL amount of stock subscribed. This is of the greatest importance.

Due notices will shortly be given of a meeting of shareholders for the election of a permanent Directorate, when the names of the following shareholders will be submitted for election:—

Lieut. Col. the Hon. E. G. Prior, C. E. M. P., A. D. C., Victoria, B. C.
