A number of prisoners who were recently arrested and remanded for committing most brutal assaults, appeared to-day at the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court, and owing to the unwillingness or disability of those whom they assaulted, to prosecute them, they were discharged, and their discharge is looked upon as a complete failure of justice. Francis McAtee appeared on charge of assaulting Peter McCarey, on Black Sam's Bridge, on Sunday morning, the 18th inst. McCarey was badly hurt but this morning he withdrew the matter and agreed to settle it mutually with his assailant. John McCabe who assaulted James Dooling, appeared at the bar. Dooling would not appear for the prosecution and McCabe went unpunished. Francis Coyle was charged with brutally assaulting a sailor named Nicholas, on King Street, a short time ago. A few days after the assault, Nicholas left the city, and Coyle—if guilty—goes unpunished also. James Hennessey, junr., was arrested for disorderly conduct on the Street. He was admonished and discharged.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

AFGHANISTAN.
LONDON, May 23.
The Times states that according to the Treaty with Yakoub Khan, Great Britain will treat the Khuran Sabi and Pesham Valley as assigned, not annexed, territory, and will hand the surplus revenue over to Yakoub Khan, who will also be guaranteed a subsidy of £120,000 yearly.

SIMLA, May 25.
Negotiations between Major Cavagnari and the Ameer of Afghanistan are proceeding satisfactorily on the main base of the treaty being settled.

LONDON, May 24.
The "Times" article says that great care is taken not to imperil Yakoub Khan's position by demands which might excite the jealousy of his subjects. Great Britain demands no war indemnity. Khyber and Mechni Pass, which she annexes, run through the territory of independent tribes. In the assigned districts England will have a right to locate troops wherever she considers it necessary and to construct military highways. The Ameer will act in subordination to the British relative to foreign relations and affairs with intermediate frontier tribes.

A British resident at Cabul will forthwith be appointed. The treaty will give Great Britain the right to appoint residents at Herat, Candahar, and other cities, but this right is not at present availed of.

TURKEY AND GREECE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 24.
The Porte has informed its representatives abroad that Greek Brigands recently ambushed 46 Turkish soldiers in a forest, in the district of Tirakala, and killed 14. The soldiers cut their bodies in pieces and hung pieces on trees.

It is reported that Greece is preparing to mobilize 30,000 men and that she has sent officers to the United States to purchase two iron clads.

The Turkish force concentrated in Northern Macedonia comprises 38 battalions. Macedonia is so far pacified that the bulk of these troops are available for Eastern Roumelia in case they are needed.

It is stated that the Powers are on the point of agreement on the Greek question, which would involve almost immediate adjustment of Turkish finances.
