The Garden of the Gulf.

A FEW INTERESTING POINTS ABOUT PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

(Toronto World.)

It was early in the present century that William Cobbett, then a private soldier stationed at St. John, N. B., wrote to an English newspaper that Prince Edward Island was "a rascally heap of sand, rock and swamp, in the horrible Gulf of St. Lawrence." But Cobbett could never have visited the Island when he thus spoke of what is now known as the "Garden of the Gulf."

There is but little rock throughout the entire island. As to swamp there is some, but the swamp lands are loaded with cranberries, from the sale of which the owners derive considerable profit. Of sand there is plenty, and what better bathing spot is to be desired than a fine sandy beach. There is plenty of fine farming land, and the island is rightly looked upon as one of the fairest and most fertile areas in the Dominion. As Thomson says in "The Seasons":

"Thoughtless of beauty, she was beauty's self,
Recluse among the woods."

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND has its history. "Epagyquit" was what the original Micmac Indians termed it, which being interpreted means "anchored in the waves." Champlain called it "L'Isle St. Jean," and as "Epagyquit" and "L'Isle St. Jean" it remained for nearly a couple of centuries. In 1801, however, it was termed Prince Edward Island after Edward, Duke of Kent, the father of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. The island was first surveyed by the English Government in the year 1764, and the surveyors gave such a splendid account of it to the Home Government that it was decided to colonize the island without delay. The Earl of Egmont, at that period of time a power in England, endeavored to secure it, but failed to do so. The island was laid off into blocks and apportioned amongst many who had alleged claims against His Majesty the King. The granting of the land in this manner was the cause of much trouble, which all eventually disappeared when Confederation took place. The entire length of the island is about 130 miles, and in width from two to thirty miles. At present the only connections between the mainland and from Charlottetown to Pictou, N. S., and from Summerside to Point du Chene, N. B., but more extensive connections may be looked for in the near future. The Hon. Mr. Carvell, Lieutenant-Governor, resides at Charlottetown, but as he is confirmed invalid he is seldom seen in public.

PRODUCE OF THE ISLAND For fine horseflesh you can't beat Prince Edward Island. The farmers raise the best of horses, and the island is always flooded with American buyers, who pay good prices for the animals. The early settlers speak with pardonable pride about potatoes a foot long that they used to raise, and even now "murrhies" eight inches in length are of common occurrence. It is to be deeply regretted that during the past two years the potato bug has committed great ravages. This is a most serious matter for the Islanders. Oats of a good heavy quality are raised in abundance, and eggs are shipped to Boston by the hundreds of cases. Thousands of sheep and lambs are annually sent to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and the New England States. Quantities of fruit, such as raspberries, cranberries and blueberries are sent daily to Boston. Vast quantities of mushrooms are also to be found throughout the island. The town of Summerside is situated on Bedeque Bay, and a few miles to the back of the town is Malpeque Bay, celebrated for its far-famed oysters. The tourist can view from Summerside Hill the most beautiful scenery that it is possible to imagine.

"The trees shook hands high overhead,
And bowed and intertwined across
The narrow way."

So wrote Joaquin Miller, but whether the poet had reference to California or Prince Edward Island deponent sayeth not. The lines are applicable to both.

THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE is undoubtedly at the western end of the island. All around O'Leary, Alberton, Tignish, Big and Little Mimingish the finest fishing and shooting can be found. Sea trout weighing from one to four pounds abound in the small streams that empty into the gulf. Mackerel, ling and cod can be caught in abundance. Partridge, plover, geese, brant and duck fall to the lot of the keen sportsman. One of the finest fishing grounds for salt water trout is at Beaton's Mills, about four miles from O'Leary. It was to this famous spot that the late Judge Pope used to travel all the way from Charlottetown in order to cast his fly in his favorite stream. It would be almost impossible to close this short sketch of Prince Edward Island without a passing reference to some of its leading men, who have all their lives labored for the welfare of the Isle that either gave them birth or became the home of their adoption.

