Single Defence Staff Chief Seen As Establishing 'Chief'

OTTAWA (CP)—A single chief of defence staff would be a boon to the armed forces, R. S. Malone, publisher of the Winnipeg Free Press and a wartime Brigadier, testified before the Commons defence committee.

Integration of defence headquarters command structure was tremendously forward-looking but it might be jeopardized by the 'supreme' or commander-in-chief principle. May 25 that it never happened. Vance made public a letter he wrote to chairman Carl Vinson (Dem. Ga.) of the House of Representatives a r e d service committee answering questions raised by Representative Paul C. Rogers (Dem. Fla.). Rogers told the house on May 27 that it published reports written that a plane flew from Florida to Cuba and back without being detected by the U.S. radar; then there appeared to be an 'inexorable gap in the U.S. air defence system.'

Phantom Flight Declared Hoax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A reported phantom flight from Florida to Cuba was described by the Pentagon as a 'complete and utter hoax.' Defense Secretary Curtis LeMay reported to the U.S. Congress after an investigation of public accounts of the reported anti-Castro raid of May 25 that it never happened.
