DITHANE...

the answer to potato blight control problems of P.E.I. growers

Don't gamble in choosing your Fungicide for effective blight control. Be safe by choosing a fungicide that has proved its ability to do all that is claimed for it.

After three years of successful control of early and late blight P. E. I. growers rate DITHANE sprays or dusts their number one potato fungicide.

DITHANE ORGANIC FUNGICIDE DOES DO EVERYTHING WE SAY IT WILL!

DITHANE stops blight from getting into your fields—and stops it in its tracks if it has already attacked your crops. DITHANE results in bigger yields and more Number One's. DITHANE is harmless to vines and foliage—won't burn or stunt them. DITHANE won't clog or corrode your spraying or dusting equipment.

In the blight year of 1950, DITHANE proved its worth on Prince Edward Island. Potato growers still remember how DITHANE protected their crops—and actually gave them higher yields of better potatoes—wherever it was used.

DITHANE today is still the same dependable, potent blight killer—still economical and easy to use. For the sake of your crops and your profits, choose this time-tested organic fungicide to safeguard your fields. See your supplier now for your DITHANE dust or spray material.