THE LATE HON. J. C. POPE, who was Minister of Marine and Fisheries in Sir John A. Macdonald's Government of 1878, was a native of Prince Edward Island, and was for many years its premier. His memory is still green in the heart of every true Islander. If you ask many questions in regard to public improvements the reply you get is, "Pope got us that." Sir John A. Macdonald is a native of the western portion of the island. His time at present is all taken up with his big tunnel scheme from Cape Traverse to Cape Tormentine, a distance of only nine miles, which the gallant Senator proposes to construct at a cost of nine millions of dollars. Mr. Yeo and Mr. Perry, of Tignish, represent Prince County in the Dominion Parliament. Both are shrewd business men, who have at all times the interests of their constituents at heart. While at Big Mimingish I was the guest for a short time of Mr. Mathieson, the member for the county in the Provincial Legislature. Mr. Mathieson is a large fish packer, and has extensive packing houses. He is also a merchant and has stores in different parts of the country. He is a clever business man, and is intensely popular. Mrs. Mathieson is an exceedingly clever English woman, well posted in political matters and the leading questions of the day. About half way between Alberton and O'Leary you come to "Herewood," the residence of a retired officer of the British army, and author of no mean repute. Col. Hunter Duval is a man whom it is a real pleasure to meet. He has an estate of over 700 acres, which it was his intention when years ago he settled there to convert it into a huge park, but he has since changed his mind, and a large portion of it is now under cultivation. Col. Duval is the author of "Roberval" and several other standard works. He is a fine old English gentleman, devoted to his books and his estate. His son Ernest has large millinery interests on his island, and is one of its leading men.

But time presses. I must bid farewell to Prince Edward Island for this year at least. I can safely say with Dana in his "Buccaneer":

"But when the light winds lie at rest,
And on the glass, heaving sea
The black duck with her glossy breast
Sits swinging silently—
How beautiful no ripple break the reach,
And silvery waves go noiseless up the beach."

O'Leary Station, P. E. I., Aug. 1892.

General Telegraphic News.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25.—In the Battleford district much excitement has been created by the discovery of what is said to be crude petroleum. Prospecting parties have been out for some time, and the liquid discovered has been sent east to be analyzed.

HALIFAX, Aug. 25.—A despatch from Bermuda, a shock of earthquake occurred there about 5 o'clock this morning. The houses were shaken and the shock caused such a swell in the harbor that the boats were rocked to and fro. No damage is so far reported. The duration of the earthquake was about 30 seconds. People rushed from their houses terror stricken, hardly realizing for a time what was the cause of the mysterious and awe-inspiring commotion.

MASKINGOGE, Aug. 25.—The French-Canadian who were received into the Baptist church lately, separated from the church of Rome through a dispute with the bishop of Three Rivers over a site for a parish church.

NEW YORK, August 25.—A defalcation which it is said will reach $20,000 was discovered in the office of Street & Smith, publishers of the New York Weekly. It is said Alfred J. Price, the firm's book-keeper and cashier, has confessed to taking $7,000. He is supposed to be responsible for the entire shortage. Price was arrested to-day and committed in default of $5,000 bail.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Frank H. F. Nixon, of Canada, residing here, sues for divorce from his wife, Elizabeth Wagstaff, of Toronto, charging her with desertion. The woman lives in Toronto and refuses to join her husband. Nixon gives the cause of his wife's refusal to join him as inborn national hatred of English origin. She had been raised in an atmosphere filled with antipathy towards the United States and all things American, and would under no circumstances consent to take up her abode beneath the stars and stripes. This statement is corroborated by the witness, and the court took the matter under advisement.

ST. JOHN, August 25.—A picnic train returning to this city this evening on the Shore Line road, when near the lunatic asylum, ran over a man walking on the track, cutting him absolutely in two. The man proved to be an inmate of the lunatic asylum, named Henderson. How he came to be on the track is a mystery.

FALL RIVER, Mass., August 25.—At the Border murder hearing to-day, Medical Examiner Dulan testified there were 18 wounds on Mrs. Borden's person. Fourteen of them were in a small space at the back of the head and over the ear. All of the wounds were made with a sharp instrument. The witness saw four axes in the collar of the house. He examined one with a claw on it and found it had been scraped and was washed under a glass it showed stains that looked like blood. He saw some hair on it also.

CYRUS N. GOODWIN, one of the best known and most respected farmers in Westmorland county, N. B., died a few days ago at the age of 63. Mr. Goodwin was a prominent member of the Methodist Church and for several years was a delegate to the conference. One of his daughters was married to the Rev. Mr. Stebbings, of this province.

A VEGETARIAN.—Some people believe in a purely vegetable diet. However that may be, Everybody's Pills are guaranteed purely vegetable. It is now admitted by everyone that "the best family medicine" is Everybody's Pills. They only cost 25 cents a box.

THE CHINESE Government has sent an official to fight the United States Government before the Supreme Court in regard to the Exclusion law.

GRATIFYING TO ALL.—The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrates the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and is abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

A Mrs. Greenbaum, of Marion township, Mich., went berry-picking, leaving her child asleep. When she returned she found only a mangled foot, the child having been devoured by a wild animal, supposed to be a panther which was seen in the neighborhood.

THE Wilmot Spa Waters have been wonderfully successful in restoring health. Many visitors to the Springs come in weak and pain but a month drinking and bathing quite restores health.
