Value Of Sport Stressed By World-Famous Coach

"A liberal expenditure of money in extending sport activities, with emphasis on physical health and robust bodies, is a much more desirable outlet than the necessary charges in repairing the damage of juvenile delinquency," Franz Stampf, Chief Coach of the Canadian Olympic Games Training plan taking place in Toronto, August 20th-30th, said as guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

"If Canadians believe in the idea of the young people meeting the youth of other parts of the world in sport, on equal terms, the rigorous training necessary under trained coaches must be provided as in the case of Australia, the Soviet Union and the United States," Mr. Stampf said.

Having coached such notable four-minute mile breakers as Dr. Roger Bannister, Chris Chatway, Merv Lincoln and Brian Hewson, the prediction that a 3:50 mile record within three years would develop, was made by Mr. Stampf.

"The tremendous upswing in sports in Australia" was stressed and indicated as an objective for Canada. The Aussies are recognized world leaders in tennis, swimming and in certain aspects of track and field, notably the mile.

Introduced by chairman George Walters, Mr. Stampf was thanked by co-chairman Frank Jelks, who also made reference to the splendid work being done by Coach Jack Ready of Charlottetown, who was a head table guest at the meeting.

Birthday greetings were extended to Dick Hughes and Ernie Reid, both of whom celebrated an anniversary yesterday.

President Russ Selder reported his attendance at the initial meeting of the Youth Assembly in Saint John, N. B., stressing the great enthusiasm of the 86 visitors from all parts of the world, many of whom said they were looking forward with deep interest to their visit to the "Birth place of Canada" over the coming week-end.

Evidence Heard, Inquest In Ross Death Is Adjourned

After hearing evidence from 12 witnesses, Coroner Dr. L. E. Prowse last evening further adjourned the inquest examining the circumstances leading to the death of Walter Ross of Orwell.

The next session of the inquiry will be at City Hall in two weeks at which time the evidence of additional material witnesses will be heard.

Crown Prosecutor John P. Nicholson assisted Dr. Prowse in the examination of the witnesses. Also present were Mr. J.O.C. Campbell, Q.C., and members of the Montague detachment of the R.C.M.P.

Witnesses who included Dr. Stuart, MacDonald, Eldon, who had been called to deceased's home the afternoon of Sunday July 27, found the 52-year-old carpenter dead, and called in the RCMP. Dr. John Craig, provincial pathologist, who performed the post mortem examination; Edson Fraser, Vernon storekeeper, who sold the deceased a large order of groceries the evening prior to his death; Percy Buchanan, Point Prim fisherman, in the Fraser store at the time Ross was present; Charles MacEachern, Newton Cross truck driver who had driven Ross home from the Fraser store that same evening, had spent some time in his company, and had subsequently driven him to Newton Cross; Mrs. Frank Vessey, at whose home Ross paid a short visit following his arrival in Newton Cross; Mr. John MacDougall, Newton Cross farmer, and his wife, at whose home Ross had spent approximately two hours that Saturday evening; Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLeod, neighbors visiting the MacDougalls at the time Ross was there; Ivan R. Wood, Orwell farmer, who was summoned to the Ross home by Mrs. Ross at approximately 5:30 a.m. on the day of Ross' death; and Ross' next door neighbor, carpenter Ernest MacDonald, who had visited the Ross home at approximately 9:30 Sunday morning.

Another witness, Newman Gill, took the stand but the hearing of his evidence was stood over to the next session of the inquest after a strong warning from Coroner Dr. Prowse not to appear in his Court again in a condition unfit to give evidence.

MEDICAL EVIDENCE

Dr. Craig stated that in his opinion Walter Ross had died as a result of a brain hemorrhage brought on by a fracture to the base of the skull.
